

SALARY SLASH FOR OFFICIALS OF CITY LOOMS

MAYOR CONSIDERING RESOLUTION

COUNCIL VOTE SPLIT

Gilson Called On For Deciding Vote On Two Successive Questions—Bonding Ordinance Passes—Paving Bill Goes To Committee.

That he is considering a resolution to reduce the salaries of city officials was the declaration of Mayor E. D. Gilson at Friday night's meeting of the city council. The statement elicited little comment except from Recorder Ross Farnham, who declared that the council might as well start in with his office.

For the first time since the formation of the present city administration, an even division on two successive questions necessitated a deciding vote from the mayor. In each case the vote, on a phase of the McKay avenue footbridge, was negative.

The matter came up in the report of J. S. Innes, chairman of the streets committee, who declared that the bridge actually menaces the life of many people crossing the river at that point. Part of the bridge is now under water, but the total cost of improvement would be only $75, he said. Because the bridge is Bend Co. property, the approaches being also on Bend Co. property, three members of the council voted against Gilbert's motion for repair. A moment later a motion to condemn the bridge caused a similar split and again the mayor decided the question with a negative vote.

Paving Petition Pigeonholed. Discussion of the status of the West Third street paving petition brought the report from Councilman Fox that C. S. Reed, paving contractor, had told him he would consider no more contracts in Bend. The petition was indefinitely pigeonholed.

Councilman Gilbert objected strongly to provisions of the paving protection ordinance. He declared that even dull calks on horseshoes are badly damaging newly laid paving and that an ordinance stringent enough to protect the new surfacing would be almost impossible of enforcement. When the ordinance was referred to the police committee for revision, Gilbert declared the measure was as good as killed.

Bonds Are Ordered. Under an emergency clause, the ordinance for issuance of $19,715.62 worth of Bancroft bonds to take the place of the Newport improvement district warrants held by the Lumberman's Trust Co., of Portland, was passed without discussion. A resolution ordering in concrete sidewalks before September 15 on Greenwood, from the Wright hotel to the viaduct, on Bond, from the Bend Hardware Co. store to Franklin, on Franklin from Bond to the Catholic church, and on Wall from Louisiana to the gymnasium, was referred to the streets committee.

A petition for a street light on the corner of Portland avenue and West Third street was granted on the condition that other light, already ordered, be first installed.

Discussion of the street cleaning question elicited the remark from Councilman Baker that an application had been made for the job by a man who offered to work for $5 a month less than anyone else. The applicant had also offered him "something that would make me feel good," he said. He added that he did not like this kind of bid.

Mayor Gilson mentioned that he had declined an offer of $5 cash for the job.

Plan Park Cleanup. H. J. Overturf, representing the Commercial club, appeared before the council asking for improvement of Shevlin Memorial park. It was explained to him by Councilman Fox that there was no money available, but that it was hoped to have funds for this purpose and for the cemetery next year. One improvement which he believes can be made now is in the removal of dead timber, which could be brought to Bend to be used as fuel for the firehouse.

Councilman Gilbert agreed with Overturf as to the advisability of spending the first money available on park property within the city limits. His suggestion for a cleanup at Shevlin park, using only volunteer labor, met with favor, the council unanimously endorsing a movement for such cooperative work.

E. L. Vinal, manager of the Central Oregon Associates, reminded the council of the agreement for securing the repair of the Third street grade crossing. He was informed by the recorder that the present crossing has no official standing and that a showing must be made to the public service commission before it can be officially designated. The city attorney has been instructed to make such a showing.

PEOPLE TOO BUSY ASSERTS WRITER

Haven't Even Time For Flowers, Eaton Declares—Says Future Will Look To Tourist Business.

"People here seem to be too busy to think about such things as flowers, yet they are going to be important to your prosperity before long," says Walter Pritchard Eaton, magazine writer, who, with Mrs. Eaton, arrived in Bend Friday night on his way from Crater lake to Mt. Jefferson, in the party of Fred H. Kizer, head of the moving picture company which will soon begin filming Central Oregon. Mr. Eaton is seeking material for a Boy Scout book on the Cascades and Crater lake.

"I have found wonderful specimens of wild flowers native to Oregon which I cannot identify," said Mr. Eaton. "You have fogglows growing six feet high, when, in the east, we cannot cultivate them to grow four feet."

Tourist revenue will be the greatest source of income here soon, Mr. Eaton stated. If the scenic beauties are preserved. But if the timber along the highways is destroyed, and sheep are allowed to kill the wild flowers, this country will lose its tourist lure. He suggested that sheep should be kept out of certain areas of the forest.

