SECURES ADMISSION, WILL SILENCE CASE

Mayor Will Not Push The Charge Against Peterson And Allison of Having Liquor.

Having secured an admission that they had liquor in their possession, Mayor Gilson, who made the arrest, will not push the charge against Clay Allison and L. E. Peterson, now working out their previous fine on charges of disorderly conduct and operating a car while intoxicated, the mayor stated today.

Peterson threw the bottle of moonshine out of the car after Gilson had made the arrest, says the mayor. He at first denied having done so, but later admitted it, following which Mr. Gilson told him he would endeavor to have the charge dropped in the recorder's court.

LIQUOR ORDINANCE NOT VOID, CLAIM

Charter Provides For Bill Passed By Council Becoming Law After 40 Days, Says The City Attorney.

Bend's liquor ordinance is just as valid as any part of the city law, according to City Attorney C. S. Benson. The ordinance in question was held to be invalid by Attorney W. P. Myers for the reason that it was not signed by Mayor Caldwell after its passage in 1918.

The charter provides, says the city attorney, that if the mayor fails to sign an ordinance passed by the council within 40 days, it becomes a law. The question was raised during the trial of Mrs. A. Meyers, charged with having liquor in her possession. Mr. Myers was given 10 days in which to file a brief, and the city attorney five days to answer. The first brief has not yet been turned in.

The ordinance was signed by Clyde M. McKay as "acting mayor." While admitting that his signature is not in order, Mr. Benson declares that it does not make the ordinance void.

Satisfaction at the completion of negotiations for the transfer was expressed by Stanley. He added that the company will now be free to go ahead with its next work—the reclamation of the North Canal project.

MERRITT SENT TO ALASKAN FOREST

Former Deschutes Supervisor Transferred From Portland District Office To Northern Post.

Melvin L. Merritt, formerly supervisor of the Deschutes National forest, and for the past six years in charge of all improvement work on the national forests of Oregon and Washington, has been transferred from the Portland district office to the Alaska forest district, and is now on his way to his new headquarters.

He will be assistant district forester. Merritt is the second Deschutes forest man to be sent to Alaska, Harold Young, formerly a ranger in this division, having been stationed in Alaska some two years ago.

TRACTOR BREAKS THROUGH BRIDGE

Unable to bear the weight of the forest service's 10-ton armored tractor, the bridge across the Deschutes just below Lava lake gave away Saturday morning when the caterpillar started to cross, Ranger Burton Oney reported to headquarters here shortly after noon. The river didn't hinder the caterpillar, which crawled out on the opposite bank, Oney stated.

A temporary bridge was constructed to allow cars containing the Boy Scouts to return from the Elk lake encampment, and other autos found it possible to cross on Monday, when the bridge was replaced.

MAJORITY COME FROM WEST OF ROCKIES

Bend Used As Base For Many Side Trips To Lakes of Central Oregon—Opening of Pass Draws From Willamette Valley.

Cars, filled with tourists, are more frequent in Bend every day, but analysis shows that the height of the tourist season has not yet arrived. Hardly a single car has appeared from east of the Rockies. All of the tourists at present, and for the past month, have come either from the Willamette valley, Washington or California. There have been a few from Nevada and Arizona.

Which of these districts sends the most tourists is hard to say. Tourists from the Willamette valley cannot always be distinguished from business travelers, and the same applies to cars from Washington. Practically all California cars belong to pleasure seekers. Such eastern cars as have been seen here belong to parties which spent the winter in California.

Many Side Trips Planned. A study of the hotel registers shows that many of the parties come more than once, indicating that they are making side trips to the lakes and scenic attractions. Tourists at the camp grounds and in the hotel lobbies are constantly discussing the fishing possibilities of the various lakes and rivers in this section. Elk lake seems to be a favorite.

The opening of the McKenzie pass has brought during the past week an increased number of visitors from the Willamette valley, and many from the north and south, touring west of the Cascades, have been led to take the trip across.

It will be two or three weeks yet, it is believed, before many eastern and middle western tourists make their appearance, but when they do, the hotels and camp grounds will be more in use than they are at present, with greater returns to local business houses, it is agreed.

NEWSPAPER WOMAN ON MOUNTAIN TRIP

Henrietta McCaughan On Way From Odell to Davis Lake—Will Continue to Mt. Hood.

Travelling with a girl friend and a burro as her only companions, Miss Henrietta McCaughan, of the Oregon Journal, was on her way from Odell to Davis lake Tuesday, going by the trail received by telephone by Supervisor H. L. Plumb, of the Deschutes National forest. Yesterday Miss McCaughan climbed Maiden Peak, continuing from there along the trail to Mt. Hood.

Miss McCaughan was lost in the Olympic forest last year, but the experience was not sufficient, and this summer she started for Central Oregon, crossing the Siskiyou, and coming to Odell lake by way of Crater lake.

THOMPSON'S FORM ADOPTED BY STATE

County School Superintendent J. Alton Thompson has just had the satisfaction of seeing one of the forms prepared by him for use in county school work adopted, practically without change, by the state superintendent's office. The form consists of directions to the district clerks for the preparation of the annual school budget. A representative of the state superintendent's office was in Bend recently and, seeing the copy in Mr. Thompson's office, took a copy for a sample. This has now been reprinted and is being sent out from Salem with the new budget law blanks.

Much Virtue in the Onion.

No doubt he is a prejudiced witness but there may be something all the same in the theory of a large grower of onions that this odoriferous vegetable has a "kick" which could commend it to those who miss their accustomed alcoholic stimulant. It certainly strengthens the breath quite as effectively as strong drink ever did.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"You Save Money"

says the Good Judge

And get more genuine chewing satisfaction, when you use this class of tobacco. This is because the full, rich, real tobacco taste lasts so long, you don't need a fresh chew nearly as often. And a small chew gives more real satisfaction than a big chew of the ordinary kind ever did. Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

FEDERAL TIRES

These men are discriminate buyers and when they spend their money, it is with the assurance that they are getting 100% value; experience has taught them that the cheaper article is just what its price implies "Cheap." They figure cost per mile in buying tires just the same as you figure cost per pound when you buy sugar at your grocery, and they would not buy "Federal" if they were not getting more miles per dollar investment that is what they would have, other tire in the world, therefore it is economy to equip your car with "Federal." Ask any of the following, why they prefer "Federal"—they use them and they know.
