W. O. W. TO CHOOSE OFFICERS OF CAMP ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Another meeting of local Woodmen of the World, preliminary to the institution of a camp here, was held last night at Sather's hall, and a final meeting, at which will be held election of officers, is scheduled for Friday night, M. A. McEachern, organizer, announces. The organization so far effected is only temporary.

Institution ceremonies on the evening of December 29, will be conducted by E. P. Martin, Deputy Head Consul, and are expected to last from 7:30 o'clock until 10:30 in the evening, when a banquet will be served.

Many old members of the order, as well as a large list of new ones, will be numbered on the roster of the new camp.

BOY HAS MANIA FOR TORMENTING ANIMALS

To trade one boy from the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of Portland, for another who has been making his home with L. C. Young, near Bend, for some time past, was the purpose of a visit paid Bend last night by J. G. Kilpack, of the Portland institution. Mr. Young complained that the boy for whom he had first made a home, while a likeable little fellow in all other respects, had an obsession amounting almost to a mania for tormenting dumb creatures and that the stock on the ranch would run at his approach.

CHILDREN REHEARSE

Children's Chorus to Prepare for Celebration Friday.

Rehearsal for the children's chorus for the community Christmas tree will be held at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Baptist church, Mrs.
C. V. Slivis, who is in charge of the musical features, announced today.
The children practised this afternoon, and Mrs. Slivis states that they are doing very well indeed.
The chorus is expected to number at least 100 voices on the evening of Bend's holiday celebration.

At the Movies

Productions of the highest order are being offered to moving picture theatre goers these days. Jose Collins, in "A Woman's Honor," at the Grand Theatre Sunday and Monday nights, delighted big houses and provoked most favorable comments.
Pauline Frederick, in "The World's Great Snare," held up the reputation of the Paramount pictures. The pictures both have been worthy of high praise.

Bend Theatre.

Myrtle Stedman, chosen by the Pallas pictures to represent the "American Beauty," will be shown at the Bend tonight and Wednesday.
Miss Stedman is a beauty and she is given plenty of opportunity to manifest her charms in this gorgeous picture, of life as seen in a Bohemian art studio. Miss Stedman is shown in competition with many of the world's so-called beauties.

Grand Theatre.

The name of Clara Kimball Young always indicates quality and fine acting. Miss Young is to be seen tonight and Wednesday at the Grand theatre, in "The Rise of Susan," a play exceedingly wholesome, rich in gorgeous attire, and acting that is far above the average. "The Rise of Susan" is heralded as the "picture without a blush."
