

WRECK CAR ON TRIP TO BEND; ALL WILL LIVE

Life of Alfred Johnson At First Feared For

FOUR PINNED BY AUTO

Turns Over Twice Before Imprisoning Local Lumber Workers—Victims Rushed To Hospital In Bend.

Pinned under their overturned car, four Bend mill workers were injured Sunday night, one seriously, when a front wheel, deflected by a rock, threw the car off the grade, two miles out of Bend. Alfred Johnson, owner of the car, was at first thought to have a fracture of the upper vertebrae of the neck, and is in addition suffering from bad wounds of the face and scalp. He was unconscious Sunday night, and fear was felt for his life. Monday morning he had regained consciousness and will live, it was certain.

Carl Peterson suffered two long scalp wounds, Gus Nelson probably has a fractured rib, and Robert Johnson has cuts about the face and scalp. All victims of the accident were badly bruised, and with the exception of Robert Johnson, are being cared for at St. Charles hospital. Unless infection sets in, none are in danger. Dr. Charles F. Bloom, the attending physician, stated.

Engine Not Damaged

Members of the party reported that the Essex car which Alfred Johnson was driving was not speeding when the accident occurred, shortly before 8 o'clock. The autoists were coming in on the Shevlin park road when their car left the grade. The machine rolled over twice before it came to rest on top of the four occupants.

Windshield, top, radiator, fenders, and lights were smashed, and in addition the car lost a front and a rear wheel. With these two parts supplied by a repair crew from the Pioneer garage, after the accident victims had been rushed to St. Charles hospital, the car was brought into Bend on its own power.

TRAPSHOOTERS TO KEEP UP PRACTICE

Bend Club To Send Teams To Pacific Handicap Tournament In Portland.

Although the state trapshooting tournament is a thing of the past, the Bend trapshooting club plans to continue its regular weekly shoot, preparatory to sending one or two teams to the Pacific Zone Handicap tournament at Portland July 13, 14 and 15.

After keeping one championship in Bend and bringing one trophy cup into the possession of a member of the local club, the Bend trapshooters feel that they are a factor in the state's competition, and will work harder than before to make a good showing.

TWO SONS SURVIVE AGED TUMALO MAN

(Contributed)

Died, at the family home near Tumalo, May 18, after a three years illness, A. H. Reed, aged 78 years, 1 month and 16 days.

Alexander Hamilton Reed was born in Mercer county, Pennsylvania, April 2, 1844. He came to Iowa with his parents when a youth. Later the family moved to Mercer county, Illinois, where in 1871, he was united in marriage to Miss Cathleen M. Shauncey who survives him. To this union were born two sons, Clayton W. Reed of Rock Island, Ill., and George W. Reed, address unknown. It was at the home of C. F. Montgomery, an adopted son, that death occurred.

BROTHER FINDS BODY OF RIVER'S VICTIM

The body of Henry May, Portland man drowned in the Deschutes near Mecca 12 days ago, was found Friday by his brother, who has been near him constantly since the drowning occurred, near Coleman, nine miles down stream from the scene of the drowning. The body was lodged in bushes at the bank of the river.

Name of Lake Often Misspelled, Geographic Board Ruling Shows; Older Form of "Metolius" Used

The difference of a final "s" is the difference between the right and wrong spelling of one of the most widely visited lakes in Central Oregon. Probably the more common spelling is "Suttles," but that's all wrong, according to the United States National Geographic board. "Suttle" is officially correct, says a letter received by Forest Supervisor H. L. Plumb.

Another name, for which there are at least two spellings, despite the fact that one has been officially accepted for many years, is that of the Metolius river, where some of Central Oregon's best early season fishing is found. An older spelling, probably more nearly corresponding to that of the original Indian pronunciation, is "Matoles," and is still used by some residents in the country along the river and near Sisters.

This should be discouraged as leading to confusion, writes George W. Root, acting district engineer for the forest service. He added that the secretary of the Oregon Geographical board concurs in this opinion.

BEND DEFEATS MADRAS 5 TO 2

String of Victories Still Unbroken—Batting Rally Overcomes Lead.

After Madras had held a two-run lead up to the fifth inning, the Bend baseball team Sunday staged one of the slugging rallies for which it is becoming noted, and added one more to its unbroken string of victories, taking the game 5 to 2. For the first time this season the local team played to a real crowd, the stands being filled and many cars being parked about the diamond.

Madras scored in the third inning on a two-base hit by Watts and Gudge's single, and in the fourth on a two-base hit by Haynes and a single by D. Young.

