

BASEBALL JAMBOREE TODAY — Vince Genna, Bend city recreation director, illustrates the correct pitching manner to rookie leaguers at a clinic held this week. All youth baseball players will hold a jamboree today at Municipal Field. The little leagues will be in action this afternoon with the rookies taking over later in the day. The American Legion team has a single game with Sweet Home after the jamboree. Starting time is expected to be around 9 p.m.

Southerners plan drive to get JFK

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi and George C. Wallace of Alabama will appear at a fund-raising dinner here June 17 to kick off a Dixiecrat drive to defeat President Kennedy in the 1964 presidential race.

Barnett said those who attended the $25-per-plate dinner would be charter members of the "Southern Committee to Help Elect the Next President of the United States."

The money raised, he said, would be Mississippi's share to help pay the expenses for an unpledged electoral campaign. In the last presidential election, Mississippi elected independent electors who cast their ballots for Sen. Harry Byrd, D-Va.

"The south, by working together, will hold the balance of power in selecting the next president of the United States," Barnett said.

Louisiana and Alabama, he said, "already put up their part of the money and several other states are raising their part. We need the assistance of all Mississippians in order to be able to put our dollars on the line," he said. He did not identify the other states.

Barnett said the main speaker would be Tom Anderson of Birmingham, Ala., editor of the Farm and Ranch magazine. Wallace has accepted his invitation to appear "and will bring a special message from the people of Alabama," he said.

Under the plan, the unpledged electors, by denying both major candidates their votes, would prevent either from getting a majority of electoral votes in a close election. The election would be thrown into the U.S. House of Representatives, where Barnett says a "conservative" might win.

Rocky, bride get settled

TARRYTOWN, N.Y. (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and his bride began getting "settled" today following their 19-day honeymoon in Venezuela and the Caribbean.

Rockefeller and his wife, the former Margaretta (Happy) Fitter Murphy, returned home by commercial jetliner Thursday night from San Juan, Puerto Rico. They made a forced landing there earlier in the day when the plane they were on developed minor mechanical trouble on a flight from the Virgin Islands.

Rockefeller, regarded by many as the top possibility for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, held a brief news conference in New York City during which he ignored all questions concerning the effect of his marriage on his political career.

He said their only immediate plans were to "get settled" at the governor's private estate in Pocantico Hills near here. A limousine took the Rockefellers to the estate after the news conference.

'Golden Palm' won by film

CANNES, FRANCE (UPI)—"The Leopard," an Italian movie directed by Luchino Visconti, won the Cannes International Film Festival's top award, the "Golden Palm," Thursday night.

Irish actor Richard Harris was named the best actor for his brash portrayal of a rugby hero in Britain's "This Sporting Life."

African heads of state agree on charter for new organization

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (UPI)—African heads of state agreed today on a charter for an organization of African states to replace rival blocs that have split this emerging continent.

The new organization's temporary headquarters was expected to be in Addis Ababa.

While discussing the charter, the heads of state decided to change the name of the new organization from the Organization of African and Malagasy States to the Organization of African Unity, according to conference sources.

Conference sources said the charter creating the organization is being approved article by article. It will be signed in a public ceremony later today.

The charter was drafted by the foreign ministers of Ethiopia, Nigeria, Ghana, Cameroun, Senegal and Egypt during the past three days at the insistence of the heads of state.

The organization will consist of: An assembly of kings, presidents and premiers which will meet at least once a year and pass resolutions by a two-thirds majority.

A council of ministers which will meet at least twice a year and also adopt resolutions by a two-thirds majority.

A permanent staff headed by a secretary-general and one or more assistants.

A mediation and conciliation commission, which will be established by a separate treaty. Pledge member states to settle disputes among themselves by peaceful means.

The official languages of the organization will be English and French.

The assembly of heads of state will establish five special agencies. They are:

An economic and social commission, composed of the ministers of economic and social affairs of member states.

An educational and cultural commission composed of their education ministers.

A health, sanitation and nutrition commission composed of their health ministers.

A defense council composed of defense ministers which will recommend the preparations they consider necessary for collective defense and the measures of military collaboration they believe advisable for collective security.

A scientific, technical and research council.

The leaders who are voting on the charter include one emperor, one king, one crown prince, 23 presidents and two premiers.

Approval of the charter is regarded as a victory for leaders who favor a step-by-step approach to unification of the continent rather than an attempt at "unity now."

The federal complaint asked for both preliminary and permanent injunctions preventing Wallace, his agents, employees, subsidiaries or successors from interfering with the enrollment and attendance of qualified Negroes at the University.

This would include not only Vivian Malone and David McGlathery, who are scheduled to start the summer term next month, but any qualified Negro student.

In Montgomery, Ala., Wallace had no immediate comment. Birmingham was quiet with Negro leaders voicing some skepticism as they waited for some "direct progress" in race relations.

Injunction is sought

By United Press International
A federal court in Birmingham, Ala., today was asked to issue an injunction blocking Gov. George Wallace from carrying out his vow to "stand in the school house door" when two Negroes enter the University of Alabama June 10.

Att. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy announced in Washington that an immediate court test was desired on Wallace's announced position of "legal resistance and legal defiance" of federal court orders to admit the two Negroes.

Federal Judge Seymour H. Lynn set a hearing for June 3 to show cause why the injunction sought by the government should not be issued.

New husband for Dinah Shore?

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Attorneys for singer Dinah Shore picked up her final divorce papers from actor George Montgomery Friday in Superior Court.

The act touched off rumors that Miss Shore, 45, planned to marry again. A spokesman for the singer said she was in Palm Springs, Calif., and that he knew of no wedding plans.

Shore and Palm Springs contractor Maurice Smith have been seen together frequently.

The singer was granted an interlocutory divorce last year. It became final when the decree was picked up.

THE RIGHT IDEA

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI)—About Face, the weekly newspaper of the state penitentiary, warned bachelor prisoners, who may plan marriage when they are freed, about rising living costs outside the walls.

"It would therefore be expedient to future success," the paper said Friday, "to refrain from marriage until your intended spouse is earning a substantial salary."
