

BUILDING READIED—The new $235,000 home of the U.S. National Bank of Portland, under construction since summer last year, will have grand opening Friday. Special features are being planned for the day, including music and gifts.

Work-college program adds new recruit

Newest recruit to the work-college program at the Bend branch of U.S. National Bank is Delvan Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Johnston, 600 E. 12th Street. To be graduated this June from Bend High School, he is now working part-time at the bank.

Bob Ellis, a 1962 Bend High School graduate, is presently employed at the Bend branch and due this fall for his first year of college.

The program, initiated by U.S. National in April, 1960, is designed to provide the bank with a "sustained yield" of college-educated men who have banking experience.

Since its establishment, 219 men have been enrolled in the program through the banking chain. At present, 84 are in various stages of the program, while 28 have received their degrees and are full-time bank employees. Of the 28, one is an assistant cashier, one is a manager and 10 are assistant managers.

A number of work-college participants have been chosen from Bend, including Miles Hutchins and Keith Miles, both graduates of the University of Oregon. Hutchins, a 1964 Bend High graduate, is now assistant manager for the bank's Drain branch. Miles, a 1966 Bend High graduate, is operations officer at the Tillamook branch.

This year 20 candidates were picked from 230 who were interviewed by officers of the bank's various branches. Selections are based on recommendations of the high school, on the students' abilities, their potential as future bankers and their need for financial support in college. The program is limited to high school seniors in communities where the bank has branches.

Entire internship in the program takes six years to complete. In that time, the participant alternately works a year and goes to school a year until completion of the program. Then he is offered a permanent position with the bank.

Each recipient is provided a scholarship amounting to approximately $1,500.

Prineville polio clinic tonight

PRINEVILLE — A polio clinic, sponsored by the Prineville Jaycees, is to be held tonight from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the Crook county nursing home.

The clinic is for everyone, it is emphasized by Sid Harper, chairman, and he urges those who have not received their polio shots, to take advantage of the clinic and the very nominal fee charged for the service.

Harper deplored the scant number of persons who went to the most recent clinic held last week.

Volunteers at tonight's clinic, in addition to members of the Jaycees, will be nurses from the staff of Pioneer Memorial Hospital. The doctor in attendance will be Dr. Evan Jones.

U.S. Bank opening recalls another one fifty years ago

By Ila S. Grant
Bulletin Staff Writer

History of nearly 50 years ago will be repeating itself, in part, when the Bend branch of U.S. National Bank of Portland opens its new building Friday. Visitors will be given flowers, and there will be music.

It was like that, on the corner of Bond Street and Oregon Avenue, on Dec. 30, 1913. The First National Bank, on the property where the new bank will have its drive-through area, was dedicated.

"Crowds of men and women streamed through all day and evening," The Bulletin reported in its January 1 issue. There was orchestra music, and carnations

Harry Johnson taken by death

Harry Johnson, 68, deputy in the office of former Deschutes County Sheriff Claude L. McCauley, died May 11 at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Palo Alto, Calif. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Zacher Mortuary chapel, Redmond.

Mr. Johnson was born Nov. 15, 1894, in Minneapolis, Minn. An Army veteran of World War I and a Marine Corps veteran of World War II, he first came to Central Oregon in 1918. He and the former Iva Melissa Rodman of Culver were married that year on April 17, in Vancouver, Wash. Mr. Johnson preceded her husband in death in 1956.

Mr. Johnson farmed in the Culver area, and operated restaurants at various times in Redmond, Madras and Portland. When he was a Deschutes county deputy sheriff, his wife was the county jail matron. They retired to Sun City, Ariz.

Surviving are a son, Carl Johnson, Phoenix, Ariz., and two daughters, Mrs. Peter J. (Louise) Robert, San Jose, Calif., and Mrs. Leland C. (Maxine) Jones, The Dalles. There are four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Eva Murray, and two brothers, Fred Johnson and Carl Johnson, all of Minneapolis.

Burial will be in the Gray Butte cemetery, Culver.

were given to the ladies; cigars to the men. The structure was described as "Bend's finest building." C. S. Hudson was cashier.

