

Civil defense agency racked with jitters

SALEM (UPI)—A case of jitters racked Oregon's civil defense agency today as the deadline neared for a decision on whether federal matching funds would be provided.

Only seven of the agency's 18-member staff were still on the job. The others have either quit or have been laid off because of the cutback ordered by the 1963 legislature.

The legislature cut the agency to a three-member coordinating staff attached to the governor's office.

Federal officials said they would not provide matching funds so three additional staffers could be hired. Then they indicated they might change their mind.

Sunday marks the end of the current biennium. The new coordinating council takes over on Monday.

Nunn-Pittman Meet

Warne Nunn, executive assistant to Gov. Mark Hatfield, met with national civil defense director S. L. Pittman last Friday in Portland. Nunn said no decisions were reached.

Nunn said he expected the final decision earlier this week.

Agency Director Robert Sandstrom said he planned to keep himself, radio technician Joseph Vogt, and Bookkeeper Donna Casey on the staff.

He said if federal funds were approved, he also would keep radiological defense and shelter officer W. F. Coleman, information director Gerald Claussen, and property records clerk Fay Millie.

"The future of 37 field hospitals, the marking of fallout shelters, and stocking shelters with emergency supplies is in doubt. Federal matching funds could keep these programs alive, he said.

"Without the funds, he wasn't sure what would happen to these services."

Officials named at Boys State

CORVALLIS (UPI) — District attorneys and other officials from five counties and state policeman from 10 cities were named at Bear Boys State Wednesday.

Some 50 high school boys are attending the American Legion-sponsored event.

The district attorneys are Dave Amato and Jerry Ota of Portland; Mike Brooks of Eugene; Terry Aarno of Astoria, and Sid Nolen of Cascade Locks.

Named as state policemen were Steve Zakrewski and Joe Hubbel of Astoria; Jim Van Duyn of Baker; Rick Rehwald of Coos Bay; Bill Gragg of Silverton; John Jackson of Portland; Jim Palst of Albany; Darryl Summerfield of Central Point; Mark Isori of Ontario, and Ron Thorhill of Cave Junction.

Two Portland youths won primary elections in the Nationalist and Federalist parties for youth governor. They are Dick Probasco and Ota.

Prineville has new city band

PRINEVILLE — A new city band was organized and held its first practice session Tuesday evening, with a brave tootling of horns and thumping of drums. Some 40 adults and children were present for the first meeting.

The band, a part of the city's summer recreation program, is being conducted by Eugene Southwell, Prineville Junior high school music teacher. Practice sessions will be held each Tuesday and Thursday evenings, with the possibility of a summer band concert or two at a later date, it is reported.

If the unit can be worked into a group in time, it is planned that the new band will march in the Fourth of July parade. Meanwhile, those who attended the first session as interested onlookers agreed that the group "sounded very good" in its first attempt at musical coherence.

Coos defense director quits

COQUILLE (UPI)—Ron Endicott, Coos County civil defense director, has submitted his resignation effective July 1.

The Coos County Board of Commissioners indicated it would be accepted.

Endicott said he was resigning because of lack of support from the state and uncertainty about the future of the program in Coos County. The county budget committee cut the 1963-64 CD appropriation to $1,000. It previously allocated $3,430.

Top timber bid is offered by Bend firm

A Bend firm, Lelco, Inc., was the successful bidder for 37,000,000 board feet of timber in two different sales areas this week.

One of the purchases was on the Warm Springs Reservation, where the local firm purchased 28,000,000 board feet in the Lions Head-Twin Butte area.

Sale of the big stand of timber on the reservation was made in sealed bids, with Lelco, Inc., offering $23.45 for the pine. Also bidding for the timber was Jefferson Plywood, of Madras, with an offer of $21.38.

Different from U.S. Forest Service sales, those held by the Indian Service are not followed by oral auctions: Offers in the sealed bids are final.

Lelco will mill part of the reservation stumpage in Sisters, and part at the Bend plant.

In a U.S. Forest service auction here Wednesday afternoon, Lelco was the only bidder for some 9,800,000 board feet of timber in the Upper Lookout Mountain area of the Bend district.

