

Taft dance ends in near-riot; meeting called

TAFT, Ore. (UPI) — The Taft City Council was scheduled to meet late today to decide what further action should be taken as a result of a near-riot Friday night when police halted a teenage dance.

The promoter, Nick Weinstein of Portland, was free on $25 bail after being arrested for not obtaining a city license to hold the dance. Bob Ludwig, about 20, of Taft and Bill Smith, 20, of Cutler City, were arrested for inciting to riot and later freed on $250 bail. Ray King, 19, Oceanlake, was free on $150 bail on a charge of creating a disturbance. No court appearance had been set.

The incident started when police told a doorman at the dance that it must be broken up because Weinstein did not have a license. Weinstein said he told the teenagers they must leave and cautioned them to be orderly.

As they poured outside, Police Chief Rod Rosenbaum emerged from a car holding a teargas grenade and a nightstick. Rosenbaum said some of the youths threw taunts of "hick cops" and used abusive language. He tossed the grenade.

Weinstein, who was scheduled to attend the council meeting, said he thought he was covered by the establishment's license and never had been told otherwise. City officials said he had been warned.

Susie L. Joanis taken by death

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday in Cambridge, Idaho, Catholic Church for Susie Linder Joanis, 76, who died Friday, June 29 in Council Idaho Community Hospital.

Mrs. Joanis, member of a well known Idaho pioneer family, was born in Tuffin Valley, Idaho in 1887. She was a long time resident of Bend from 1917 to 1958 after her marriage to Joseph Joanis. Mrs. Joanis died in June of 1962.

Mrs. Joanis is survived by one sister, Prudence Hinkle, Portland, and 10 stepchildren, three of whom are Bend residents, Robert and Wilfred Joanis, and Louis Devenport.

Rosary will be said in Weiser, Idaho, Catholic Church on Tuesday, July 2. Following funeral services interment will be held in Indian Valley, Idaho.

June fades out on cool side in local area

June faded from the weather picture last night on the cool side. It yielded a temperature of 34 degrees in Bend to make this Deschutes city the chilliest reporting point in the entire country, Alaska possibly excluded.

Redmond was four degrees warmer, with a low of 38 degrees, following a high Sunday of 73. Bend's high that day was 71.

Incidentally, the low in Washington, D.C. last night was 74 degrees, higher than the daytime maximums recorded in Central Oregon.

Forecasts indicate that fair weather is to continue in Central Oregon, with milder temperatures forecast.

There is a possibility of a few scattered showers in the Cascades tonight, the weatherman notes.

Blaze destroys seafood plant

BELLINGHAM (UPI) — Fire destroyed the Bornstein Seafood plant here early this morning. The plant, in operation since 1938, was one of Bellingham's largest seafood processing facilities.

A local policeman spotted the fire at 3 a.m., but by the time firemen arrived, flames were leaping 150 feet into the air, lighting the sky over the city. Firemen said the flames were fed by two explosions, apparently from ammonia tanks.

Roseburg girl beauty winner

SEASIDE (UPI) — Raven-haired D'Ann Sharon Fullerton of Roseburg was chosen as Miss Oregon Saturday night.

The 19-year-old sophomore at Southern Oregon College is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fullerton of Roseburg. She will represent Oregon at the Miss American Pageant at Atlantic City.

At 5-feet, 4-inches, she was one of the shortest of the 22 girls who competed for the title.

Some 1,548 persons watched the judging, the largest crowd in the history of the event.

D'Ann was crowned by Marjorie Wyatt of Jacksonville, the 1962 Miss Oregon.

The Saturday night performances included talent and appearances in formal gowns and swimming suits.

Runners-up were Miss Portland, Jodie Ray; Miss Gresham, Jennifer Hill; Miss Rogue Valley, Joan Callaghan; and Miss Tigard, Virginia Hase.

In addition to the title, "Dee" Fullerton will receive a $300 Miss America scholarship, a $1,000 scholarship from a soft-drink firm, a $1,000 mink stole from the Mink Breeders Association, a $1,500 wardrobe from a Portland department store, a set of luggage, swimsuits and a $500 fashion award.

Suzanne Weiner, Miss Corvallis, was selected by the other candidates as Miss Congeniality of the 1963 pageant. The award was presented at a Sunday luncheon.

Clothing theft told to police

Mrs. Mary Joe Templeton, 1339 E. Seventh, told police Sunday that she and her husband returned from a vacation to discover some $1,200 to $1,400 in clothing missing from their home.

