Area Explorer Scouts leave on expedition

Seven Explorer Scouts from Prineville, Bend, Redmond and Lakeview today headed south on a 23 day outing that will take them on an Explorer expedition to the far-famed Philmont Boy Scout ranch in New Mexico.

The trip is being made in a Weyerhaeuser woods crew bus, with some stops to be made at Army and Air Force bases, in addition to wilderness camp outs. The Central Oregon Explorers left Bend shortly before noon, and will stop over in Klamath Falls Saturday for the Explorer canoe races.

The trip will take the boys south to Death Valley, then to Grand Canyon. The boys will check into the Philmont Boy Scout Ranch on June 20. From the big ranch, the Scouts will make side trips to many points of interest.

The group will start home on July 2, after studying geology, doing some gold panning, visiting old mines and inspecting a natural science weather station in New Mexico. One of the night stops on the return will be at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado. The boys will return via the Grand Tetons.

Ernest McKenzie, Prineville, Explorer adventure trip coordinator, and Gale Staley, Klamath Falls, will be the adult leaders on the long trip.

Enrolled for the expedition from Prineville are Dan and Paul Soltz, Grant Fowler and Robert Orr. Joe Metz joined the group from Redmond.

Bend boys making the trip are Larry and Jack Hutchins, Raymond Deetz, Ted Evans, Tim Harper, Mike Stevens, James Hamm and Robert Anderson.

group of campers is allotted identical supplies, but the results are far from uniform.

One group of experienced campers dined the other evening on foil-baked potatoes drenched with butter, Salisbury steak with chutney, sausage, carrots vinaigrette and cinnamon buns. Some cooked the meat and potatoes together in a camp stew, and had biscuits baked on sticks.

Most of the girls are Bend residents, but several are from Christmas Valley and Fort Rock. Four of the aides are from Klamath Falls.

Visitors Thursday were Marcia Forsythe, council camp committee chairman, Klamath Falls, and Paul Bonn, Bend, Oregon State Game Commission biologist. Ray Bennett, U.S. Forest Service district ranger, paid a visit Tuesday.

Bill increases maximum loan sums for vets

A bill to increase the maximum amounts available under the Oregon veterans' farm and home loan program was one of several major veterans' measures passed by the 1963 legislature, H. A. Starr, Deschutes and Jefferson County Veterans' service officer, reported today.

Veterans' loan maximums were increased from $13,500 to $15,000 for homes and from $30,000 to $40,000 for farms. The new maximums take effect starting September 2.

In two other measures, the legislature liberalized the dates of service for World War I veterans, thus making more of these ex-servicemen or their widows entitled to property tax exemptions, then gave them a special 10-day period starting September 2, in which to apply to their county assessors for the 1963-64 exemption.

Proceeds of GI insurance policies were made exempt from inheritance taxation by passage of House Bill 1223. The new measure also makes it unlikely that a widow with several minor children will have to pay inheritance tax on the family's Social Security benefits or pension, by giving each person in the family the benefit of a $10,000 exclusion in addition to the general $15,000 exemption.

The police department received 51 complaints during the month, with burglary and larceny accounting for five complaints. One auto theft was also reported. Police gave 23 traffic citations.

Four juveniles were cited, for breaking and entering, for shoplifting and for violation of the bicycle ordinance. Other complaints involved violation of the basic rule, conducting speed contests on the highway and excessive noise.

Missionettes attend banquet

The Missionettes and those interested in Missionette work of the Assemblies of God Churches of Central Oregon attended a Missionette Sponsor Banquet here on June 11. Guest speaker was Mrs. Darlene Kaufman, Portland, vice-president of the Women's Missionary Council of the Assemblies of God of Oregon. Other guests were Mrs. Kathie Bruzelius, sponsor of the Bend Missionettes; her co-sponsor, Mrs. Jo Ann Marken; Mrs. Taylor, Redmond Missionette sponsor; and Mrs. Urion, Missionette sponsor from Prineville.