After two were out in the last half of the fourth, Armstrong and Hagen singled in rapid succession, and Simpson scored them with a two-base hit. Simpson romped home when Gudge dropped Kennedy's long fly to center field, and Kennedy scored on a passed ball. Bend's final score came in the eighth when Russell reached first on Billops' error, and scored with the aid of a single by Hathaway and some inaccurate throwing to the bases.

During this inning Kennedy showed the fans something new in the art of sliding, getting safely to third long after the baseman had the ball.

Simpson made a new strike out record of 13, but allowed 7 hits, while the Bend men were able to get the same number off D. Young. Simpson kept the hits well scattered, however, and forced most of the Madras batsmen either to strike out or hit to the infield.

Brentano and Springer made spectacular catches of flies which required long runs to capture. Hathaway, a new man at second base, played good ball and was the only Bend man to get two hits.

SQUARE LAKE HIKE IS MADE BY PARTY

One of the first parties of the year to hike to Square lake, several miles west of Suttle lake, was that composed of Charles G. Wilson, W. E. Irvine and Myron Powell, who Sunday drove to Suttle lake and hiked the remainder of the distance, walking about 15 miles on the round trip. They found patches of snow four feet deep before reaching the lake.

SWIMMING TIME AT GYM STARTS

Many Take Memberships—Schedule For Tank Use Adopted

Swimming season started auspiciously at the American Legion building last week with a large attendance for the ladies' period in the afternoon. Memberships are being taken out by a great number of boys as well, and the men are expected to begin signing up today. The schedule will closely follow that of last summer.

Ladies will have two afternoons, Tuesday and Friday. Girls will swim on Tuesday night and on Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock. Boys will have the tank on Saturday from 10:30 to 12 o'clock, and men on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

The social swims, which proved so popular last year, will again be held on Friday evening, the first one tonight.

No swimming may be done on Thursdays, that day being reserved for cleaning and refilling the tank.

Accommodations for the ladies have been greatly improved by the construction of the new dressing room to the east of the tank for their exclusive use, with a door opening into the shower room.

WORK RESUMED ON WEST HOME

Completion of the large stone house on East Third street, which has stood unfinished for seven years, was begun last week by the owner, L. D. Wiest, original owner of Wiestoria, the addition of which this residence, planned as one of the most elaborate, and situated on one of the most attractive building sites in Bend, was to be the center. Wiest began construction in 1914. The walls of the 10-room house, built of tuffa stone from the quarry on the Shevlin-Hixon holdings, were erected and the roof and concrete basement completed.

Construction was held up on account of the failure to arrive of the heating plant. Then war conditions came, and because of the increased cost of materials, Wiest decided to delay completing the house.

Because of its materials, the building has not deteriorated to any noticeable extent. Some of the interior framework, in which lumber was used of a grade which now is selected for finishing only, had settled, and required slight repairs. Wiest stated today that he would move his family into the completed house in September. He will have personal supervision of the work, except the plastering, which will be contracted.

The exterior is attractive, with unusual features in the way of cut stone porch columns, this work being done by H. Caler, former Bend man who has just returned from Seaside.

Spacious verandas are situated on both the east and west sides of the house, that on the west affording a good view of the mountains. A conservatory will be built on the south side. The house is situated well back from Third street, on a large grassy plot of ground which attractively sets off the dimensions of the building.

Inventors of Bells. The invention of bells is attributed to the Egyptians, who are credited with having made use of percussive instruments to announce the sacred fetes of Osiris many centuries ago.

JUNIPER BERRY VALUE IS SEEN; TEST FOR OIL

Scouts To Fill Order For 250 Pounds For Club

RESOLUTION IS WIRED

Directors Protest Public Service Commission Action—Funds Collected For Pilot Butte Road.

Possibility that the juniper berry, hitherto finding its only use in Central Oregon as winter food for birds, may become of commercial value, is seen in a request received by the Bend Commercial club from the W. J. Bush Citrus Products Co. at National City, Cal., for 250 pounds of berries to be used in a test distillation of juniper oil. Action on the request was taken by the club directors at their meeting last week, with the result that the Bend Boy Scouts have been asked to fill the order during the vacation months. Juniper oil is an expensive product, now being imported largely from Bavaria. It finds its chief use in medicine.

Railroad Ruling Upheld

As recommended by the forum, the Bend Commercial club directors passed a resolution protesting against the action of the public service commission in opposing the separation of the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific railway systems, recently ordered by the interstate commerce commission. The resolution was to be telegraphed to the members of the commission, so that they would receive it before leaving for San Francisco.

