

Bevos lose again; southpaw Seattle pitcher does job

By United Press International
To the idle go the spoils—or so it seemed in the Pacific Coast League Monday night.

Take Spokane, for example. While the Indians enjoyed a leisurely day off they jumped into second place in the Northern Division when second-place Portland dropped a 5-1 decision to Seattle.

And in the Southern Division, the idle San Diego Padres moved to within a half-game of pace-setting Dallas-Fort Worth which lost 5-2 at Hawaii, only the Denver Bears, who suffered a 9-4 setback at the hands of Salt Lake City, failed to capitalize on the Rangers' defeat.

Southpaw Bill Spanswick turned in one of his best pitching performances of the season in Seattle's victory. He pitched no-hit ball in all but one inning and that tainted frame was the seventh when Portland put together three consecutive singles for its only run.

Dave Hall provided Seattle's offensive punch with three hits and three runs batted in.

Herb Plews' inside - park home run in the eighth with a runner on capped Hawaii's game-winning three-run rally. All three runs were unearned after the Rangers' first baseman, Ray Jablonski, committee a two-base error on a Tom Satriano hit.

Carlos Bernier accounted for Hawaii's first two runs with a home run that extended his consecutive game hitting streak to 15. George Banks had a two-run homer for Dallas-Fort Worth's tallies.

The best news of the night for Hawaii came at the turnstiles of Honolulu Stadium which admitted 2,850 fans to push the season's attendance above the 100,000 mark.

Bill Cowan and Bob Will each slammed home runs to pace Salt Lake City's 12-hit attack against Denver. The Bees erupted for five runs in the first inning and were never in serious trouble.

Catcher Phil Roof hit two home runs to account for three of Denver's four runs.

Reflections: boxing hoods and token effort horses

By Oscar Fraley
UPI Staff Writer

BROOKLINE, Mass. (UPI)—Random reflections on the sports beat in general:

You have to be a descendant of Pollyanna if you think all the hoods have been run out of boxing. But, then, it's never been a racket for the tea and crumpets set.

Tennis in the United States must be at its lowest ebb since Wright came out in front of Ditson.

Gal golfers to tee-off at 8

Women's golf matches scheduled on the Madras course Wednesday will start about 8 a.m., and all pairings will be arranged at the tee.

Bend women not wishing to play these matches may participate in a local tournament slated by Ken Spence at the Bend Golf Club.

Local hound gets two more points

LONGVIEW, Wash. — "Mustel-land's Troubador," a Basset hound from Bend, picked up two points towards a championship rating in the 8th annual all breed dog show and obedience trials held here Sunday by the Longview - Kelso Kennel Club.

"Troubador" took first in the open class, then captured the winners' dog ribbon for the points. The Basset classes were judged by R. A. Cross of Victoria, B.C. Sunday's win gave "Troubador," who was shown by his owner Al Weeks, a total of four points with 15 being needed for the sought championship rating.

Madras golfers win 4-way go

Special to The Bulletin

REDMOND — Madras' golf team won a four-way team fest here at Juniper Golf Course Sunday, but a performance by a golf pro from Prineville is what really set players agog.

Jerry Cloninger put together an amazing eight-under-par 64 to establish a new course record on the revamped fairways, Juniper's golf pro Frank Aquino said today.

Cloninger hit 16 out of 18 greens, and putted with equal accuracy. He needed only 26 to tour the course.

Lowest in the team net competition was Madras with 1457. Madras was followed by Prineville with 1505, Redmond 1512, and Bend, 1539.

Individual prizes were won by the following: Bud VanMatre, Redmond, first low net, 65; Bill Hatch, Jr., Bend, and Ed Kruk, Bend, tied for second low net with 66 each.

Millard Porter of Madras captured first low gross with a 68 score. Second low gross went to Earl Boothe of Redmond with a 71.

Vern White of Bend won the closest-to-the-pin event, and Madras' Porter hit the longest drive.

TO GO ON TOUR

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Danny Litwiler, former major league outfielder and head baseball coach at Florida State University, will tour Central American and Caribbean countries this summer. Ernie Landford, assistant coach at Florida State, and pitcher Al Beccacio will accompany Litwiler in the giving baseball clinics for the State Department.

9 Oregon-California clubs enter sports car conclave

Special to The Bulletin

CHRISTMAS VALLEY — Nine sports car clubs with 60 entries competed in a rally here Sunday, June 16. The Klamath Falls "Sports and Imports" club was in charge of the racing on the 3 1/2 mile course encircling the lake, golf course site and lodge.

