

Transfer of catcher Brumley bad for Seattle

Catcher Mike Brumley refused at first to report to Spokane earlier this season after the Los Angeles Dodgers farmed him out and the Seattle Rainiers could be sorry today that he changed his mind.

Reluctant Mike fired Spokane to a 12th inning, 2-1 victory over the Rainiers Thursday night by crashing a triple and then racing home on a wild pitch.

In other action, Tacoma split a twin bill with Portland to remain on top of the Northern Division by four games. San Diego belted Denver, 8-3, and moved to within two percentage points of first place Dallas-Fort Worth in the Southern scramble, and Hawaii swept a pair from Salt Lake city which now has lost 15 straight. Oklahoma city bested Dallas-Fort Worth in the other holiday game, 4-3.

Heffner had hurled 11 innings of the fine ball for Seattle then was tagged by Brumley for the fatal triple. The next two batters drew intentional walks. John Boyle then was sent in to relieve and delivered the wild pitch that ruined Heffner and the Suds. The victory went to Ken Rowe (4-3) who took over for Norman Koch in the 11th.

Jose Santiago held Tacoma to four hits while pitching Portland to a 3-0 shutout in the opener of their twin bill, but the Giants slugged back with 11 safeties in the nightcap and won it, 8-3.

Tacoma's Johnny Rivas was the loser in the first game. He had rolled up five wins without a setback. Home runs by Jim Ray Hart and Jesus Alou carried lefty Jim Constable to victory in the second game after he survived a rough first inning.

San Diego, which mopped up the PCL last season, handled the Denver Bears, 8-3, on a six-hitter by Sammy Ellis and Rogelio Alvarez's three-run homer. The blast came off loser Dennis Ribant. J. W. Porter and Wade Blasingame, who is paid to pitch, homered for the losers.

A bases loaded homer run by Tom Satriano and Bill Knoop's clutch single insured Hawaii its sweep over the Bees. Hawaii took the opener of the split twin bill, 9-4, in Provo as Satriano's slam led away Dick Sovde's third win in eight verdicts. The blow came off Morrie Stevens, now 2-6.

Veteran Stan Palys clubbed a home run for Hawaii after the ride back to Salt Lake City for the nightcap. But it was Knoop, another minor league journeyman who singled across the tie-breaking run in the eighth. The loser was workhorse Gordy Seyfried whose mark now is 2-8.

Oklahoma City put the wood to Joe Bonikowski for five hits and three runs in the first inning before ancient George Bamberger was wheeled in to retire the 89ers in 1-2-3 order. However, the former New York Giants hurler was tagged for two singles and what proved to be the winning run in the fourth, Johnny Weekly led the Oklahomaans with a pair of run-scoring singles while Ray Jablonski homered for the Rangers.

Snell out to break own 880 mark tonight

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Peter Snell, holder of the world mile record, takes a crack at his half-mile mark of 1:45.1 tonight in the Southern Pacific Amateur Athletic Union (SPA)U meet.

The New Zealander will be opposed by Jim Grelle, the 1963 Pan American games 1,500-meter champion; Jim Durvee, former Olympian from Southern Illinois; John Dunkelberg of Charlotte, N.C.; and Warren Farlow of the Southern California Striders.

Snell, who ran a 3:54.9 last weekend at Modesto, Calif., will run his next mile race at the Compton (Calif.) Relays June 7.

The Modesto performance was only five-tenths of his world mark and was the third fastest time in a recorded history.

Among other track stars will be Jim Beatty, who ran third to Snell at Modesto. Beatty will compete in the mile at the SPAU meet held at Occidental College against George Jessup of Los Angeles State, Darryl Taylor of Long Beach State and Leroy Neal and Bill Anderson of Occidental.

Bend Legion splits 2 with Clackamas nine

By Web Robie

Bulletin Staff Writer

Bend's American Legion baseball team, bolstered this season by the addition of two players from Madras and two from Redmond, split a Memorial Day doubleheader yesterday at the municipal ball park.

Clackamas was the victim in the first one, 4-2, but the visitors came on strong in the ninth and tenth innings to emerge victorious in the nightcap, 9-7.

Bend led no question about the outcome in the first one as the local Legionnaires clubbed home three runs in the second inning and another in the fourth.

Glenn Cook went four and a third innings on the mound for the locals and was credited with the win. Paul Wardlaw, who relieved him in the fifth, tossed four strikeouts in the final two frames to ensure the Bend victory.

Cook began to weaken in that fifth frame, when the visiting Clackamas nine (and there were only nine that made the trip) got to him for two runs. Cook allowed only one hit, but walked three.

