EUGENE (UPI)—Wesley L. Robertson, Creswell, was injured seriously Thursday when his pickup truck collided with a Southern Pacific freight train one-half mile south of Goshen.

Robertson was pinned in the cab of his truck and firemen from Goshen and Springfield required 45 minutes to free him. He was reported in fair condition at Sacred Heart Hospital here.

The accident occurred at a crossing on State Highway 226.

House spurns subsidy cuts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate was considered almost certain today to follow the House in defeating attempts to economize on subsidy payments to farmers.

An administration effort to do this failed by 12 votes in the House when Democratic leaders deserted President Kennedy on the issue.

On a 120-108 vote, the House refused to eliminate the extra $100 million for conservation payments which the appropriation committee had put into a $6 billion agriculture appropriation bill. A later vote approved the measure, 268-79.

The bill would force the government to maintain spending for conservation subsidies at $230 million next year. Kennedy had recommended that the 1964 program be cut to $150 million.

Testimony on pest-killing chemicals due

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Administration officials are expected to testify next week on legislation aimed at tightening controls over use of pest-killing chemicals.

The Senate Commerce Committee called off a scheduled session today at which Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall and presidential science adviser Jerome B. Wiesner were to testify. They probably will appear next week.

Rachel Carson, whose best seller "Silent Spring" began a national controversy on the use of insecticides, has told the committee more research is needed on the chemicals because too little is known about their possible harmful effects on all forms of life.

Wiesner already has warned Congress that more research was needed on the potential dangers of such chemicals. Unlimited use of such pesticides, he said, might in time present a danger as great as that of radioactive fallout.

Other congressional news: Sugar: A congressional investigator looking into changing sugar prices predicted another rise in sugar prices before the year is out. Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, said prices would go up because of underproduction throughout the world.

Tax: The House Ways & Means Committee Thursday turned down President Kennedy's request that Congress end what he called "an undue tax advantage" for oil and gas producers. Kennedy had hoped to produce more than $135 million in new federal revenues by changing tax rules for oilmen, including that governing application of the 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance.

Shoot-to-kill orders issued

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI)—The shah issued shoot-to-kill orders Thursday to thousands of troops manning tanks and machine guns battling to suppress a planned revolt against his regime.

The death toll rose to an officially-admitted 86 persons killed and 150 injured in three days of riots by Moslem extremists rebelling against the shah's land and female suffrage reforms.

Premier Assadollah Alam said—"Reactionary elements are planning a revolution."

He said the government had evidence the rebels planned to sabotage the nation's communications, water systems, schools and other facilities.

He said, however, plot ringleaders have been arrested and will be tried by special military courts established under martial law in Tehran.

The shah's security chiefs reported shop-smashing and auto-burning rioting in the southern city of Shiraz. They told UPI the spread of the rioting from Tehran to the provinces indicated a well-organized plot against the shah's regime.

Firing still echoed through the littered capital streets as an estimated 7,000 troops rumbled about, trying to stamp out the embers of Wednesday's screaming demonstrations.

However, government officials said the jump in the death toll—more than triple the fatality number listed Wednesday—was due to injured dying in hospitals Wednesday night and this morning.

DIABETES CONTROL
NEW YORK (UPI)—Many average overweight diabetics have higher than normal levels of insulin and treatment which increases body insulin can aggravate their obesity problem, according to a report in "Metabolism," a medical journal.

The report said the new anti-diabetic pill, DBI, acts to lower blood sugar without increasing body insulin and therefore fat.

Stocks of food fats continue at high level

By Gaylord P. Godwin
UPI Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department says stocks of food fats continue large despite record domestic consumption plus increased exports during the first half of the current marketing year.

The Department said prospects for the second half (April-September) are for normal seasonal declines in output and domestic consumption, although running above year - earlier levels. Prospects for exports of fats and oils and for soybeans during the second half of 1962-63 are strong.

Production of food fats during October, 1962-March 1963, was 4 per cent greater than the year-earlier record. The Department said the gain mainly reflected increases in soybean oil and lard, which more than offset a decline in butter.

Domestic consumption of food fats during the first half of the marketing year was a record 4.7 billion pounds. The Department said growth in population accounted for part of the rise, but consumption per person also was higher. The biggest increase in consumption was in salad and cooking oils and shortening. Per capita use of butter, margarine, and lard was about the same.