Lelco obtained pine on the stand for $16.30 per thousand, and the fir for $4.10 per thousand. This will be milled in Bend. Pine stumpage is estimated at 6,100,000 board feet and white fir at 3,700,000.

The Warm Springs timber purchased by Lelco includes about 14,000,000 board feet of pine, 11,000,000 board feet of Douglas fir and 4,000,000 board feet of white fir.

Rate increases being sought

SALEM (UPI)—Rate increases were requested today by the Oregon Draymen and Warehousemen's Association, Public Utility Commissioner Jonel C. Hill announced.

The request involved changes in rates and charges applying to local cartage and household goods motor transportation.

The PUC said the association was asking an 8 per cent increase in local cartage rates and charges, and a 39 per cent increase in some intercity moves.

Mrs. Logan thinks labor brought about her firing

PORTLAND (UPI)—Mrs. Emily P. Logan said Wednesday she believed she was fired from the State Industrial Accident Commission because of political pressure brought on Gov. Mark Hatfield by organized labor.

Mrs. Logan added she did not intend to contest the firing in the courts, although she and her attorney believed the procedure used by the governor was illegal.

Hatfield this week replaced Mrs. Logan on the SIAC with Mayor Charles B. Gill Jr. of Grants Pass. He also replaced commissioner Sidney Lewis, who resigned

Band concert due Tuesday at Juniper Park

The Bend Municipal Band, directed by Norman Whitney, will present its first concert of the summer season Tuesday, July 2, at 8 p.m., in the Juniper Park area.

Roy Lively, band president, said 30 musicians will present a varied program, including marches and overtures, musicals and some popular numbers.

All interested are being invited. They can sit in their car, or bring their blankets and sit on the lawn. "There is no need to dress up," Whitney said.

The band is planning a concert each week on Tuesday nights, except during Mirror Pond Pageant days late in July when the band will be presented in concerts at Drake Park.

In keeping with the practice adopted last year, concerts will be played in various parts of town. This proved very popular in the summer of 1962, and attracted large crowds.

JUDGE SYMPATHETIC
SWINDON, England (UPI) — A judge Wednesday advised a man charged with failing to maintain installment payments that he could pick up an unwanted door-to-door salesman "by the seat of his pants and put him outside."

Judge Thomas Elder-Jones also gave Henry Lowe 10 years to pay a $36.24 debt incurred, Lowe said, when a salesman forced a set of books on him.

Electric storm passes over area in night

An electric storm that blazed over Central Oregon last midnight sent bolts into timbered areas and yielded light rain in scattered areas.

Heavy peals of thunder a few minutes before 12 o'clock last night awakened most Bend residents. Brilliant flashes of lightning illuminated the Deschutes country.

Word from Prineville indicated that heavy rains drenched parts of the Ochoco woods. In the Deschutes timber, moisture at measuring stations was light. Bend measured a mere 0.02 from the noisy night storm.

The U.S. Forest Service office in Bend this morning received from Portland a forecast of a 100 per cent chance of lightning storms again this afternoon or tonight, with more of the same type of weather expected tomorrow.

Partly cloudy weather with showers has been predicted for the entire state east of the mountains. Scattered showers are predicted for western Oregon tonight.

Bend recorded a mild 75 degrees as yesterday's high temperature. Last night the low was 40 degrees.

Action held up on zone change
PORTLAND (UPI) — The City Council tabled an ordinance Wednesday which would have authorized a zone change to permit construction of the controversial low-cost housing project in the Albina district.

The Portland Housing Authority agreed to reconsider the site Monday after objections from Negro and church leaders that a housing project in that area would perpetuate a Negro ghetto.

Angler blamed for blaze

A small grass and brush fire, apparently caused through an angler's negligence, summoned Bend firemen to a site about four miles south of town on the west side of the Deschutes River.

No noteworthy damage resulted, firemen said.

Only other Wednesday alarm brought fire crews to the 521 Georgia residence of Dallas Quick, where an open fire had been left unattended. There was no damage.
