R. J. Sullivan loses license

The license of Richard J. Sullivan, accountant, was revoked by the Oregon State Board of Accountancy for the current license year, for his conviction of willfully failing to file income tax returns with the U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, for the calendar years 1957 and 1958.

Sullivan has maintained a practice for several years in Bend.

The action was taken by the board at its meeting May 20 in the year ending this June 30. The announcement was made public by Helen Bishop, executive secretary for the board.

The law specifies that the board may re-instate or re-issue a license under such circumstances, after the period of suspension.

Municipal court fines assessed

Two persons paid fines amounting to $45 plus court costs in municipal court session Wednesday.

Carl Wesley Dykeman, Bend, was assessed $20 on charges of being intoxicated on a public street.

Vaughn Brian Carty, 18, 2053 W. Seventh, was fined $25 for being a minor in possession of alcoholic beverages.

25 lightning strikes noted

A thunder storm in the Fort Rock area Wednesday night caused about 25 lightning strikes but as of noon today had resulted in no forest fires, the Deschutes National Forest supervisor's office announced today.

Don Peters disclosed that "quite a shower" accompanied the thunder and lightning, totalling approximately .12 inches of rain.

Welborn cited by city police

John Edward Welborn, 1135 Harmon Boulevard, was cited by city police Thursday on a violation of the basic rule charge. Bail was fixed at $50.

Two citations were issued early this morning to George Dock, Portland, who posted $7.50 bail for making an illegal reverse turn, and Lloyd Cazier, 1115 Cumberland, charged with having no operator's license, with $7.50 bail.

Winners in Bachelor Butte Mardi Gras are announced

Though the weather was cooler and the participants less than last year, Memorial Day's gala Mardi Gras on Bachelor Butte produced its share of color.

Costumes of a Gay Nineties theme, ranged from sedate dress to Klondike garb, as jovial skiers turned out for yesterday's fun fest and ski season finale in expected form.

James McClain and his family won the grand sweepstakes award. Mr. and Mrs. McClain and their children: Steve 11, Maria 7, and Stan 11, reside at 1052 East Third Street, Bend.

They were dressed as an "old fashioned wedding party."

In the group or family category, however, it was the family of Dr. Grant Wiggins of Prineville that got the award. Dressed as the "Pistol Crik Fire Department," the family was awarded a $50 gift certificate at Wetle's store.

Second in the category was the Jack Meissner family of Bend. They appeared on the slopes adorned in the Klondike garb of "Snowshoe Thompson" and family. Third prize went to "Silent Squaw and Yancy Derringer," Mrs. Bill Healy and Charles Kreider, both of Bend.

Bernard Duberow's family took fourth dressed as, "the old-fashioned family."

Junior Awards

Five prizes were awarded in the category housing boys and girls under 12 years of age. John Snider, Bend, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester J. Snider, 364 E. Greenwood Avenue, took the top prize. His award was a season pass at the Tower movie theater in Bend.

Second and third prizes went to the twin girls of Bend's Joe Ward family. Jackie and Joanne were dressed as a "school marm" and "dance hall belle."

Lisa Haffner of Eugene, dressed as a "sunshine girl" took fifth place, and Mark Metke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Metke, Bend, took fourth place when he appeared clad as Bat Masterson.

There were some individual adult awards, too.

Perhaps the most amazing (and perhaps misleading) was the garb worn by fourth-place, 13-year-old Dan Carty. He was robed as a frontier housewife.

Healy Winner

Bill Healy, however, was named the winner. He appeared as a Civil War era cavalry officer. He was awarded a $50 gift certificate at Skjersaa Ski Haus. Second place went to "Wyatt Earp," Ron Radabaugh.

Dr. Robert L. Cutter, dressed as a prospector, took third.

A new event, the Win Kreider ski contest, had its "youngest" and "oldest" successful skiers. (The contest requires that all entries ski down the rope tow hill in two tries or less, with the youngest and oldest getting the specified honors.)

Timothy Cutter, 4½, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert L. Cutter, Bend, won a set of skis, poles and binders for being the youngest. Ray Hafstad, 66, Bend, won a ski sweater from Wetle's for being the oldest.

Rotarians see film on Baker

Rotarians Wednesday saw a film on Terry Baker, Oregon State University's all - American, at their weekly meeting.

The film was sponsored by the United States National Bank. Gary Raper, bank representative, showed the film. He was introduced by program chairman Roland Anderson.

Visiting Rotarians were Vic Maksente, Patterson, Calif.; John Bauer, Redmond, and Jan Kurahara, Hood River. The meeting was presided over by Coyner.

