Boxers eager for title shot

NEW YORK (UPI) — Light heavyweights command the most attention on this week's boxing schedule although a junior welterweight title bout is slated for Manila.

Since the comparatively ght-hitting Willie Pastrano won the light heavy (175-pound) crown on a questionable decision over Harold Johnson on June 1—and there can be no return bout—light heavy contenders are eagerly gunning for a title shot.

Doug Jones of New York, who lost a decision to the then champion Harold Johnson in their title fight, May 12, 1962, still has light-heavy ambitions although this week he is fighting as a heavy-weight contender against Billy Daniels of Brooklyn at the Teaneck, N.J. armory on Friday. An impressive heavyweight victory might boost Doug toward a light-heavy title fight with Pastrano.

The Week's boxing schedule includes:

Monday: Lou Gutierrez vs. Mel Fulgahn, Mike Pusateri vs. Julius Owens, Larry Canrye vs. Gaylord Barnes.

Tuesday: Sacramento, Calif. — Bobby Scanlon vs. Paulie Arm-

Aches, pains gone; rejuvenated tossers boost 89'er efforts

By Ron Supinski
 UPI Staff Writer

In the spring Ben Johnson and Jim Golden of Oklahoma City were known as Mr. Aches and Mr. Pains of the 89'rs pitching staff.

But the way they're going now in the Pacific Coast League, you might think they took a swig from Ponce de Leon's fountain and became rejuvenated immediately. Or maybe somebody slipped them some kickaboo joy juice.

Golden, a righthander who bats left, shook off early season back and arm miseries to beat San Diego 6-3 yesterday in the seven-inning nightcap of a doubleheader. The 32-year-old Johnson made only one bad pitch in hurling the 89'rs to a 9-4 win in the opener. An old muscle injury in the back had plagued Johnson since the start of the season.

Islanders Sweep Four
 In other games, surprising Hawaii completed a four-game sweep of Denver 7-2 and 9-8; Seattle's Hal Kolstad shut out Portland 1-0 on three hits but the Beavers blanked the Rainiers 2-0 in the seven-inning nightcap, and Spokane's Joe Moeller scattered nine hits in whitewashing northern division leader Tacoma 1-0.

Cold, inclement weather forced postponement of the Dallas-Ft. Worth at Salt Lake City game. Golden, in evening his record at 2-2, poked a solo homer to help his cause. Mel Queen of the Padres lounded him for his 14th homer, a two-run blast. A former Los Angeles Dodger, Golden was selected by Houston in the $50,000 player draft of 1961.

Infielder George Williams of the 89'ers hit two homers to make Golden's job a bit easier and teammate John Weekly chipped in with another. All of the circuit swats came off San Diego starter and loser Greg Janich (2-4).

Slam by Saul
 Padre catcher Jim Saul hit a bases-loaded homer off Johnson in the first game. It was his second grand-slammer of the season. Dave Roberts slammed a homer for Oklahoma City.

Roberts and Carroll Hardy each got three hits for the 89'ers and drove in two runs apiece to help Johnson to his fifth win.

There was one consolation, however, for San Diego. The Padres won the milking contest between games.

Hawaii jumped on Denver starter Clay Carroll (3-6) in the first inning of the first game to score four runs on five singles and an error. Islander Ed Thomas went the route in the seven-inning game to wrap up his first win against an error. Islander Ed Thomas went the route in the seven-inning game to wrap up his first win against four losses. Stan Palys, last year's home run king in the PCL, belted his sixth fourbagger with one man on base.

In the second game, the Islanders scored three runs in the eighth to wipe out Denver's 8-6 lead. Denver relief pitcher Roger Clapp forced in the tying and winning runs with walks. J. W. Porter socked a two-run homer for the Bears.

Chet Boak's homer plus an unearned run gave Portland's Norm Bass his first victory in the abbreviated second game. Bass struck out seven Rainiers and allowed only three singles.

In the first game, Kolstad also recorded his first win by finishing strong with five hitless innings. He allowed two singles in the first inning and a double in the fourth. Seattle scored its only run in the sixth on a Portland double play following three successive singles. Jose Santiago (6-2) went all the way for Portland, allowing seven hits.

Moeller, a righthander, not only handcuffed the little Giants but he also scored the game's only run in the third by walking, moving to second on another walk, and to third and home on successive sacrifice flies.

Tacoma's Jerry Thomas (6-4) gave up only four hits while the Giants collected nine. Spokane's defense helped Moeller out of several tight spots by coming up with three key double plays.
