THANKSGIVING HOME DINNERS MAY BE DENIED

"Do we get home for Thanksgiving dinner?" is the question which numbers of people are asking here as a result of the isolation which the recent storm enforced upon Bend. Some are people living here, who planned to go elsewhere for the week end, but most are traveling salesmen and others whose homes are in Portland or other places on the coast.

There is another group of Bend people who are asking the same question—those who are in Portland, The Dalles, or possibly on the train which is reported to be snowbound near Maupin. Included in this group are all of the Bend people who went to the Oregon-O. A. C. football game Saturday. Among them are Dr. R. W. Hendershott, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Baird, and Miss Noma Fultz.

Principal Kept Away

Miss Evelyn Carlson, principal of the Kenwood school, is kept away from her duties, having gone to Portland last week. Kenneth Moody, a high school student, is presumably enjoying himself at his home in The Dalles. D. T. Carmody is also away, and had planned to return early this week.

Among the visitors from out of town stranded here are L. E. King of Walla Walla, Fred Schun of Bellingham, J. R. Abbott, E. H. James, L. D. Griffith, C. B. Campbell, W. Ross Smith, D. L. Hynes and C. B. Cron of Portland. The question of Thanksgiving dinner is still unsolved for most of them, as they could still reach their homes if train service began tomorrow. But if it does not, well laid plans for a home dinner have gone glimmering.

Turkey Shipping Prevented

Charles Carroll's boxers are still unknown quantities. While there is no danger of food supplies running short, several merchants are facing a loss because of failure of shipments to arrive. J. Charles Smith is missing two trunks of dresses which should be in on the first train. Other merchants are similarly situated.

While Bend's Thanksgiving dinner is provided for, there may be a shortage of turkeys somewhere in Oregon, for this region usually supplies a large part of the demand in Portland. At least two carloads of turkeys have been loaded but cannot be shipped.

They're Generally Full-Grown.

Having read that a boy was arrested "for driving an automobile under age" we are inclined to believe that the writer did not mean to say that—Albany Journal.

J. A. Brodie, who has been court reporter during the circuit court term, left last night for Goldendale. This was Brodie's first visit to Bend. He expressed the wish that he might return at a time when he could take time to see more of the country.

A heavy snowstorm from Burns to this side of Suxent was reported last night by Roy Thomas, who arrived here on his way to Deschutes. The snow was not yet more than four inches deep, but was falling fast when he passed through Mt. Thomas stated.

Mrs. Herbert Howell, formerly Miss Margaret Weist of Bend and a graduate of the local high school and O. A. C., is in Bend for a visit after an absence of three years during which she lived in Pennsylvania. After visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Weist, for several weeks, she will go to Grants Pass, where her husband is located, to live.

A "dog feed" which in purist English means a luncheon consisting principally of wienerwurst sandwiches, was held Tuesday at the high school domestic science students serving. Almost all of the students and faculty members partook, with a view to helping out the fund for the football banquet which is to be given Wednesday evening, November 26, at the high school.

All members of the football squad, Coach C. W. Erskine and Manager Chester Klink will attend the banquet, which will be given in the high school dining room.

H. Cato is moving his offices to the O'Kane building, occupying the rooms formerly used by H. J. Overturn. Cato has received a patent on his homestead east of Bend. His service record during the recent war reduced the time necessary in proving up.

Sale of turkeys, chicken, ducks, geese, cranberries, lettuce, celery, mince meat and its ingredients, are already on the increase. NEW SEWER TO BE BUILT SOON

Resolutions of intention for the construction of sewer lateral No. 29 on the east end of Minnesota avenue, to serve the new Catholic hospital, were passed Friday night by the Bend city council at its regular meeting. Recorder Ross Farnham was instructed to advertise for bids.

Few reports were made by committee chairmen, and aside from the authorization of sewer construction virtually no business was transacted. N. H. Gilbert stated that new rules had been adopted for work in the firehouse, which would result, he thought, in even greater efficiency than under previous regulations. Chairman Innes, of the streets committee, was instructed to see that drags are in readiness for clearing the streets in case of snow.

Adjournment was taken to November 25, when the public budget discussion meeting will be held.
