WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 3, 1917.

Are we going to ask for the next Irrigation Congress for Bend?

Judge Barnes is making good as a marrying official, even though he is a bachelor.

Those battle scarred veterans of many a legislative campaign, General Economy and Major Efficiency, are again getting in the limelight.

Mr. Rockefeller's experts tell us the gasoline supply will be exhausted in 138 years. By that time perhaps prohibition will be world wide and alcohol will be used in the autos.

We hear a good deal about the cost of living being higher in Bend than in other Oregon towns. Probably Salem is about an average community so far as living expense goes, and very important items of everyday expense cost more there than they do in Bend. Wood for fuel, for instance, is considerably higher, water is higher and electricity is higher, especially for cooking purposes. Bend is a pretty fair place to live, no matter how you look at it.

LYCEUM COMING.

The next number in the Bend Lyceum course will be given at the Grand Theatre on January 8, the attraction being the Lyndon-S Gordon company, said to be two of the cleverest women entertainers on the platform. Miss Lyndon's part in the program is the singing of southern dark dialect songs, and Miss Gordon gives dialect impersonations.

Tickets for the entertainment are now on sale at the drug stores. Adults 50 cents, and children 35 cents.

CARD OF THANKS

I take this means of extending my heartfelt thanks to my friends who assisted in extinguishing the fire in the O'Kane building on Sunday night.

NEW CITY ATTORNEY TRIES FIRST CASE

John Maloney Pleads Guilty to Drunkenness—Says He Tried to Kill Cold With Whiskey.

City Attorney C. E. Benson had his first case in his new official capacity this morning, when John Maloney, a logger, was tried before Municipal Judge Ellis on a charge of drunkenness. Maloney entered a plea of guilty, and was fined $25, with an accompanying sentence of 10 days in the city jail.

The defendant declared that he had not taken a drink for two years, and said that last night he absorbed the better part of a quart of whiskey, only as a last attempt to get rid of an attack of la grippe. The attempt failed, he admitted, but the potency of the liquor was such that he lost his way home and fell into the basement of the Erickson boarding house, mistaking it for his home at the Minnesota.
 He was not seriously hurt.

CONFERENCE SECRET

Lansing Refuses to Tell Object of Call on Senator Stone.

By Robert J. Bender, (United Press Staff Correspondent.)
 WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3.—Secretary Lansing went to the capitol for a half hour's conference with Senator Stone today. He refused to discuss the object of his visit, but said that they talked over the question of raising $25,000,000, the purchase price of the Danish West Indies.

Senator Stone volunteered that no peace questions were discussed, but refused to listen to other questions.

DOGS AND CARS VIE IN VOSGES

ALASKAN DOGS DO VALUABLE WORK IN HOSPITAL SERVICE—SKIL CORPS REACHES DAZZLING HEIGHTS.

By Henry Wood,

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE VOSGES, Jan. 3.—With the return of heavy snow in the Vosges, Alaskan dog teams today are vying with the automobile drivers of the American Ambulance and the members of the Norwegian Red Cross Skil Corps for the honor of bringing in the greatest number of wounded.

The Alaskan sled dogs, gathered in the United States' most northern territory, constitute the latest "war material" being supplied from America to France. Although the Allies, through their supreme mastery of the seas, are able to gather war supplies in any and all parts of the world, the Alaskan dogs are conceded the honor of coming from the most distant point, and over the greatest distance, on which the Allies have yet been obliged to draw.

The original number of sled dogs brought to the Vosges from Alaska numbered about 500. These have bred and multiplied so rapidly that France now has at her disposal over 1000 dogs with all of the sleds and material necessary for performing an incredible amount of transport service in the snow clad altitudes of the Vosges.

It is principally in the Vosges that the members of the American Ambulance have been assigned to duty. Their light, speedy cars not only enable them to scale all the peaks on which roads have been built, but even to leave the roads themselves in the direction of the first line trenches for the purpose of picking up the wounded.

In these Alpine regions, however, there are hundreds of places which even the light American cars with their absolutely fearless collegian drivers cannot reach, and it is these districts that the Alaskan dog teams and the Norwegian Red Cross Skil corps come in for the bulk of the work. The Norwegian Skil corps, fully equipped for field ambulance work, volunteered its service to France, the same as the American Ambulance, and has already done valiant service.

The Alaskan dog service, however, was thought out and organized by
