

PROMISE AID IN MARKETING HAY

FREIGHT RATES MAY BE REDUCED

Railroad General Agents and Central Oregon Club Heads Confer On Matter of Rates To Seaboard, Allowing Stable Market.

(Special to The Bulletin.) REDMOND, Oct. 15. — Assurance that all possible assistance will be given the farmers of Central Oregon in securing freight rates which will make possible the marketing of their hay, was given by Albert Kelling, assistant general freight agent for the O.-W., and R. W. Pickard, assistant general freight agent for the S. P. & S., to the committee from the Central Oregon commercial clubs, at a meeting here today. The meeting was arranged Friday at the commercial clubs' dinner.

The question resolved itself into one of whether rates for the haul from Central Oregon points to the seaboard could be reduced enough to assure a stable market. Hay can be bought on ranches here, it was stated, for $5 a ton, and loaded on the cars for $4.50. A fairly sure price at the seaboard is from $12 to $14.

The present freight rate amounts to $9.40 a ton, or 47 cents a hundred. This must be reduced, the figures showed, to 17 1/2 cents or at most 20 cents, in order to make selling possible.

From Yakima to Portland, a longer distance, the rate is 27 cents. Whether the railroads can come down lower than that amount remains to be seen, but the officials present at the meeting assured the commercial club representatives that they would cooperate in any way possible. They stated that they had attended the meeting for the purpose of getting definite information on which to base a decision, and that they had gained what they wanted.

CENTURY DRIVE IS STILL SNOW FREE

Road in Excellent Condition, Says H. C. Ellis—No Rain—Blanket of Snow Covers Mountains.

No snow had yet fallen on the Century drive, and not enough rain had fallen up to Sunday to make travel in the least difficult, said H. C. Ellis on returning from the trip on Sunday. The high mountains are covered with a blanket of fresh snow, but there is none near the road, he stated.

No rain fell during the trip, and the roads were never better. The lakes are in some cases prettier now than at any time during the summer, said Ellis. There were hunters everywhere. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, Misses Catherine Manny, Laura Rand and Abbie Gray, and C. T. Terril.

BEND PLAYER GOES TO ST. LOUIS CLUB

Carl Shoots, Bought By Browns From Victoria, Arrives To Spend Winter Here.

Carl Shoots, who will be remembered by Bend fans as one of the most brilliant infielders on the old Shevlin-Hixon team, as well as being a thoroughly dependable hitter, will get his tryout with the St. Louis Browns when spring training starts. He spent last season with the Victoria, B. C., club of the Pacific International league, and his work there in the outfield resulted in his being drafted to the American league. Shoots hit around .300 last season. He arrived in Bend last week and will put in the winter months here.

FOREST LOOKOUTS ARE ALL RECALLED

With the forest fire season ended, Supervisor H. L. Plumb has recalled the last of the lookouts who have been on duty in the Deschutes National forest, he reported this morning. There have been only two lookouts for several weeks, those at Paulina Peak and Lookout Mountain. There have been no fires since the figures for the summer were announced several days ago, giving a very small loss for 1921.

CLEANUP SQUAD TO COME AGAIN

OCTOBER 27 AND 28 DATES FOR RETURN OF VETERANS' BUREAU REPRESENTATIVES—ADVANCE MAN HERE TODAY.

The Oregon Cleanup squad, which made a two day stop in Bend several weeks ago but was handicapped by having no medical officer in its personnel at the time, will be here again on Thursday and Friday, October 27 and 28, it is announced by A. C. Kinley, advance manager for the squad, who is in Bend to arrange for cooperation with the American Legion and Red Cross.

The squad has been more than busy in Pendleton, Baker, La Grande and other eastern Oregon towns, and will come here from Burns. William P. Wise, formerly advance man, is now vocational training officer. Cliff Wood and Keith Kiggins, who were here with the squad on its last visit, will return. A medical officer will be supplied by the head office of the Veterans' bureau before the squad arrives.

All claims of ex-service men, including compensation, insurance reinstatement, vocational training, travel pay or any other, will be handled. Men whose original discharges are in Salem may bring their claims, if the discharge has been recorded with the county clerk, as the service record may be verified by consulting the records.