Exports of food fats in October-March totaled 2.2 billion pounds, up 7 per cent from the same period a year earlier. The Department said increased shipments of soybeans, soybean oil, and butter more than offset reductions in lard and cottonseed oil.

Agriculture exports for the first nine months of fiscal 1963 totaled $3,665,000,000, down 3 per cent from the $3,786,000,000 worth of farm exports in the comparable period a year earlier.

The Department said foreign developments had a substantial influence on the size of U.S. farm exports during the July - March period. A large increase in world wheat production cut U.S. wheat exports sharply from the previous year's record.

The Common Market's system of variable import levies cut deeply into imports of U.S. products, especially poultry meat, wheat flour, and to some extent wheat.

Visit cancelled by Reischauer

MATSUMOTO, Japan (UPI)—Edwin O. Reischauer, U.S. ambassador to Japan, canceled a scheduled visit to Shindzu University here Thursday because its students refused to meet him.

Reischauer had planned to talk to the students on general affairs during his tour of central Japan.

The student governing body decided at a special meeting not to receive the ambassador because the students suspected he would try to dissuade them from opposing U.S. nuclear submarine visits to Japanese ports.

WANT TATTOOS OUTLAWED

BARROW, England (UPI)—Schoolmasters have asked the government to make it illegal to tattoo a child under 16 without parental consent.

H. Cunliffe, headmaster of Risedale secondary school, said Thursday he was shocked to find seven boys in a physical training class had tattoos, including one with "a naked woman along his forearm."

Three of five young cave explorers walk to safety

VALLON PONT D'ARC, France (UPI)—Three of five young cave explorers who were trapped in a deep cavern by a flooding river since Monday walked out under their own power today.

A fourth was drowned and a fifth was still missing.

Squinting in the glaring daylight, and weak from hunger, the youths told rescuers that one man had been swept away and a fifth was "back there."

The three survivors were rushed to the hospital here before they were able to explain how they survived.

Searchers gave up the hunt temporarily for the fifth man, who was swept away by the flood Monday, because of the still swift and powerful current of the stream.

The youths, all from Lyons, entered a long 311-foot-deep cavern with three other men and their wives Sunday.

The married couples emerged the same night, fearing that the stream was rising too fast for security's sake. The youths said they would stay until noon Monday.

This morning near 8 a.m. one of the three survivors climbed down from a perch above the flow

RECOGNIZE TOGO

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has recognized the government of Togo.

The State Department said Thursday the United States believes elections and adoption of a new constitution in May plus assurances that the new government of President Nicholas Grunitzky would honor international obligations constituted "a basic democratic rule in Togo."

where he had waited since Monday. He struggled toward the mouth of the cave and shouted at the sight of a lamp on a rescuer's helmet. The entrance was just 45 feet away from where they were trapped but the youths could not fight the stream during its peak.

Emile Cheilletz, 24, Jacques Delacour, 18, and Alain Besacier, 24, survived. Before being rushed to the hospital they said one of their friends, Jean Dupont, 21, was still in the cave.

Later, it was learned they meant he was there, but drowned. Dupont had lost his footing and fell into the water Monday, but he was not swept away. The fifth man, Bernard Rassy, 27, had been carried off by the current in the first crush of the flood Monday.

'hot line' still not firmed

GENEVA (UPI)—Soviet disarmament negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin said today negotiation "is not finished" on the proposed "hot line" link between Washington and the Kremlin.

He was commenting on reports that a draft agreement on the line had been completed by U.S. and Soviet technical experts here and submitted to Washington and Moscow for approval. The reports also said that President Kennedy had approved the draft agreement.

Tsarapkin told reporters "not everything is settled" yet on the projected teletype link designed to rule out accidental war.

Reports of the draft agreement came from informed sources both here and in Washington Thursday, and delegates to the 17-nation disarmament conference today were awaiting Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's final word.

Tsarapkin was careful not to deny the accuracy of the reports. His remark that "not everything is settled as of this moment" was taken to mean Khrushchev's and the Soviet government's final approval is still outstanding. But he inferred the possibility of further talks.

The line will consist of a teletype landline routed through Helsinki, Stockholm and London from the Kremlin to the National Command Center in Washington. From the center it will continue directly to the White House.
