

MILLER SAYS ROAD WILL PAY

KLAMATH FALLS MAN QUOTED IN HERALD.

Photographer Who Took Views of Country Traversed by Strahorn Lines is Convinced of Success—All Doubts Vanished.

Accompanying W. D. Cheney on his recent trip over the Strahorn surveys, Charles S. Miller, of Klamath Falls, took a large number of photographs showing the country traversed by the lines. On his return to Klamath Falls, Mr. Miller gave an interview to the Klamath Herald telling of his impressions of the country travelled, as follows:

"It has been said by a number of people that it would be impossible to make the Strahorn railroad a paying proposition.

"I, myself, was in doubt, but after completing the trip over the entire survey, am thoroughly convinced that it will be a financial success in a very short time after it is completed.

"You who have lived in Klamath for a number of years would very quickly resent it if some one would say to you that this country would not support a railroad, and you would not have a right to, so why pass judgment on the Strahorn road without first going over the country and seeing it?"

"In going over the survey I saw every one of the valleys from an elevation of from five hundred to one thousand feet above them, so I could get a panoramic picture that would give the most perfect view possible, but must say that the pictures taken cannot possibly give anywhere near an idea of the vastness of this great country.

"Commencing at Bend, the survey runs through about twelve miles of irrigated land which is almost all being cultivated, then about ten more miles of little value. You then enter a good tract of pine timber which extends for over thirty miles or with-in twenty miles of Klamath Falls, which will furnish tonnage for the railroad.

"From Klamath Falls, which is very large, is at present only sparsely settled, but with the coming of the railroad will no doubt make homes for a great number of people.

"Silver Lake valley, the next on the line, is more thickly settled with a number of large ranches, these ranches having good houses and barns and are dotted with haystacks and cattle.

"From Silver Lake the Klamath line enters the pine timber about twelve miles from the junction and continues through same until it reaches the Sprague River country, with which you are all familiar from there on into Klamath Falls.

"Going back to the survey, which leaves Silver Lake, you go through Summer Lake valley, Chewaucan, Silver Creek, Goose Lake and then over the only high pass, which will require a tunnel, into Surprise valley.

"All of these valleys are well settled and are very prosperous with many fine houses and barns, but unable to raise anything but cattle until they get a railroad which they are all very anxious to see at the earliest possible time. Every valley has its little flour mill, which furnishes its own locality only, being unable to ship anything out. Most of these localities also raise all the fruit necessary for home consumption, such as apples, peaches, plums and berries.

"Almost all these valleys are more or less irrigated from the small streams that come in from the mountains and some have good-sized projects in operation or under way.

"In every locality could be seen thousands of cattle and hundreds of stacks of hay.

"We were assured on every hand that the people in each locality were ready to do everything that Mr. Strahorn asked of them, then if the railroad was not built it would be no fault of theirs.

"One of the greatest things in favor of this road is the very easy grades and the large amount of territory that is almost perfectly level through which it will be built, which will make construction very cheap."

FARMERS WILL MEET

First Session of Agricultural Council to Be Held Soon.

The first annual meeting of the Crook County Agricultural Council will be held in the Domestic Science building at Redmond, on December 23. Each of the 24 farmers' organizations which go to make up the council has delegated a representative to attend.

The following program for the convention has been sent out: "Cooperative Purchase of Seeds, Strychnine, Gypsum, Feeds, Etc." by P. H. Deneer, discussion by C. F. Hoskins and W. F. Mackey; "Rabbit Campaign Extermination," E. S. Barnard, discussion by W. M. Ogg and C. L. Mead; "Stock Shipping Association," by C. F. Hoskins, discussion by W. M. Ogg and P. H. Deneer; "Potato Growers Association," by J. L. Gibson, discussion by S. D. Mustard and Earl Saunders; "Establishing Hardy Crops," by A. S. Fogg, discussion by S. W. Merrill and A. D. Norton; "Cooperative Cow Purchase," by C. D. Jarrett, discussion by W. M. Ogg and J. N. B. Gerking; "Farm Demonstrations," by J. N. B. Gerking, discussion by A. S. Fogg and C. F. Hoskins.

SISTERS ACADEMY TO BE BUILT AT KLAMATH FALLS

Letter to President of Klamath Commercial Club Says Grounds Must Be Secured—Take Subscriptions.

That Klamath Falls is to secure the Sisters boarding school and day academy planned to be established in Oregon by the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth, is indicated by a letter from Hugh J. Marshall, pastor of the Sacred Heart church, of Klamath Falls, to J. W. Selman, president of the Commercial club of that city, which appeared in a recent issue of the Klamath Record.

The letter was in part as follows: "Mr. J. W. Selman, president Commercial Club, Klamath Falls, Ore., Dear Sir—Many inquiries are being made as to whether or not the Sisters are going to establish here. I take this method of an open letter to you as president of the Commercial club, to inform the public how far we have succeeded in the effort to secure a Sister's institution.

"Mother Rose, who was here a few weeks ago to look over the field, thinks the time opportune to open a hospital but she has consented to establish a boarding house and day academy provided we secure the ground and guarantee a sufficient number of pupils.

