CAR STALLS, OWNER TAKES LONG WALK

His car stalled six miles above Pringle Falls, J. D. Donovan trudged through heavy mud carrying pitch torch on a piece of bark last night, making his way through inky darkness to the home of William Brown at the falls, and securing aid. Donovan lays his trouble to the fact that he had neglected to provide his car with chains.

The trip had been started early in the morning with Ronald Sellars and James Bond, a duck hunt on the upper Deschutes being the objective. Not a single bird was bagged, Donovan stated.

Snuff Famine Is Threatened Here If Trains Fail

Grave hardship as a result of the snuff famine is feared here in case the trains from Portland do not arrive soon. A supply sufficient to last until Wednesday by careful rationing is on hand, local wholesalers report. A shipment was said to be on its way Saturday. The shortage was partly due to the filling of large orders from La Pine and Silver Lake last week.

RAIN GENERAL IN WIDE AREA REPORTS SHOW

MADRAS IN GRIP OF SILVER THAW
ICE COVERING RAILS
Heavy Precipitation Extends South To Fort Rock—Prineville And Redmond Report Constant Rain Since Early Sunday Morning.

Unusual climatic conditions prevailing through the state were being reported early this week according to reports gathered by The Bulletin from as far north as Madras, and as far south as Crescent. Heavy continuous rains are characteristic, with the weather gradually directly with La Pine Monday but travellers report heavy rainfall in that section, with a few narrow belts of snow between that point and Bend. With the exception of a few isolated districts where highly localized conditions prevailed, the storm was apparently general. Communication troubles which cut Bend off from the outside world began to the north of Madras.

MADRAS HAS SILVER THAW

MADRAS, Nov. 21.—Madras is in the grip of a silver thaw, and spiked shoes are the popular footwear with pedestrians. An inch of ice covers the streets and telephone wires are hung thickly with icicles. Rain and sleet fell steadily for two days, freezing as it fell. Telegraph and telephone trouble is believed to have been localized, as no communication with Antelope has been found possible, indicating that the wires are down somewhere south of that point. Ice covered rails are preventing any activity in transportation north of here and hotels are crammed to overflowing.

RECORD RAIN IN SOUTH

FORT ROCK, Nov. 21.—Record rains for two days are the feature of unusual weather conditions prevalent in the Fort Rock valley. Temperature is high for this season of the year.

PRINEVILLE ADOPTS UMBRELLA

PRINEVILLE, Nov. 21.—Warm, balmy spring weather, with incessant rain, and little or no wind is duplicating typical Willamette valley conditions. Precipitation has been constant since Saturday morning. Umbrellas, ordinarily regarded as curiosities in this section, are becoming popular.

RANGE PROSPECTS BETTERED

REDMOND, Nov. 21.—Heavy precipitation in the form of rain, continuing since Saturday morning is soaking the ground, is extending high hope for unusually good range conditions for the coming season. The weather is unusually warm for this season.

ARRANGE TROPHY ROOM AT SCHOOL

Trophies and memorials which have been presented to the Bend high school student body are now collected into one trophy room, which is at the southwest corner of the assembly. Cups won in debate and track athletics, pictures and banners have been neatly arranged. The pictures presented by various graduating classes have been rehung, and the service flag, with two gold stars, has been returned to its place on the stage.

HOTEL REOPENING PARTY IS ENJOYED

Over fifty people from Bend attended the dance at Metolius Saturday, at which the Metolius hotel was reopened for business after being closed for several years. Those who attended report a good time which lasted until late Sunday morning.

WORK OF CLUB IS EXTENSIVE REPORT SHOWS

ACHIEVEMENTS MADE CAMPAIGN BASIS PLATFORM INCLUSIVE
Bend Organization Largely Successful In Carrying Out Program—Miscellaneous Achievements Listed Are Numerous.

Showing the work which has been done by the Bend Commercial club during the past year in attaining the aim of the organization "to make Bend a better place in which to live," the annual report of the club is being mailed to members and prospective members. The club's achievements during the past 12 months were made the basis for the cleanup and new membership campaign which was launched Monday, extending over two days.

The club's platform for the year has been embodied in eight planks—irrigation, good roads, industrial development, improved streets, better school facilities, auto camp grounds, encouragement of railroad construction between Bend and Burns, and publicity—and in carrying out its program, the club has been almost uniformly successful.

Under the head of irrigation, success crowned the efforts to prevent the appropriation to outside localities of so much water as to render not worth while further irrigation development in this country, the report points out. The club has supported and is continuing to support the establishment of claims for sufficient water to irrigate another hundred thousand acres of land in this county.

Much Road Work Done

The good roads plank was carried out in full, says the report, which says in full under this head: "We have rendered material cooperation with the forest service in their program of road development this year, and have added our support to federal appropriations which, if made, should enable us to secure the improvement of the road to Lakeview and to Ontario. With the help of other organizations, we have succeeded in having $50,000 of road bonds passed in this county, which assures us the full cooperation of the State Highway commission in the completion of all state roads through Deschutes county. This will mean that these roads will all be gravel surfaced within a short time."

Better Rates Gained

The "improved streets" plank had as its keynote the cooperation with city authorities and property holders for the promotion of street improvements. In this connection, only minor matters were undertaken because of the extensive work already contracted for.

The club claims no credit for improved school facilities, the report pointing out that this properly belongs to the district directors. There has, however, been constant cooperation with the schools on a number of matters of benefit to both the schools and the community at large.

In the movement to establish an auto camp ground, only one question remains to be solved, that of financing.

Success Crowns Hunter's Effort; Decoys Victims

Hunters who returned Monday from up-river trips had little luck, and the man whose efforts were crowned with success is saying very little about it. J. H. Haner, whose decoys tempted Ashley Forrest to take a pot shot, told the story last night.

Haner and Millard Triplett had just finished setting out the canvas birds when they saw Forrest and Elmer Ward approaching. Cautiously the newcomers detoured, then crawled to cover within shooting distance. The ducks showed no signs of alarm, and Forrest rose to his feet and blazed away.

The carnage was appalling. Haner declared.

ing. Sentiment, says the report, is generally in favor of the plan.

Under transportation, it is noted that rates to Portland have already been materially reduced, and that a still further cut is hoped for. Financial conditions have made any new railroad building impossible.

Many Results Seen

Highly desirable publicity has been attained, both locally and in outside publications.

Miscellaneous achievements not included specifically in the platform have included the staging of two home products dinners, the entertainment of the State Editorial convention, repudiation of the charge that Bend was employing large volumes of alien labor, emphasizing the value of potato culture in this county by winning high awards at one international and one state show, the securing of the services of the state geologist in examining Deschutes county caves, promoting better feeling between the communities of Central Oregon, aided in promoting the movement to secure the completion of The Dalles-California highway, and backing the construction of an interstate bridge across the Columbia river at The Dalles.

WILL GREET NEW MEMBERS OF CLUB

Cleanup Campaign of Commercial Body to Close at Noon Wednesday.—Collections Satisfactory.

Signing of 6 new members and definite assurance that several thousand dollars in delinquent dues will be collected by luncheon time tomorrow, today featured the Commercial club cleanup campaign, announces L. D. Mowat of the American City bureau. The greeting of new members will feature the noon luncheon tomorrow. E. L. Payne will preside.

It is thought that the campaign may be brought to a close by the hour for the weekly luncheon. Collections were still coming in satisfactorily late this afternoon.
