United States to enter protest to Italian govt.

ROME (UPI) — The American government is making a protest to the Italian government tonight over rough police treatment of members of the party traveling with President Kennedy.

The protest was being made under White House instructions by Angier Biddle Duke, chief of protocol for the State Department. Duke and other high ranking members of the party came in for police pummeling at various times during the day.

Among those jostled, shoved and treated in a manner which disturbed the White House, included two of the President's top assistants, McGeorge Bundy and Theodore Sorensen, and there were times when even the President's sister, Mrs. Jean Smith, had difficulty in maintaining her place in the presidential procession.

Italian police and military units obstructed movement of those accompanying Kennedy throughout the day. At one point, as the President arrived by plane, Italian police attempted to remove the U.S. Secret Service security car from the presidential procession before it moved through downtown Rome.

At times during the procession, Italian police insisted that automobiles occupied only by chauffeurs and utterly devoid of passengers be rammed into the procession ahead of high ranking members of the American travel party.

Officials — police and military — at the gates of the Quirinale Palace roughed up Bundy, Sorensen, Duke and others when they tried to enter with the President. The chief executive's car was allowed into the courtyard of the palace, but other U.S. vehicles were forced to stop outside a narrow, crowd-packed gate.

Medical school gets new chief

SALEM (UPI) — Dr. Robert D. Michel, 46, former assistant professor at the University of Oregon Medical school, Portland, took over today as chief resident medical officer at the State Tuberculosis hospital here.

He replaces Dr. Robert E. Joseph, 56, who was discharged after the legislature placed the hospital under the administration of the state board of health education.

MR. AND MRS. KARL G. WOODWARD

Couple united at Prineville

Miss Colleen Catherine Mouser, daughter of Mrs. Melvin Mouser, 115 Federal Street, became the bride of Karl G. Woodward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Woodward, Prineville, in a formal, double ring ceremony held in the Nazarene Church on June 11th at 2 p.m.

The Reverend David Wardlaw officiated at the ceremony and Mrs. Earl Kiel played the traditional wedding music. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Howard Mouser.

Attendants for Miss Mouser were her sister, Mrs. Glen Harvey of Bend who was matron of honor, and Mrs. Gordon Mouser, Bend, who was bridesmaid.

Gordon Mouser of Bend, brother of the bride, served Woodward as his best man. Another Bend man, Jim Parker, was usher.

Following a reception in the church, the newly-weds left for a wedding trip along the Oregon coast. They are at home in Bend.

The new Mrs. Woodward is a graduate of Sisters High School and Central Oregon Beauty College. Woodward graduated from Crook County High School and Heavy Equipment School. He is presently a saw mill operator.

HAD LUNG TRANSPLANT

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — The man who underwent the first human lung transplant 18 days ago has died. Doctors said the death was caused by a kidney failure and had nothing to do with the lung operation.

John Richard Russell, a convicted murderer whose prison sentence was suspended Tuesday by Gov. Ross Barnett for undergoing the operation, was progressing satisfactorily from his historic lung transplant, doctors said, when he died Saturday of the kidney ailment.

Multiple-use coordination study planned

On a multi-use coordination study that will take them through two forests, the Willamette and the Deschutes, some 25 U.S. Forest Service regional officers will be in Bend tonight.

Heading the group, mostly assistant regional foresters in charge of various activities, will be J. Herbert Stone, regional forester.

Philip A. Briegleb, recently named director of the Pacific Northwest Forest and Range Experiment Station, Portland, and his assistant, George Meagher, are members of the multi-use group, as is Dr. George Selke, special consultant to the secretary of agriculture.

The group left Portland early this morning by bus and drove south to Eugene, then southeast over the Willamette divide. At the summit today noon, the officials were met by A. A. Poust, Deschutes National Forest supervisor, and members of his headquarters staff—E. J. Parke and Milton Griffith. The group was also joined at the summit by Leslie Yates, Crescent district ranger, Ray Bennett, Bend district ranger, was also on the tour.

From Bend Tuesday morning, the foresters, joined by Rangers Ernest Price of the Metolius district and Kenneth Evans of the Sisters district, will travel through the Metolius River area, and up to the Santiam summit, where the foresters will go back into the Willamette National Forest.

Milton official sausage mixer

CAMP SHERMAN — It's not just the flapjacks that rate high on the menu list for the Ponderosa Pancake Breakfast scheduled for next Sunday morning at the Camp Sherman Community Hall. It's the sausage. And here's why.

Howard Milton of Redmond, is the official sausage mixer. Milton has been creating his own sausage patties now for the last 11 years, and they are considered one of the big items that help put over the mammoth breakfast which that club holds each year on Mother's Day.

Patties and flapjacks will be flipping on the grills here beginning at 7 o'clock Sunday morning. Tickets will be available at the hall.

Three survive boat tragedy

KODIAK, Alaska (UPI)—Three survivors and the body of one of two persons drowned when a fishing boat capsized have been taken from the rocky shore of Afognak Island north of here.

The boat's skipper, Clayton Harris, 44, Tacoma, Wash., was one of the survivors, but his wife, Alice, 47, and their 6-year-old son, Kenny, drowned. The other survivors were Jim Jaren, 26, Aberdeen, Wash., and Andy Johnson, 38 (no home address).

Harris said Jaren was at the wheel when the boat suddenly heeled over and "just kept going." There was a 30 knot wind blowing when the 46-foot Tahiti, based at Seattle, capsized.

Harris said his group crawled up on the keel of the boat and rode it to a point about three-quarters of a mile from shore. He said he and his son attempted to swim to shore and that he left Kenny temporarily on a rock. Before he could return, the boy was swept away by the heavy seas.

Elliott named head of P. M.'s

A Bend man, Farley J. Elliott, is to preside over the Oregon Postmasters' Association in the coming year as president.

He was elected at the recent convention in Newport attended by some 125 postmasters from all parts of the state. Total attendance at the convention was around 300.

Elliott succeeds John Metsber of Sandy as head of the Oregon postal group. Theresa Bryson, Adams, was named secretary-treasurer.

The mid-winter meeting of the association will be held in Corvallis.