At the opening of the new U.S. National building, roses and carnations will be given to adults, and balloons to the children, and there will be both orchestra and organ music.

Although a bank building has stood at the corner of Bond and Oregon for half a century, the origin of the Bend branch of the U.S. National Bank was actually in 1936, when the need for additional banking facilities to serve the community moved a group of leading citizens to organize the Bank of Bend.

With a capitalization of $50,000, the bank opened its doors on October 1 of that year. At the end of business on the first day, the Bank of Bend had received $39,521.35 in deposits and had made loans amounting to $7,500.

Frank S. McGarvey, former president of the Lumbermen's National Bank, was president, and Clarence L. Mannheim was vice president. Carl B. Hoogner was cashier, and Eleanor Bechen and Duane Eames were assistant cashiers. Directors were Frank R. Prince, Carl E. Erickson, Fred S. Simpson, Mannheim and McGarvey.

In September, 1946, the Bank of Bend joined U.S. National's statewide system. Sumner Deitrick became manager of the branch at that time, three years later to be succeeded by Ben W. Fanning. John W. Stenkamp, who first joined the bank in 1939, became branch manager in January, 1960.

Commenting on the new branch quarters which will open tomorrow, Stenkamp said that he and the staff have looked forward to the day when they could provide the very latest in convenient and modern banking services for the Bend community.

"U.S. National's confidence in the continued growth of this area is exemplified by the construction of this new bank building," Stenkamp pointed out.

TO VISIT BANK — Charlie LaFranchise, "Uncle Charlie" of KPTV, will entertain and autograph pictures, at opening of U.S. National Bank's new Bend branch building Friday.

Scaled down budget for educational TV wins approval of Education subcommittee

SALEM (UPI) — A trimmed educational television budget of $966,900 — with a feature designed to stimulate state and local school participation — won legislative committee approval Wednesday.

The Ways and Means Education subcommittee voted for the sum, which is $57,100 less than the gov-error had proposed. Furthermore, $70,000 of the sum approved by the subcommittee would be available only if the higher education system, the education department, or local school districts put up $2 for each $1 of state money.

Rep. John Mosser, R-Beaverton, expressed hope that would encourage the state's school and college systems to take part more seriously in educational television. The subcommittee abandoned a proposal to put educational television and radio under an independent council and decided to leave it under higher education, where it is a semi-independent branch.

Cultural Broadcasts
Most of the money approved by the committee for the 1963-65 biennium, $666,900 of it, would go to the system for cultural broadcasts and its "college of the air."

Of the rest, $80,000 would go to higher education and $80,000 to the Department of Education for school programming. The effect of the budget approved by the subcommittee would be to hold back the expansion of the 5-year-old state educational television system, which had hoped to increase its broadcast hours. Educational radio is included in the budget.

The subcommittee indicated it may also approve $101,000 in state matching funds to construct the proposed Mary's Peak broadcasting facilities which would increase the range of ETV further up the Columbia River.

TB Hospitals Discussed
The subcommittee also discussed a new proposal on what to do about the state's two tuberculosis hospitals in Portland and Salem.

The legislators are trying to consolidate the operations. The governor suggested moving all patients to Salem for a $600,000 savings. Opponents replied most patients come from the Portland area, and the expert medical help is mainly at the Portland hospital.

The Portland hospital, however, is not large enough for all patients, now about 160. Rep. Ross Morgan, D-Gresham, revealed the Multnomah County Commission has expressed willingness to handle state patients at its county hospital and annex between Troutdale and Fairview, which would supplement the Portland hospital.

Morgan said the rate proposed by the county would save the state an additional $300,000. No action was taken.

Other Highlights
Milk — The Senate Agriculture Committee gave unanimous approval to the House-approved milk price control bill, plus a companion, and sent them to the floor for action.
Insurance — The House Tax Committee scheduled a hearing Friday on a bill to levy on domestic Oregon insurance companies a 6 per cent corporation excise tax.