Appointed chairman of the committee to solicit funds for the road up Pilot Butte by the Commercial club directors at noon, T. H. Foley started by collecting from each of the other directors who had not already subscribed, and then on down the street, with the result that he had a considerable fund by the time he reached the Commercial club office. Foley declared that his committee would see to it that if a road is built, it will be so constructed as to be absolutely safe for motorists.

Auto Emblem Endorsed

The committee to investigate the matter of a Bend emblem, reported in favor of the one adopted several years ago by the Emblem club, which has given its permission for the club to use the emblem in any way it sees fit. The report states that the Bend Iron Works is already prepared to manufacture emblems for use on automobiles, of aluminum.

BONDS SIGNED FOR DISTRICT

North Unit Directors Act Although Certification Is Refused.

Signing of the $5,000,000 bond issue of the North Unit, the Jefferson water conservancy district, has been completed by the directors of the district, according to a story published in the Portland Journal, quoting H. W. Gard, representing the district in its bond negotiations in Portland. The Journal's news report continues: "Although the securities have been signed, Gard stated that the seal of the district would not be placed upon them until certification of the issue had been made by the state irrigation securities commission and interest payment guaranteed. This thus far is withheld.

"It develops that on May 25 the state commission, which includes Frank C. Bramwell, state superintendent of banks; Attorney General Van Winkle and State Engineer Cupper, had refused certification of the issue and guaranty of the interest because they deemed the price of $2 agreed upon between the district and the bond house too low and because of their disapproval of a cost plus 15 per cent contract also agreed upon in the construction of the project by the Shattuck Construction company of San Francisco.

"These bonds have from 11 to 30 years to run and bear 6 per cent interest."

Panning the Business.

A Chicago millionaire gum manufacturer walked into the tea-room at the Drake the other day and announced loudly that he had just seen a girl chewing gum, adding: "I hate girls that chew gum!"—then joined in the laughter.

GRANGE HALL MAN DIES AT HOSPITAL

Operation Fails To Save Life of W. D. Bratt—Burial To Be At Spangle, Washington.

W. D. Bratt, a resident of the Grange Hall district for the last five years, died late Sunday afternoon at the St. Charles hospital of a diseased condition of the alimentary canal, following an operation last week which prolonged his life for several days, but which could not save him. The body will be shipped tonight to Spangle, Wash., for burial Wednesday.

Bratt was 56 years of age, a native of Pont du Lac, Wis., and a member of the Woodmen of the World lodge. He came to Bend from Cheney, Wash. He is survived by his wife and four daughters, Mrs. Willard Grinstead and Mrs. Leland Davis of Bend, and Mrs. F. J. Dennison and Miss Wilma Bratt of Spokane.

WORK PROCEEDS ON BEND-SISTERS ROAD

Graveling Near Tumalo To Be Finished This Week—Contractors Moving Equipment.

With their work at this end of the Bend-Sisters highway, near Tumalo, practically completed, March & Bowlers, contractors, will move their equipment some time this week to Sisters, to gravel a stretch of the road there.

C. K. Shotwell, who has the contract for graveling west of Sisters, and R. M. Doty, who has the work of grading on the other side of the lava, are also moving their equipment in, according to M. W. Knickerbocker, county commissioner in charge of road work, who is in Bend today. A crew is now working on the rock patches this side of the lava.

COUNTY FEDERATION GIVEN PROMINENCE

The organization of the Deschutes County Federation, binding together all of the commercial and community organizations of the county, is given particular mention in the latest issue of "Community Leadership," the national publication of the American City Bureau. The Bend Commercial club took a leading part in forming the federation.

LA PINE BOARD ORDERS PLANS

Call For Bids On School And Gymnasium, Expected In July.

Accepting sketches prepared by Hugh Thompson, Bend architect, the La Pine school board last week issued instructions for the drafting of plans and specifications for a school building and gymnasium to take the place of the structure recently destroyed by a supposedly incendiary fire. Thompson reported on his return to Bend from La Pine, that a call for bids might be expected by the middle of July.

The total estimated cost of the La Pine building program is $17,500. In addition to this $2,500 will be used in furnishing the buildings. The school building, a four-room modern structure with basement, is to cost $12,500, with $5,000 for the gymnasium. The basement will be at first fitted up as a lunch room, but will be so planned that domestic science and manual training classes can be held there later if this is deemed advisable.