Bend's big second inning began with the first man up, Don Watrous of Redmond. Watrous got aboard on an error by the Clackamas left fielder. Then after Dave Shelton and George Woodworth flew and grounded out respectively, pitcher Cook came to the batter's box and rapped a single, advancing Watrous to third. Clark took a base on balls and loaded the sacks.

Jerry Wetle thus proved to be what the doctor ordered for Bend, he stepped to the plate and brought the boys home for three tallies and what became the winning run.

Cook got one hit for two trips to the plate. Larry Barnes of Madras and Wetle went one for three. Besides Wetle's three-bagger, Barnes contributed a double.

Clackamas hit the ball even less, except for two of their batters. Third baseman Nelson got three hits in four tours in the batter's box. Simer, second sack minder, went two for four. There were no extra base hits, however.

In his four innings plus, Cook tossed seven strikeouts. Dugger, with no pitcher either in the bull pen or the dugout in reserve, went the distance for the visitors and was credited with the loss. He allowed only five hits. Cook allowed four, and Wardlaw, his reliever, allowed one.

In the nightcap, Coach Bill Bauer watched victory slip from his grasp in the waning moments of the game, as Clackamas scored four runs in the final two innings.

Coached by Bauer's brother-in-law, Dwayne Helbig, Clackamas exploded for two runs in the ninth to tie it up, and two more in the tenth for the win.

Harding, Clackamas' catcher, Nelson and Simer all collected doubles in their bat tours to all but drive Bend reliever Wetle from the mound. On the strength of these extra base hits, the visitors knotted the contest at 7-7.

Bend then came to bat, and it was four up and three down for the locals. Watrous' single to left went to no avail. Clackamas, came right back for two more and the win in the top of the tenth. An error on Larry Barnes put left fielder Dugger aboard. Dugger stole second, and Harding brought him home when he rapped a single. Nelson then stepped to the batter's box and did the same to score Harding. Watrous made an amazing catch against the Clackamas dugout to retire the side.

Big Bill Bauer of Madras came onto the mound in that last frame with one down. The last two Clackamas tallies were of him and he was credited with the loss.

Bend's only chance to get back died with a double play. Doug Williams had kept Bend's hopes alive when he banged a single but accounted for the third out when he was doubled off first. Derald Parsons from Redmond hit a line drive right at the Clackamas second baseman, who caught it and threw to first for the double kill.

This weekend Bend treks over the hump to Sweet Home for a pair of doubleheaders in the Santiam city. Last weekend, Bend dropped two to them here and won one.

Twins flex muscles, sport best winning spree (10)

By United Press International

Puzzle: Which Minnesota Twin has the muscles—the hitter or the pitcher?

Answer: They both do. And they are the twin reasons why today the club that was transplanted from the banks of the Potomac to the headwaters of the Mississippi is cruising along on a 10-game winning streak, longest spree in club history since their Washington Senator ancestors won 17 straight in 1912.

Victory No. 10, by 3-2 over the new-type Washington Senators on Memorial Day, stressed the fact that pitchers as well as sluggers have built this streak.

Not only did Camilo Pascual pitch the Twins' seventh complete game in the last eight but he also knocked in the winning run in the last half of the ninth inning with a sacrifice fly. It was a bit dinky compared to Twin Bob Allison's homer in the second inning—the Twins' 16th homer in the last six games—but it did the job and delivered pinch runner Johnny Goryl from third base.

Allows Eight Hits

Pascual, who scattered eight hits and fanned eight batters, has pitched three wins in the current streak and won six of his last seven games. In the last eight games of the streak, Twins' opponents have scored more than three runs only once.

After a dismal 13-21 start, the 10 straight wins have carried the Twins to the top of the American League's second division and put them two games over the .500 mark.

There was only one holiday doubleheader in the AL, the Chicago White Sox sweeping two from the Cleveland Indians, 8-4 and 4-2, to give the Indians seven losses in the last eight games.

In single games, the Kansas City A's turned on old nemesis Steve Barber and beat the Baltimore Orioles 7-2; the New York Yankees moved within two games of first place by beating Boston 6-5 in 10 innings; and Hank Aguirre of the Detroit Tigers blanked the Los Angeles Angels 3-0 on a four-hitter.

In the National League, Milwaukee beat Los Angeles 7-4, St. Louis downed Houston 7-5, and San Francisco beat Cincinnati 5-4 in single games, and in twin bills Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 7-1 before the Phils won the nightcap 6-5, and New York beat Chicago 2-1 after losing the opener 12-0.