Summer reading program set

Special to The Bulletin

MADRAS — Starting date for the annual Children's Summer Reading program at the Jefferson County Library has been set for June 17, it was announced this week by spokesmen for the Jefferson County Library Association.

The six week reading incentive program is designed for boys and girls through the sixth grade and offers awards to students reading a minimum of 10 books during the period.

Plans also call for a story hour for pre-schoolers with details to be announced.

'Jam session' due on Sunday

Seven orchestras and bands of Central Oregon will participate in a local union musicians' "jam session" scheduled by the Bend Eagles at 4 p.m. Sunday, June 2, in the Aerie Hall, 121 Greenwood.

No fee will be charged but musicians will accept donations for their charity fund which provides musical instruments for needy children, reports Aerie President William Edwards.

Dinners will be served all Sunday afternoon, and Eagles are urged to attend with a guest.

Action taken by planners

The Deschutes County Planning Commission Wednesday night took preliminary action or made final approval of several plats for subdivisions, or extension of existing ones. There was also discussion of the long-range planning program, for which the group has asked $3,500 of county funds for 1963-64.

The plan calls for participation with Bend and Redmond, with the possibility of a professional employe. This would be another federally supported program, with the federal government to more than match the county and local money.

The long-range program would consist of such things as industrial and recreation development, subdivision supervision, zoning and a building permit system.

Subdividers represented at the meeting were Cliff Ullman, a surveyor in the Sisters area, and the following in the LaPine area: Glenn Anderson, Anderson Acres; Arletta Ann Jacobson, Holmes Acres; C. V. Reeve, LaPine Resort Tract, and Harriman, Swanson and Mayfield, Redmond, Deschutes Recreation Homesites.

Planning Commissioner members present were Don Conner, chairman; Bradley Fancher, Dr. James Smith, James Keller, Del Davis, Chester Myers and Robert Sterling, county agent, secretary. Ex-officio members attending were A. W. Westfall, tri-county sanitarian, and Aubrey Perry, Deschutes county surveyor.

Need for law digest cited by long-time area lawyer

By Ila S. Grant
Bulletin Staff Writer

Two delegations asking for money, and a long-time Central Oregon attorney asking for observance of a statute to increase the law library fund, were among visitors at the county budget committee meeting Wednesday night.

George H. Brewster, of a Redmond law firm, pointed out that he lobbied a bill to permit Central Oregon counties to increase filing fees from 20 per cent to 40 per cent, to take care of current additions to the law library. The Deschutes county court had increased the fee only 30 per cent. This does not require a budget item, he said; only a motion by the county court.

Brewster has been a member of the Bar Association's law library committee for many years. He was given $330 to bring the file of Pacific Reporters up to date. He resolved, he said, on his last visit to the budget board several years ago, never to ask for another cent. He said, too, that he thinks each member of the Central Oregon Bar Association should contribute $5 monthly toward the law library fund.

Now the county needs a digest (an index) for the Pacific Reporters. This costs $675, but would be cheaper if purchased before July 1. There is only $174 left in the law library fund. Brewster suggested that the court make the purchase on a contract, and pay for it out of increased receipts from the filing fees. At times, the county has been in debt as much as $18,000 for the law library, he said.

District Attorney Louis Selken, who was also present and is a member of the law library committee, verified the need for the index, and said that it would also be advantageous to have the citators, which are more expensive but would be a permanent addition.

Sgt. Lowell Hirtzel of the Oregon State Police was spokesman for the fair board and fair association delegation, asking for $5,000 for a continuing building program at the fairgrounds in Redmond. The fair backers are fearful of losing the pari-mutuel betting money, which has been a major source of fair financing. Buildings are in disrepair, and use of the National Guard Armory adjacent to the fairgrounds is not always possible, they said.

There has been some discussion of a tri-county area fair, and expansion of the Redmond facilities would put Deschutes county in good shape in this event, the spokesman said.

The county has set aside a large area east of Redmond, on the Prineville highway, for possible fairgrounds development. John Stenkamp of the budget board questioned improvement of the present grounds, which has increasing commercial value potential. Claude Tate of the fair group said that development of the county land, which is not cleared and has no water, would be so expensive that this is out of the question at present.

It was decided to request the fair group to prepare a specific building program, before any action is taken. Others in the fair delegation were Carl Galloway, Roy Newell and Howard Mayfield.

A group from the County Planning Commission, which also met Wednesday night, appeared to back up its request for $3,500 for planning in the 1963-64 tax year. Last year $2,500 was budgeted, but little was used. Donald Conner, chairman, was the spokesman.