The International Missionette Organization was formed as an auxiliary branch of the Women's Missionary Council of the Assemblies of God Church. It is a service club for girls from nine years of age to 17 years.

The guest speaker emphasized the idea of the Missionettes being branched from the departments of both foreign and home missions.

Mrs. Kaufman awarded Cherry Triplett and Molly Wyatt their first symbol of accomplishment towards the Missionette achievement program, "Stairway to the Stars."

The Bend Missionettes meet at Kathie Bruzelius', 615 Columbia, every Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. All interested in this work are invited to attend.

New shop sets grand opening

Grand opening ceremonies for the new Parr's Donuts, Fountain & Sandwich Shop at the Wall-Franklin intersection will be held this Saturday, June 15.

Located in a building formerly occupied by Economy Drug, Parr's will keep its doors open on a seven-day-a-week basis, at least through the summer months, with hours from 6 a.m. until dusk.

The new facility has sixteen stools and six booths to accommodate customers. In addition to sandwich, doughnut and coffee service, Parr's also will prepare breakfast meals.

Owners are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Parr, formerly of Antioch, Calif.

Cawrse family services set

MT. VERNON, Ore. (UPI) — Memorial services for six members of the John Cawrse family will be held in the Mt. Vernon Presbyterian Church Monday afternoon.

Cawrse, his wife, and four daughters died in a plane crash near John Day last Sunday night. A neighbor girl, Linda Langenfeld, 17, also was killed.

Cawrse, a prominent Grant County rancher and lumberman, was on a flight from Roseburg to his private landing field at Mt. Vernon when the crash occurred.

Lumber unions move on two fronts to pressure 'Big 6'

PORTLAND (UPI)—The Pacific Northwest's big lumber unions moved on two fronts Thursday to put more pressure on the "Big Six" wood products manufacturers.

A strike against St. Regis Paper Co. spread to Montana with the announcement that 1,000 members of the Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union (LSW) would walk off their jobs at St. Regis operations in Libby and Troy, Mont., today.

The action was announced by Earl Hartley, executive secretary of the union's Western Regional Council.

The LSW and the International Woodworkers of America struck St. Regis and U.S. Plywood 10 days ago after contract talks broke down. The four other members of the "Big Six," Weyerhaeuser, International Paper, Rayonier and Crown Zellerbach, then shut down in retaliation, claiming a strike against one was a strike against all.

The IWA announced Thursday it had filed charges of unfair labor practices against all six firms. Western Regional President Harvey Nelson said the complaint charges the companies conspired to close their operations by locking out union members illegally. Complaints were filed here and in Seattle.

Open Plants Noted
Nelson said the four which shut down after the strike started sent letters to union locals which said the closure was designed "to preserve the integrity of the association." The union official noted that U.S. Plywood-owned or operated plants at Gold Beach and Cottage Grove, Ore., and Eureka, Calif., which employ non-union help, have remained open.

On another front, negotiators for the IWA met with officials of the Simpson Timber Co. here Thursday and both sides reported afterward they were "hopeful" an agreement could be reached. Simpson is negotiating independently.

A company spokesman said discussions covered working conditions as well as wages. He said the IWA asked a three-year contract with a wage increase of 15 cents the first year, 7½ cents the second year and a 3½ per cent increase the third year, plus other increases in certain skilled jobs. Simpson is scheduled to make a counter-offer at another session here June 25.

Hartley and other LSW officials sat in on the meeting as observers. They are scheduled to meet with the Simpson negotiators Wednesday.

Registration for playgrounds set Monday

Registration day for children attending the playground at Harmon playfield and Allen School is Monday, June 17 at the respective fields. The regular program will begin Tuesday morning. Hours are 9-11:30 a.m. and 1-4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with closing hours at 3:30 p.m. on Friday.

For the past several years, the recreation department has sponsored this program for children from 5 to 14 years of age. Each year the program has expanded. There is no expense involved except ten cents per child each week to help pay for the craft materials.