Pitches Shutout Ball

Three innings of shutout relief hurling by Hoyt Wilhelm in the opener and a four-inning dose of the same medicine in the second game cemented the White Sox' sweep over the Indians.

Small college NAIA thinclads squaring off

SIoux Falls, S.D. (UPI) —A class of small college sprinters lined up today to qualify in the preliminary rounds of the 12th annual National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) track and field meet.

Meet observers were expecting more records to be broken in sprint events than in any other phase of the two-day tournament, hosted here for the fifth consecutive year.

While sprinters were going through the preliminary rounds, finals will be held in the discus, broad jump and three-mile run.

The marks in the discus and broad jump appear to be safe from tournament competitors. Top efforts in the discus throw have come from Stan Sander of Whittier (Calif.) College with a 174-foot, 7-inch mark. The record is 185-feet, 3 1/2 inches. Maryland State's Charlie Mays has made the best effort in the broad jump with 25 feet, 7 inches, against a record of 25 feet, 7 1/4 inches.

Malcom Robinson of Southwest Louisiana State could set a new time for the three-mile run. Thus far this season, Robinson has paced the distance in 14:10.9, bettering the record of 14:11.4.

But the most formidable field of competitors remains in the short distances. Several small school athletes have bettered the NAIA records in the 100, 220 and 440-yard dashes during the regular season.

Semifinals in the 100 and 200-yard dashes tonight will narrow the field for Saturday's finals.

Final bell saves Von Clay

GLASGOW, Scotland (UPI) — Only the final bell saved Von Clay of Philadelphia from suffering a knockout at the hands of British and Empire light-heavyweight champion Chic Calderwood Thursday night.

Calderwood, who lost to Clay two years ago, won the 10-round decision.

But he nearly had a knockout victory when he floored Clay under a flurry of punches in the closing seconds of the 10th round. Referee Frank Wilson had just reached the count of eight when the bell rang to end the bout.

It was Calderwood's 35th win in 38 fights and Clay's 10th loss in 29 bouts.

CONLAN MISSES GAME

NEW YORK (UPI) — Umpire Jocko Conlan missed Thursday's doubleheader between the New York Mets and the Chicago Cubs because of a bad head cold. He was confined to bed.

OSU shocks track world, beats UO

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) — Rising track power Oregon State upset Oregon on the latter's track in a stunning 76-66 upset Thursday.

Oregon, defending national champion, had only lost one other national title. The Ducks' downed Oregon State in an earlier meeting.

Pivotal events were the distance events where the Beavers' Morgan Groth took wins in 4:04.3

and 9:13.7. Oregon's sub-four minute miler Keith Forman returned to action after being sidelined with a sore foot and clocked 4:04.5, good for only third place.

Meet records fell when Gary Stenlund of Oregon State pegged the javelin 250 feet 1 1/2 inches and Oregon's Paul Stuber high jumped 6 feet 11 1/2 inches.

Each team took eight firsts, but Beaver depth brought victory.

Favorite Parnelli Jones wins Indianapolis '500'

By Ed Sainsbury

UPI Staff Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Auto racing's old era hasn't died, but the new one has begun.

Parnelli Jones, the youthful favorite, Thursday won the richest 500-mile auto race ever run—in record time, at record speed, and for a record purse.

He rode the old car and a standard racing engine of design and power in use at the track for years. He averaged 143.137 miles per hour.

But he beat a Scotsman, grand prix sports car driver Jimmy Clark, by only 34 seconds. Clark, in a rear-engine car powered by a Ford stock motor, averaged 142.752 miles per hour.

Clark Challenges Strongly

Clark challenged so strongly in the last few laps that once he trailed Jones, a 29-year-old crew-cut racing star from California, by only 3 1/2 seconds.

Clark was bitter over the defeat. His manager, car designer Colin Chapman, complained that Jones made gains under the yellow light, supposed to slow the field, and thus gained the advantage to win.

But Jones said he did not gain under the yellow. He tried only to protect himself, he said. In the final 20 laps, Eddie Sachs spun twice, and Roger McCluskey, half a lap away from third place, once.

McCluskey's mishap, which put him out of the race, came in front of Jones while the winner was on his last lap.

"McCluskey cut in under me," he said, "and spun, and I didn't know what was going to happen. I saw an opening and I just gunned it and got out of there."

Madison tops Pendleton, 5-0

PORTLAND (UPI) — Madison of Portland, McKenzie and Crow used strong pitching performances to win state prep baseball titles at Multnomah Stadium Thursday.