At Crater lake Mr. Eaton assisted the Kizers in marking wild flowers for transplanting in a special garden to be built about the studio. He is also enthusiastic about the yellow pines, and suggests that a strip 100 yards wide along each through highway be acquired by the state, so that the timber may be preserved.

"In order to appreciate Crater lake, one has to spend several days there, and get down to the rim, so as to appreciate the size," he stated. In passing, Mr. Eaton remarked on the cleanliness of Oregon cities, and spoke in appreciation of the local inn, comparing it favorably with hotels in larger cities.

EXPLOSIVE SENT TO IMPROVE ROAD

Thousand Pounds of T-N-T To Be Used In Making Old Military Route Across Mountains Passable.

To aid in the work to make passable the old military road across the mountains, 1000 pounds of T-N-T is being sent by auto truck to the forest construction camp at Immigrant creek on authorization from Supervisor H. L. Plumb. Construction work is at present being done under the direction of Cascade forest officials, and the shipment of high explosive is being made as a loan.

The T-N-T is part of the carload secured by N. G. Jacobson, former forest supervisor, just after the close of the World war, being a portion of the government's reserve for war purposes.

KNORR PUTS UP GREAT BATTLE

TECHNICAL KNOCKOUT TAKEN IN SIXTH

Eddie Gorman Sent to Mat Twice In First Round, And Give And Take Fight Is Even Until Oakland Lad's Experience Wins.

(By United Press to The Bend Bulletin.)

PORTLAND, July 16.—Danny Edwards, Oakland, Cal., negro scrapper, won a 10-round wrist-slapping decision over George Lee, Sacramento Celestial pug, in the wind-up of an otherwise knock-down-and-drag-out card at the Milwaukee arena last night. The Lee-Edwards go did not get a rise out of a capacity crowd. Edwards had the scrap his own way most of the route, Lee being content to display his ability in eluding the chocolate boy's swings, a stunt he had learned a few months ago in Vancouver.

The gory battle of the card last night at the Milwaukee arena was between Eddie Gorman, of Oakland, and Duffy Knorr, of Bend, Ore. Knorr knocked Gorman down twice in the first, and Gorman did the same to Knorr. They milled furiously until the sixth, when Gorman had the inexperienced boy staggering. The referee stopped the go with Knorr reclining on the canvas.

Fans Cheer Bend Boy.

Knorr looked like a set up, and came out awkwardly with the first bell. Before the fans could get settled, he knocked the rugged Gorman to the floor. From then on Knorr battled furiously and the fans cheered him to the echo.

Gorman fought back viciously. Up to the fifth it was a give and take affair, the two battling toe-to-toe. Then Gorman's experience and toughness told on the green youngster and he had Knorr staggering in the sixth, and finally felled him, Tom Loutitt stopping the battle. Knorr was given a great ovation.

In the other events, Johnny Fugate beat Red Callahan to a six-round decision, Eddie Richards drew with Johnny Wade, and Brick won the curtain-raiser decision over Dan Healy.

LONE PINE TO RECEIVE WATER

CONTRACTS FOR 3,000 ACRES EXPECTED FROM C. O. I. COMPANY AS RESULT OF TRANSFER TO C. O. I. DISTRICT.

As one of the results of the transfer of water rights and irrigation system to be made by the C. O. I. Co. to the Central Oregon Irrigation district, the Lone Pine Irrigation district is expected to obtain water sufficient for 3000 acres. That a contract calling for the irrigation of an area of this size is probable is announced by Denton G. Burdick, of Redmond, attorney for the company.

Signing of such a contract, it is indicated, will mean immediate construction of a canal through the North canal project east of Redmond, and possible reclamation of part of the 35,000 acre North canal project on the way.

ALLOW THREE DAYS FOR HOMESEEEKERS

Time For Stay In Central Oregon Increased As Result of Conference In Portland.

Middle westerners who are to be brought to Oregon in September on the settlers' special, will spend two days in Deschutes, Jefferson and Crook counties, on their first trip into Central Oregon, and later will be allowed a day for the trip between Crater Lake and Bend.

The schedule thus announced was secured by Secretary L. Antles, of the Bend Commercial club, during his conference with George Quayle, secretary of the State Chamber of Commerce. Antles returned Friday morning from Portland, stating that Bend's demands had been allowed in every particular.

WILL NOT BID ON NEW WORK

REED HAS TOO MUCH TO DO ELSEWHERE TO CONSIDER FURTHER CONTRACTS, HE TELLS WOULD-BE PETITIONER

Because C. E. Reed, Los Angeles paving contractor now operating in Bend, refused to consider bidding on the surfacing of the streets between Franklin and Greenwood, from Bond to the railroad, a petition which C. H. Ellis, 105 Greeley avenue, had prepared, remains uncirculated.

