Special to The Bulletin
REDMOND — Pamela Smith, 18, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Smith, Redmond, has become the eighth Deschutes County 4-H clubber to earn the coveted "Dad Potter Award" for horsemanship.

Miss Smith won the award on her fourth try in three years at the annual 4-H horse judging contest at the Rim Rock Riders' grounds in the Glen Vista Community near Bend.

Judging the rider and her buckskin, Timbuku, in execution of the 12 required movements were, Jesse Hudson, Redmond, Arabian horse breeder; John Schmid, County 4-H agent, and Frank Bryan, breeder and stockman, Eastern Star.

Miss Smith says two of her previous efforts were with Timbuku. The horse's age is about 20. "It proves," she says, "that you can teach an old horse new tricks."

A 4-H rider for seven years, she won a trip to the State Fair last year for her horsemanship. Besides training Timbuku and a strawberry roan, she is training a three-quarter Arabian and one-quarter Mustang colt, Ibn Derabi. Already the rose-grey stallion, 11 months old, has won a white ribbon at the Salem Arabian show and a red one at Oswego.

Miss Smith was graduated last spring from Redmond Union High School. She plans to enter Willamette University this fall.

Pilot Butte Inn petition subject

PORTLAND (UPI)—The acting U.S. Attorney Friday petitioned for removal of court action on efforts to auction the Pilot Butte Inn in Bend from the Deschutes County Circuit Court to the U.S. District Court.

The action by acting U.S. Atty. Sidney Lezak would remove the case from Deschutes County where a restraining order has been issued against the U.S. Marshal and sale of the inn has been set for Thursday, July 11 in the Deschutes County Courthouse.

A hearing is set for the previous day, July 10, by Federal Judge William East to determine if the sale should go on as scheduled.

Sale of the large hotel in downtown Bend by the U.S. Marshal became bogged down for the third time a week ago when a restraining order was served by Sheriff Forrest C. Sholes.

The action was termed a "conspiracy by a bunch of members of the local bar" by California attorney Edward Bloom who represents the plaintiff, Martin T. Byrne in a civil suit against Jack Daniel Corbett and others, alleged owners of the property.

Byrne was trying to sell the half-century old inn to satisfy a California judgment in which Byrne was awarded recovery of $139,212 involving stock transactions.

The suit charges the defendants with forming a number of corporations in order to evade federal taxes. Byrne and Clark Barrett are trustees in bankruptcy for Frank William Corbett.

Special to The Bulletin
PRINEVILLE — About 2,000 rockhounds have registered for the All Rockhound Pow Wow, held at the Crook county fair and rodeo grounds during the past week, according to Pow Wow office records.

Many of the rockhounds camped at the fairgrounds, others set up camp at locations near the rockhounding areas or in the state parks by Ochoco and Prineville reservoirs. A continuous activity among the rockhounds has marked the past week.

Sunday marks the final day of the Pow Wow, with rockhunters expected to begin leaving their campsites this evening and throughout Sunday, at the conclusion of what many referred to as a most highly successful summer rockhounding vacation.

Federal aid for drought area sought

By United Press International
Light rainstorms swept the Mississippi Valley today but did little to ease the growing drought across Midwest farmland.

While most of the nation enjoyed the final days of a holiday weekend in fair, warm weather, Wisconsin Gov. John Reynolds appealed to the federal government for aid to 11 drought-stricken farm counties.

Farmers reported deterioration of pasture and hay crops was cutting milk production and forcing the sale of livestock because of feed shortages.

While millions of Americans frolicked in the waters off the eastern and southern coasts where pleasant temperatures and cloudless skies prevailed, water shortages were reported in eight Michigan communities.

Iowa farmers, their crops threatened by the long, dry spell, met to discuss cloud-seeding methods. Some parts of the southwest Iowa and northwest Missouri area have seen no rain for more than seven weeks.

The Weather Bureau said scattered thunderstorms and light showers were expected in the Central Plains eastward through the middle Mississippi Valley by nightfall.

Warmer temperatures and continued fair weather were on tap for the East, while the South will continue its hot spell.

Gila Bend, Ariz., reported a high of 109 degrees Friday, and 100-degree readings pushed across the Central Plains.

Chester, Conn., reported hail one-inch in diameter. Hail also was reported at Miles City, Mont.

GET U.S. TRAINING

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department has announced that students from Tunisia, Nigeria, Liberia and probably other African nations will begin a six-month military training course at Ft. Knox, Ky., this month.

The Pentagon said Friday the six-month program is a "leadership course" to provide instruction in weapons and tactics and for small military units.

Bend area to get showers

Showers!
This is the weather outlook in Central Oregon for the weekend.

These showers are expected tonight, and again on Sunday afternoon, the forecast issued from the Portland office of the U.S. Weather Bureau this morning indicates.

Some thunderstorms are expected in the eastern part of the state.

The western Oregon forecast is a bit more optimistic. It calls for showers, but with sunny weather in the afternoon.

Temperatures are to remain mild, but not hot, with 80 as the high predicted for Bend today.

Bend Friday evening recorded a "Light trace" of rain.

Fine minors for possession

Three minors paid $25 fines plus court costs in municipal court Friday for being minors in possession of alcoholic beverage.

Fined were William Robert Tye, 156 Reed Market Road; Harvey Vern Freeman, 357 E. Marshall, and Lee Alan Cottingham, 346 DeKalb.

Tye also was assessed $5 and costs for excessive vehicle noise.

Douglas Wayne Patterson, 556 Portland Ave., paid a $5 fine and costs for operating a motor scooter without an operator's license.

Motorists who forfeited bail and did not appear in court were John Amos Shoulters, Jr., Days Creek, disobeying a traffic signal, $10 and costs, and Byser Markus, Dobbs, Ferry, N.Y., reverse turn between intersections, $5 and costs.

The ticket vending system works this way: The fee for overnight camping is $1 a day. The vending machines, with instructions, are located near the campground entrance.

The prospective camper drives in, selects a camp unit, and returns to the vending machine. He inserts two fifty cent pieces into machine, which dispenses a dated ticket. The camper then fills out the back of the ticket and inserts it in the ticket box located near the road at his camp site.

If the camper lacks proper change, he leaves a note for the attendant to contact him and make change.

Tickets expire at 2 p.m., on the day following purchase. New tickets can be purchased after 9 a.m. each day.

Golden wedding anniversary set

All friends of Mr. and Mrs. Allen in the area are being invited. Allen for 20 years served as Deschutes County judge. He and Mrs. Allen are old time residents of the Tumalo community.

Allen is a member of the Bend Kiwanis Club.

Employment surpasses 1945 prophecy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In 1945 a prediction by then Commerce Secretary Henry A. Wallace that the American economy could provide 60 million jobs drew derisive hoots of skeptics.

Friday the Labor Department announced that 70.3 million Americans had jobs in June—the first time in history the 70-million mark was broken.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz said the employment figure "on the face of it, seems like a good record," but he added a "but."

He noted that the June jobless figure of 4.3 million was 1.8 million more than for the same month 15 years ago and said: "We realize that the record is not good enough."

Fifteen years ago, June, 1948, was when Wallace's prophecy of 60 million jobs came true for the first time. However it wasn't until 1961 that the annual rate of employment reached a steady 60 million.

The employment increase for this June jumped 1.3 million, the government's report showed. But this was about what was expected for the early summer season.