Special features this summer will be short trips near the playgrounds, lunches, swimming at the pool, and roller skating and a wieners roast at the Juniper Slab area.

All of the supervisors have been with the department in past years. Those at Allen will be Mrs. W. J. Williams and Cherie Bailly. At Harmon will be Joan Benson and Karen Houston. Any girl or boy wishing to volunteer as junior helpers may contact any of the supervisors.

Supervisors hope to see many new faces this summer as well as those who have attended before.

BLAZES CONTROLLED

SALEM (UPI)—A 20-acre blaze and three minor fires were battled in Oregon forest lands Thursday, the forestry Department said.

All four fires were reported out or controlled.

The largest, a 20-acre fire in the Coos Forest District five miles south of Bandon, required the efforts of 28 men, four tankers and two bulldozers before it was controlled.

Closing activities tonight for girls attending camp

By Ila S. Grant
Bulletin Staff Writer

This is annual summer camp week for Bend area Girl Scouts and Brownies. For the second year, the camp is held on Tumalo Creek, just below Tumalo Falls. Special permission was given by the Forest Service.

The girls and their adult supervisors are roughing it with the assistance of a few refinements like tents, sleeping bags, cooking utensils and fresh rations brought daily from nearby Bend. Some of the aides, it is rumored, have even rigged up a Mickey Mouse hot-water shower.

At the peak attendance, Thursday, there were 155 girls, including 15 campers' aides in the 14-18 age bracket, and 14 adult personnel. In the group are 24 Brownies, fledglings in the Scout movement, who have a part-time camping program, and are taken to Bend each evening to sleep in their own beds.

Sixth and seventh graders camped out Wednesday and Thursday nights; fourth and fifth graders, Thursday night. The older girls and the staff made the scene Monday morning, for the entire camping period. Closing activities will be held tonight.

Return home will mean for many the first clean-up in a regular bathroom, the first meal at a conventional table, and the first dish-washing session at a sink with a drain for what must seem like an eternity. A bed with a mattress and springs may feel uncomfortably soft.

Mrs. J. R. Meissner, who skis all winter and camps all summer, is the camp director. Insect bites and sunburn are treated with appropriate lotions by Mrs. Neal Goldsmith, a registered nurse. Program consultants are Mrs. Ken Holden, formerly a public school art teacher, and Mrs. R. C. Friberg, who specializes in crafts.

Meal preparation is a tactical exercise calling for ingenuity, imagination and talent. Each group of campers is allotted identical supplies, but the results are far from uniform.

One group of experienced campers dined the other evening on foil-baked potatoes drenched with butter, Salisbury steak with chutney, sausage, carrots vinaigrette and cinnamon buns. Some cooked the meat and potatoes together in a camp stew, and had biscuits baked on sticks.

Most of the girls are Bend residents, but several are from Christmas Valley and Fort Rock. Four of the aides are from Klamath Falls.

Visitors Thursday were Marcia Forsythe, council camp committee chairman, Klamath Falls, and Paul Bonn, Bend, Oregon State Game Commission biologist. Ray Bennett, U.S. Forest Service district ranger, paid a visit Tuesday.

Monthly police report issued

SPRINEVILLE TO THE BULLETIN

PRINEVILLE — Arrests made by city police during May totaled 26, according to the month's report by Mike Thompson, police chief. Of these, 11 were for drunkenness, and two each were for violation of liquor laws, driving while intoxicated and vagrancy. One arrest in each category was made for petty larceny, disorderly conduct, violation of driving laws and other offense.

The police department received 51 complaints during the month, with burglary and larceny accounting for five complaints. One auto theft was also reported. Police gave 23 traffic citations.

Four juveniles were cited, for breaking and entering, for shoplifting and for violation of the bicycle ordinance. Other complaints involved violation of the basic rule, conducting speed contests on the highway and excessive noise.