LAVA RIVER CAVE SHOWN IN PHOTOS

Remarkable Effects Obtained By State Geologist Through Use of Double Flash in Tunnel.

Remarkable pictures of Lava River cave, formerly known as Dillman cave, were taken by State Geologist Ira A. Williams on his last trip to Bend, a set of these having just been received by Secretary L. Anties of the Bend Commercial club. Photographs of the interior of the cave is particularly difficult, and offers a problem which has baffled more than one professional. The solution was found by Mr. Williams in the use of two flashlights, one illuminating the scene to be "shot," the other being placed behind the camera.

Views taken by Mr. Williams start with the arrival at the cave, located a short distance from the main south highway, showing first the mouth of the cave, then the sand dunes, cliff-like in appearance, the frozen lava floor—a miniature of the lava flow south of Bend. One picture of the walls of the cave is strongly reminiscent of the grand canyon of the Colorado, and in another stalactites are hung thickly from the arched sides of the tunnel.

Another series taken by Mr. Williams shows some remarkable interiors of the Arnold ice cave.

SIGNAL LIGHTS FOR POLICE INSTALLED

Warning of Call For Officers To Be Flashed On Downtown Corners From Telephone Office.

Police signal lights, installed in the downtown district during the past week, will be ready for use tomorrow night, it is expected. Connection with the telephone office will probably be completed by that time. Five red lights have been placed at street corners. If a call for an officer reaches the telephone office and the police station is deserted, the operator presses a button and the red lights flash. The officer is expected to run to the nearest phone and call central.

SEND POTATOES TO EXHIBITIONS

FINANCING ARRANGED BY COMMITTEE

Central Oregon Specimens To Go To Portland, Spokane, Duluth—Cooperation of Farmers Is Asked—Meeting Is Held.

Plans for the financing of Central Oregon's potato exhibits at the Portland and Spokane land products shows and at the National Potato show at Duluth, were completed on Tuesday at Prineville when the committee composed of M. G. Coe of Bend, D. L. Jamison of Redmond, County Agent Tucker and R. L. Schee of Prineville, met in the Crook county seat. The members, who were appointed at the Central Oregon club luncheon in Redmond last Friday, were joined by F. L. Ballard, state county agent leader.

The budget adopted provides for $10 for sending the exhibit to Duluth, $100 for Portland and $190 for Spokane. The total expense is to be evenly divided among the Bend, Redmond, and Prineville commercial clubs, the Powell Butte community club, the Deschutes County Farm bureau, and the Central Oregon Potato Growers association.

A three peck exhibit will be entered at Duluth, and entries in all classes possible will be made in Oregon and Washington shows.

The committee is urging the hearty cooperation of the farmers of Deschutes and Crook counties if the plan for exhibits is to be successfully carried out.

Appreciate Amount of Work Necessary In Making Hats—25 Observe Expert's Methods.

After two days' intensive training in hat making, the women of Bend who took advantage of the course realize the amount of work which the milliner puts into their headgear, and appreciate as perhaps they never have before the real values in hats offered in the local shops. This was the declaration Tuesday afternoon of Miss Esther Cooley, O. A. C. clothing expert, on completing the instruction of her Bend millinery class. Twenty-five women were enrolled, and others attended both sessions, observing the methods used.

CHIEF REGAINS POLICE POWERS

RESIGNS AT MAYOR'S REQUEST, IS REINSTATED BY VOTE OF COUNCIL—ABSENCES FROM CITY CAUSE.

Fire Chief Carlson, who resigned his police authority at Mayor Gilson's request two weeks ago, was reinstated as an officer at a special meeting of the city council Friday night. It was learned yesterday. Reinstatement was made on motion of N. H. Gilbert, chairman of the police and fire committee, by a vote of 4 to 2. G. H. Baker and L. L. Fox voted in the negative.

Carlson was asked to resign for cause, the stated causes being unauthorized absences from the city and matters in connection with the release of a prisoner at the city jail. Mayor Gilson said that he had considered Carlson's removal as a police officer, but had not actually removed him.

Belief that the causes for asking Carlson's resignation, and a feeling that the fire chief is handicapped without police power, prompted the motion for reinstatement, council members declared today.
