THE STORE OF SUPERIOR SERVICE

Volume of business is an important index to leadership—it indicates leadership in such things as ideas, creative merchandising and unusual value-giving.

That business which serves the public best has by fact established a certain kind of leadership; which eventually leads to leadership in sales.

Our store is proud of its volume of sales because that volume has grown through service, through leadership in ideas, in creative merchandising, and in attractive value-giving.

We base our claims to your patronage solely upon good merchandise, good values and good service.

We are the Store of Superior Service.
