Reaction mixed to 'Cleopatra'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cleopatra, the $40 million film gamble, came to Broadway Wednesday night for a celebrity-packed world premiere that had a Broadway mob of 8,000 cheering and critics reaching for both superlatives and brickbats.

The street crowds reduced Broadway traffic to two lanes and brought 125 police to the scene to maintain order. Mounted police had to charge surging fans three times to keep them behind barricades.

The noisy excitement attendant on the long-awaited debut of the four-hour film—the longest and costliest in movie history—was music to the ears of 20th Century-Fox executives, who risked the future of their company of the super-spectacular. The studio lost $30 million last year and will have to lose $62 million on "Cleopatra" just to break even.

The unanswered post-premiere question was "Is it that good?" Some critics of the film, starring Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton and Rex Harrison, found it "well worth waiting for" and "generally brilliant and satisfying." But others described it as "an extravagant exercise in tedium," "unable to involve the viewer's emotions" and "dramatically pallid."

The mob which swamped Broadway for three blocks in the area of the Rivoli theater had hoped for a surprise showing of the on-and-offstage lovers, Miss Taylor and Burton, but they stayed in London.