Plans were made by club president Ron Friedrich of Klamath Falls and Edwin Cater, manager of Christmas Valley Lodge. A big beef barbecue Saturday night opened the festivities. Racing enthusiasts brought tents and sleeping bags. They camped at the airstrip, the trailer park and in the new recreation hall.

ing bags. They camped at the airstrip, the trailer park and in the new recreation hall.

Jim Martin of Susanville, Calif., in the modified division, turned in the best time of 4:05.5 in his Jaguar special. Don Corum of Silver Lake, individual entry, took 4:33 minutes in a '62 Thunderbird to win in his class over Richard Wells of Susanville in a '62 Corvair.

Trophies were awarded to winners in the following classes, with divisions determined by engine displacement: class B through G, modified, Sedan I, II and III;

Ladies Sports I, II, and III and Lady Sedan. Each contestant was allowed two runs. Clubs entered along with the Klamath Falls and Susanville groups included Medford, Eugene, Reno, Chico, Marysville and Redding, Calif. The latter city had two clubs entered.

7 things to tell your son when he first borrows the family car

1. Remember what you learned to get your driver's license, and you'll be a better driver. Eight out of ten car accidents stem from improper driving practices—such as speeding, failing to yield right-of-way and following other cars too closely. Truck drivers and other professionals have very few accidents—mile for mile, about one-quarter as many as other drivers. The professionals know the rules of good driving—and obey them.
2. If the car won't start, there are a number of simple things worth trying. Use the starter in short bursts. Press accelerator to the floor once, then release it quickly just before you try starter.

June is prom time—and many a young man will be borrowing the family car for the first time. Here, Shell dealers offer seven driving tips that can be useful to him all his life.

With manual shift, keep clutch pedal all the way down. With automatic transmission, make sure gear selector is at exactly the right spot.

Note from Shell: We recently published an advertisement with 7 simple starting tips. For a free copy, write to Shell Oil Co., P.O. Box 236, N.Y. 46, N.Y.

3. Courtesy is contagious—and adds to everyone's driving pleasure. Nobody ever cured a traffic jam by losing his temper. If you can keep your sense of humor and wait your turn, everyone will probably get where he's going sooner—including you.

Another suggestion: It takes only seconds to let someone enter the roadway ahead of you, but it can save the other driver minutes. Just remember to signal the car behind you that you're slowing down or about to stop.

4. Cars respond to good care. Have the oil, battery and water checked every time you stop for gasoline.

When you're driving, listen for unusual mechanical sounds. If you hear one, have it checked right away. It could save a big repair bill later on.

On rough roads, take it easy—tires are tough, but they are destructible.

Note: For a free copy of Shell's 12-page booklet, "44 ways to make your car last longer," write to the Shell Oil Company, P.O. Box 236, New York 46, N.Y.

5. Don't take other drivers for granted. They sometimes do unexpected things. In the U.S. in 1962, they ran into stationary objects more than 164,000 times.

So don't be too optimistic. Cars do sometimes enter intersections carelessly—especially when there's no stop sign. A car coming from the other direction might swing into your lane on a hill or curve.

Your best protection is to drive defensively. The only driver you can really be sure of is yourself.

6. If you're going to be late, call home. And if car trouble is the reason, call the nearest service station, too.

Don't try to make repairs close to a busy road—could be dangerous. Instead, park well off the traffic lanes, put the hood up to show you're disabled—and wait in or near the car until help arrives.

Note from Shell: Thousands of Shell dealers go to special training schools each year. There, they learn how to spot trouble in a hurry. They can be helpful to you in almost any emergency.

7. Have a good time. So far, almost everything you've heard about cars has to do with safety. Now you're about to find out what a pleasure they can be. Here are the keys. Just take your responsibilities in stride. And have fun.

Comforting fact for parents: Drivers with less than three months' experience account for very few serious accidents—a good sign most new drivers do take their responsibilities seriously. So you can relax.

Central Oregon Shell dealers de-bunk a myth about car care.

It's a myth that you should let some air out of your tires when traveling on a hot day.

Today's tires are built to take the extra pressure that builds up during hot weather driving. So, don't deflate them on hot days—or you may find them very low the following morning. Do get your Shell dealer to check your tires before you start a long trip. Proper pressure will decrease chances of tire trouble during hot weather highway driving—also lead to longer tire life.

That's the real lowdown. You can count on your local Shell dealer for straight facts and honest work. See him regularly.
