PETITION WILL ASK FOR VOTE ON CITY FORMS

Manager or Commission To Be Issue

MAY AMEND CHARTER

Choice of People Shown at Primaries Will Be Submitted For Final Vote At Special Or General Election.

To give the voters of Bend the opportunity to show whether they desire a change from the present form of city government and to indicate the kind of change desired is the object of petitions which will be in circulation before the end of the week. Final instructions regarding the drafting of the petition were given yesterday to Attorney Ross Farnham following a conference of Mayor E. D. Gilson and Lon L. Fox and G. H. Baker, the two city councilmen who would have city affairs handled by either a commission or a manager.

Preference Asked
The petition will ask that the question of desirability of change be placed on the ballot at the primary elections, May 19. Those favoring a change will be asked to indicate their preference as to the managerial or the commission form. If a majority for a change is polled, the type of new government desired will be made the basis for a charter revision to be submitted to the people either at the general election in the fall or at a special election.

EX-CONGRESSMAN NEW POSTMASTER

WASHINGTON, March 22.—John N. Williamson, former congressman, has been named as postmaster for Prineville, Oregon, by President Harding. He is 67 years of age, above the civil service limit, but took the examination under an executive order of the president. He was at one time sheriff of Crook county, and later served in both houses of the legislature.

IMPORTANCE OF FISH HATCHERY IS EMPHASIZED

ment of game wardens and other actions of the game commission, and called attention to glaring inconsistencies in the game laws, which he said he had noticed in a recent perusal of the code, made under court direction.

That Bend has failed to fully appreciate the hatchery, along with many other blessings they may enjoy in Central Oregon, was stated by A. Whisnant.

H. J. Overturf, who presided, told of the history of the local hatchery, giving to W. C. Birdsall, late manager of the Pilot Butte Inn, credit for having conceived the idea, suggesting it at a Commercial club luncheon several years ago. In addition to stocking the waters with fish, the hatchery serves as a connecting bond between the sportsmen of this section and the game commission.

Publicity Advocated
Suggestions and requests are welcomed by the commission, said Overturf, but any suggestions of changes in the opening and closing dates in Central Oregon should be made now.

A motion congratulating Editor Frank R. Prince on the March "Shevlin Equalizer," copies of which were found beside each place at the table, was passed at Overturf's suggestion. At the instance of H. C. Ellis, a motion was passed authorizing the sending to each member of congress, literature setting forth the club's opposition to the forest service being transferred from the department of agriculture to the interior department.

Overturf stated that a publicity

Veteran, Romping With Dog, Opens Old Wound; Condition Now Critical

While romping with his dog, H. E. Browning, ex-soldier living in the Alfalfa district, opened an old gunshot wound received in action in France. Profuse bleeding followed, and for a time Browning was considered to be in a critical condition.

A physician was called, and Browning will be taken to Portland for special treatment as soon as he is able to be moved.

Engineer's Baby Son Tries Indian Way of Travel; Likes It, Too

While ordinary infants are taking the air in perambulators, John Dron, Jr., of Drake Road, less than a year old, son of an ex-army officer and present engineer, is going on long hikes, papoose fashion. Strapped securely to his father's back, with only the tip of a pink nose appearing over the edge of a compact cylinder of blankets, the youngster enjoys his outings just as much as if he had been born in a wigwag, his father declares.

Beauty Specialist

TELLS HOW TO BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR WITH

SEPOL SHAMPOO

WITH AMAZING RESULTS
Says Mrs. Spaulding:
"I have used Sepol in my practice exclusively for several years, and I cannot tell of the wonderful results I have obtained. Sepol seems to have a magical effect upon the hair. It gives such a beautiful gloss, makes it thicker, fluffier and easy to do up. For excessively oil, brittle hair, dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair it has no equal. It protects the scalp from germ life. My advice to every man or woman who wants healthy and beautiful hair, use Sepol Shampoo. It's delightful to use." You can obtain Sepol Now at all Druggists.