The clothing had been removed from a bedroom closet, Mrs. Templeton said. The prowler entered the house through an unlocked door.

A police investigation is underway.

Forecasts indicate that fair weather is to continue in Central Oregon, with milder temperatures forecast.

'Hot shots' take to air

Deschutes National Forest "Hot shots" took to the air over the weekend on their first 1963 mission — to check a bad blaze in Central Utah, near Richfield.

Headed by Carl Rader, foreman, the "Hot Shots", officially known as the Redmond Reinforcement Crew, took off from the Redmond air base Saturday in C-46 plane. Joining in the flight to Utah was the Star Crew from Medford.

There were 23 men in the Redmond unit, and 25 in the Medford-based unit.

The "Hot Shots" are members of a highly trained fire control crew, ready for service on fires in any part of the west.

Charges made against Hatfield

PORTLAND (UPI) — The executive board of the Oregon Democratic Party has charged Gov. Mark Hatfield with "arrogant and high-handed behavior" in firing two members of the State Industrial Accident Commission and has asked its members to refuse to sign tax referendum petitions.

The two resolutions were passed at a board meeting Saturday.

Referring to the dismissal of SIAC commissioners Emily Logan and Sydney Lewis, the resolution said the executive board "emphatically objects to the denial of due process of law and arbitrary procedure employed by the governor."

It called Hatfield's action "an insult to the people of Oregon and the mark of a man unfit for high office."

The Democratic leaders also recorded their opposition to the referral of Oregon's 1963 tax increase to the people. They urged citizens to refuse to sign referral petitions.

Peking also protested that the Russians raised a Communist party quarrel to the level of state relations by expelling five Communist Chinese diplomats and students on grounds they distributed in Moscow a June 14 Chinese letter strongly attacking Khrushchev's policies.

Return To China

All the ousted Chinese returned to Peking Sunday to what Chinese news reports said was a warm welcome.

The Peking letter, which the Russians have refused to publish, ruled out any acceptance of Khrushchev-style peaceful co-existence with the West, demanded a renunciation of Moscow's soft line toward Yugoslavia, and called for a review of the whole campaign of destalinization.

Plane lands along highway

PORTLAND (UPI) — An emergency landing of a single engine plane on the Columbia River Highway west of Bridal Veil was made Sunday morning by pilot Joe Burris, 48, Troutdale.

Burris told Multnomah County police he ran out of fuel and set the plane down on the westbound lanes. He was on a flight from Celena, Mont., to Troutdale.

Aviation fuel was sent from Troutdale and police held up traffic to allow Burris to take off.

He said the highway was deserted when he made the landing. His son was also aboard the plane.

Lumber tieup meeting held

PORTLAND (UPI) — The Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union (LSW) and the "Big Six" employer group met today with a federal mediator present as the Northwest lumber strike-shutdown neared the end of its first month.

No progress was reported last week in a negotiating session between the Big Six and the International Woodworkers of America (IWA).

The two unions struck two members of the Big Six, St. Regis and U.S. Plywood on June 3 in a wage dispute and the other four, Weyerhaeuser, International Paper, Rayonier and Crown Zellerbach, shut down plants where union members are employed saying a strike against one was a strike against all.

Russia-China relations have hit new low

MOSCOW (UPI) — Relations between Russia and Communist China were at a new low today. The coming Communist "peace" talks appeared doomed to failure.

In the light of increasingly violent declarations and actions on both sides in recent days, Western diplomats here forecast a deadlock at best on the show-down negotiations that could decide the future of the entire Communist movement.

Whether this would lead to a formal split among the world's Communist parties into Peking and Moscow factions remained unclear.

The Peking regime announced Sunday night it would send its negotiating team to Moscow as scheduled, but emphasized the team had instructions to hold firm on the key ideological and political issues separating the two Communist giants. The talks are to begin Friday.

Broadcasts Statement

The Central Committee of the Chinese Communist party, in a statement broadcast by the official New China News Agency on the 42nd birthday of the party, said recent Soviet actions were "highly regrettable."

The statement renewed Peking's condemnation of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's peaceful co-existence policy, a basic factor in the quarrel. The Chinese take a more militant position toward the West, and do not exclude nuclear war as a means of spreading communism.

Peking also protested that the Russians raised a Communist party quarrel to the level of state relations by expelling five Communist Chinese diplomats and students on grounds they distributed in Moscow a June 14 Chinese letter strongly attacking Khrushchev's policies.
