

Golfers (140 strong) ready for annual Prineville event

Special to The Bulletin
PRINEVILLE — Thirty-five professionals and 105 amateurs will vie for better than $4,000 in prize money and merchandise awards here this Sunday in the ninth edition of the Prineville Invitational Pro-Amateur golf tournament.

Perhaps the most popular one day golf event in the Northwest, the Prineville links fray offers a special kind of fest to golf goers. Fred Hudspeth again is picking up the tab to help put Prineville on the golfing map, and on the map she is.

Participants will be treated to a special kind of reception called "Prineville hospitality," with beef, barbecues, tournament favors, a little added entertainment, and a sizable amount of prizes to shoot for.

Professionals will be gunning at $2,500, distributed on an individual basis, with another $700 distributed on a best ball standards. Amateurs will vie for one of six spots in the gross, net, and best ball divisions, totaling a merchandise pot of $1,050.

Two of the three professionals, Jerry Mowlds and Bob McKendrick, who tied for the win last year with two under par 63's, will be on hand to defend honors. Third place Bob Duden is committed to a tour event and will not compete.

Alex Weber of Bayside, Calif., and winner in 1961, will be trying for another win, as will host professional Jerry Cloninger, the 1959 and 1960 winner. Glenn Spivey of Glendoveer, the reigning Oregon Open king, will attempt to add another jewel to his crown. The defending champions will be contested by a host of challengers. They include such stalwarts as Bunny Mason, Larry Lamberger, Sr., Marlow Quick, Boots Porterfield and Bill Isbill.

A strong amateur field will be headed by Hudspeth, Don Krieger, Bruce Cudd, Owen Panner, Millard Porter, George Beechler, and Bill Close, all of whom will be trying to lift the hold the professionals have yet to relinquish since 1957 when Ron Weber, then an amateur but now on the "GA" tour, recorded the low round.

Prineville boasts a sporty little layout with tricky greens and narrow fairways, carrying a par of 65. It has withstood the assault of Oregon's best for the past eight years, as attested by the competitive course record, 62.

Pairings and starting times are as follows:

6:30 a.m. — Harvey Bunn, Walt Cline, Taylor Troeze, and Jim Nielsen. 6:38 — Nick Locke, Bob Martin, Dean Weber, and Bill Clements.

Bend Legion loses another, Hawks win 8-4

By Web Ruble, Bulletin Staff Writer
 Coach Bill Bauer's Bend American Legion baseballers came to life last night, but couldn't get over the hump as the locals dropped an 8-4 contest to the Klamath Falls Hawks.

Showing more inspiration and better fielding than they have in half a dozen recent ball games, the Bend baseballers were really up against it. The reason? On the mound was a small, but dynamic pitcher by the name of Marv Cunningham, who put together 14 strikeouts and limited determined Bend swatters to five base hits.

Klamath Falls' Hawks, a team Bend has beaten twice before, had a giant, four-run second inning, and it looked like another back-in-the-groove, black day for Bend. Cunningham tossed his way through eight innings with no more than a nuisance base hit or two. Infield errors by teammates, however, allowed Barnes to score for Bend in the sixth. Cunningham thus went unscathed until his final confrontation in the bottom of the ninth, when Bend batters began at last to find the range.

Cunningham was tiring and the Bend batters were hit hungry. Bauer's men, down 8-1, didn't get started until there was one out, and then boom... Cunningham was in trouble and his game in jeopardy.

Bennie Hamilton was the first swatter to do the trick. He rapped a long double. Don Watrous followed and gaffed a single. Hamilton held to second. Kirby, Bend's addition from Forest Grove, came up but grounded out to third. Then came the clincher. Two were gone and two aboard.

Val Lewis stepped to the plate and slapped the horsehide deep into left center field, scoring both Barnes and Watrous. Lewis bounded into third for a triple. Dave Shelton then scored Lewis when Klamath Falls short stop Steve Young dropped the ball. Shelton was aboard with an error.

When the dust cleared Bend had scored three runs. It wasn't enough, however, and Klamath Falls took it, 8-4.

Bend juniors split with Lebanon nine

In an effort to atone for a miserable performance last Thursday, the Bend Junior League travelling baseball team hosted a Lebanon aggregation Monday evening, and split a twin bill.

Bend won the opener 2-1, and Lebanon gained the nightcap 4-0. Larry Gray started out on the mound for the locals, but was replaced in the fifth by Gary English who picked up the win.

It was one of those contests that might have gone either way right up until the last out. No scoring developed until the fourth inning, when Lebanon right fielder, Steve Berry rapped a single to score Ray Perkins from second. It was Lebanon's only tally.

Lebanon thus led until the bottom of the sixth. English banged a single to score short stop Dick Gasbar from second. Gasbar got aboard when he rapped a single.

Lebanon failed to score in the top of the seventh, and Bend came right back to face a do-or-die situation in the frame's bottom half. The score was knotted 1-1.

First man up was Rod Pitcher, second baseman. He clouted a single, and advanced to second when Randy Snyder clubbed a long single to right. Pitcher went to third when right fielder Berry overthrew the bag at second.

Ron Wyatt then stepped to the plate but was called out on strikes. With one down and a man aboard the bag at third and another at first, the situation was ripe for Dinnie Hanks.

Hanks provided the win when he clubbed a long triple scoring Pitcher, and the game's winning tally.

In the second fracas, Bend couldn't get rolling. Neither could Lebanon at first. The third inning got things going for the visitors, as they picked up two runs.

Lebanon went lackluster in the fourth, but padded its lead with two more tallies in the top of the fifth. Perkins toiled on the mound for the visitors and went the distance for the win. He limited Bend to three hits. The nightcap went only five frames.

Things are still in the fire, but another twin bill between Bend and Lebanon junior teams is in the making. Coach Hugh McNair was not available for comment, but the tilt may be scheduled this week, it was revealed today.

Last Thursday, the Bend juniors were humbled by a fiery Redmond crew, 7-2, and then edged 1-0. Redmond and Bend junior leaguers play in a league comprising themselves, Prineville and Burns. A proposed Madras team never materialized.