Reed gave as his reason that he had too much work elsewhere to consider remaining here after his present contracts are taken care of, Ellis said. The paving asked in the petition would have cost in the neighborhood of $30,000, it is estimated.

The district included between the four boundaries of Franklin, Greenwood, bond and the railroad tracks is provided with sewers, so that there would be no need to tear up the paving later for such an improvement, Ellis pointed out.

BEND'S PRICES FOUND LOWEST

FOUR-L CONTRACT GOES TO LOCAL GROCERY IN COMPETITION WITH REDMOND ESTABLISHMENT.

That Bend grocery prices will compare favorably with those of Redmond, was shown today when the contract for a month's supplies for 29 families, the first move in the Four-L collective buying campaign, was awarded to a local store. After figures from the two cities had been compared, the Union grocery of Bend was given the order.

Not only was the total Bend estimate less than that of any of the competing cities, but the Bend price for every article in the list, with the sole exception of sugar, was low as well.

CAUTION IN FOREST IS NOW NECESSARY

Critical Time of Year From Fire Prevention Viewpoint Here—Patrols All Active.

Now is the time to start vigorous forest fire prevention, according to state foresters of northwestern states. Forest authorities are taking every precaution against the timber's enemy at this, the most critical time, it is considered, of the whole summer from a fire hazard standpoint.

Airplane patrols, wireless apparatus, scores of rangers, local fire-fighting equipment, are helpless, foresters say, unless the average citizen takes precautions with fire. The usual run of fires, started by natural causes, such as lightning, spontaneous combustion, etc., can be dealt with more or less easily, but it is the campers' fires which have to be watched. During vacation time, just getting well under way, this hazard is regarded as by far the most deadly. Wholesale warnings have been issued for all northwesterners to cooperate with the government's fire prevention program through personal effort and advice to visitors to forest lands.

STEEP GRADE GONE ON ELK LAKE ROAD

Work of Forest Service Noted By Autoists—Cutoff And General Improvement Reported.

Since the improvement work done Crane Prairie hill, on the Elk Lake road, by the Deschutes National forest service, the hill can be taken on high, agree J. D. Davidson and Clyde M. McKay, who recently drove over the road. The maximum grade is now seven per cent, with a five per cent average, replacing a steep pitch of 17 per cent.

A cut-off of approximately three miles on the Snow creek section of the road, and general improvements on the remainder of the road to the lake, are included in the work being done by the forest service.

WATERED FARMS IN OREGON FEW

ONLY 1.6 PER CENT OF TOTAL LAND AREA

Farm Acreage Increases Nearly Two Million In Ten Years, Government Report Shows—Capital Invested Much Greater

Irrigated lands in Oregon total only 1.6 per cent of the total land area in the state, the irrigation bulletin, issued in connection with the 14th census of the United States, shows. Compared with the report of 10 years ago, the 1920 census bulletin reveals an increase of 1,857,208 acres in farm lands in the last decade. The number of farms in the state is 2485 greater than a decade ago.

The irrigated area has increased 300,933 acres, or 43.7 per cent. Capital invested is $16,168,937 more than in 1910, or a percentage increase of 126.7. The report shows that while, in 1910, the average cost of operation and maintenance per acre was only 75 cents, it is now $1.19.

On the Deschutes drainage basin alone, the report states, irrigation projects have a total of 390 main ditches, with a capacity of 4,023 second feet of water. The ditch systems are 768 miles in length. Acre feet capacity of reservoirs is listed at 52,927. In the same drainage basin, capital invested totals $5,078,636. That the history of irrigation in Central Oregon has been almost entirely written in the last two decades, is shown by the comparative investment figure of $138,755 for 1902.

SUPERINTENDENT OF GRADING RESIGNS

D. W. Rand Leaves, Indicating Lack of Harmony With Company Officials—Bass In Charge.

D. W. Rand, grading superintendent for the paving company, Friday resigned his position and left Saturday morning for Portland. Lack of harmony with company officials was the cause of his resignation, he stated. He is understood to be negotiating for a position with the Warren Construction Co. Rand has had 25 years' experience as a grading superintendent.

A. L. Bass, formerly with the city engineer's office, is now in charge of the grading as foreman, with Harry G. Ryan as assistant.

A street intersection monitor entirely different from the others used may be seen at the corner of Congress and Idaho. A large juniper tree stands almost exactly at the intersection and will be allowed to remain. Four other junipers and two large pine trees will be left near the same point on Congress, where grading is now going on.