"Bend lately became out riva and bidding fair to outstrip us unless we take care, is making every effort to induce Mother Rose to send out a number of Sisters. If I am correctly informed, a $15,000 parcel of land in the city limits was lately acquired and presented gratuitously to the Sisters. On their part, the Sisters will build a hospital immediately.

"In order that we may take advantage of Mother Rose's proposition at once and thus avoid any likelihood of failure, I respectfully request you to take this matter in hand and to appoint a committee to help raise the necessary money by subscription.

"Confident of the hearty support of the Commercial club and of the citizens of Klamath, I am, Very truly yours, HUGH J. MARSHALL, Pastor Sacred Heart Church."

Remember The Tired Shopgirl

Thoughtfulness of others is the keynote of Christmas. "As ye do it unto the least of these," said the Founder of the day.

Have YOU thought of the TIRED SHOPGIRLS? As you treat them you are treating Him. Let that sink home. The greatest kindness you can do these girls is to SHOP EARLY.

If the majority of people would do that the girls could enjoy their Christmas, too, for they would not be TIRED TO DEATH by working at a KILLING PACE till midnight on Christmas eve.

MOOSE TO HAVE BIG CARNIVAL

MUSIC STARTS NEXT MONDAY NIGHT.

The Hippodrome to Be the Scene of Jolly Week, Under the Auspices of Local Lodge—Fun and Foolishness to Prevail.

Several thousand people are expected to enter the doors of the Hippodrome, beginning next Monday evening and continuing until Saturday evening, on the occasion of the big Moose carnival, to be given under the auspices of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Fun, frolic and foolishness will prevail during the entire six nights. The event will have the nature of a cross between Barnum & Bailey and the New Orleans Mardi Gras. The room will be gaily decorated, and there will be the call of the wares of the booth auctioneers becoming to a street fair. The plan of the committee, composed of E. J. Selman, A. C. Reed, Myron H. Symons, and Roy Menasco, is to have something doing every minute for the people to attend, and to have something different every night.

To Give Away Prizes. Ford automobiles, valuable saddles, diamond rings, will be given away to the holders of lucky tickets. These prizes are the full value of what they are represented.

Elaborate booths will be erected the latter part of this week and there will be many of them at which a large variety of useful articles will be sold. Nothing will be spared to give the people, who attend this carnival, the worth of the money they expend, and in addition, plenty of provocation to laugh at the sights that will be offered.

Special dispensation has been given to the Libraby club to conduct a booth for the sale of various articles. The booth space has been given free by the Moose. The ladies will sell cooked foods, toys, periodicals and useful Christmas gifts.

One of the big features of the carnival will be the jitney dance, for which a special space will be arranged. The dance will be conducted nightly and special music will be played for the evenings.

The funds realized from the carnival will be expended by the lodge in the remodeling of the building now occupied by the Dream Theatre on Bond street, which will be the future lodge and club rooms for the members of the order.

The Ladies Aid society of the Scandinavian Lutheran church held their bazaar Monday evening, Dec. 11, at 8 o'clock, in their new church on Wall street. Auction sale and refreshments served. Everybody welcome. Bend, with several hundred more children than it had last year, is going to plan for a much bigger and better Christmas this year, and with this in view, the committees recently appointed by Mrs. C. S. Hudson, chairman of the Bend Benevolent association, are already beginning to lay plans for the second annual community Christmas tree, which will be held Saturday evening, December 23.

That Bend should have a bigger and better celebration than last year is the consensus of opinion of many of the members of the general committee. The city has been more prosperous, there will likely be a keener Christmas feeling, and it is hoped to give the children of the vicinity one big feast for their eyes and hearts.

Because there is a far larger number of children in this locality than last year, who will have to be included in the plans of the coming Christmas tree, the committees are going to have to conduct a more elaborate campaign, and provide in much larger quantities than last year. It is expected that the committee will raise approximately $500 with which to provide Christmas cheer.

The communities that will have charge of the Community Tree festivities this year are: Finance, H. C. Hartrauff, Mrs. C. S. Hudson, Mrs. N. G. Davis, Miss Esther Moore and Prof. F. Thordarson; program, Mrs. C. V. Silvis, Mrs. Ashley Forrest and Mrs. H. M. Greiner; Christmas tree, A. Whisman, T. H. Foley, R. W. Sawyer, H. J. Overturf and T. A. McCann; gifts, Mrs. Harry K. YOU WILL LIKE OUR NEW SERIAL The DAREDEVIL

By MARIA THOMPSON DAVIESS, the author of

"The Melting of Molly"

It is a spirited, quick moving dramatic story, deft in touch, gay with humor, strong with heart interest.

Her father had called her "Daredevil." She was tall for a woman and broad of shoulder. Her tresses clipped, the apparel of a young man secured, and Roberta, the marquise, becomes Robert Carruthers, a gay, stout hearted masquerader. And then—romance, intrigues, plots, dancing under the radiant southern moon, rides in the mountains with that flower of southern chivalry, the governor of Harpeth, and in the end—love!
