Fine man for blaze precedes not leaving name fire summons

Special to The Bulletin
PRINEVILLE — City councilmen no longer will need to be concerned with the routine ritual which has been in progress for some time to effect the condemnation of an empty building at the corner of Eighth and Harwood Streets.
The building, long considered a fire and safety hazard, burned down Saturday afternoon. Condemnation proceedings had reached the stage where firemen were soon to destroy the building by controlled burning. When they answered the fire summons to the burning structure, they put their controlled burning plan into effect immediately, though some days sooner than expected.
The fire was believed to have been started by children playing in the empty house.

Talks resume
PORTLAND (UPI) — Contract talks between two Pacific Coast Pulp and Paper mill unions and representatives of 48 employers resumed today.
Officials of the Pacific Coast Association of Pulp and Paper Manufacturers, which represents mills in Oregon, Washington and California, met with negotiators for the Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers and the United Papermakers and Paperworkers.
The unions rejected an offer of a 7 1/2-cent hourly wage increase and fringe benefits early in June.

City chief quits to help Birchers

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (UPI)—Joseph McD. Mitchell, to whom controversy is nothing new, has resigned his post as Newburgh city manager to work for the John Birch Society, hotbed of right-wing conservatism in the nation.
He will become an organization director of the society's Eastern Seaboard division. Announcing the change Monday, the 41-year-old administrator said he took the new job because "it involved a cause in which I believe."
Mitchell's program to crack down on so-called welfare chiselers in Newburgh touched off a nationwide controversy. He again made headlines more recently when he was tried and exonerated on a bribe taking charge.

Planes in last day of search for Sno' Boy

MIAMI (UPI) — Navy and Coast Guard planes today began the last day of a hopeless search for the fishing boat "Sno' Boy" apparently lost with 40 persons aboard in Caribbean waters.
The search began when the 64-foot vessel failed to report after leaving Kingston, Jamaica, July 1 for Northeast Cay, 80 miles away. Since then rescue squads have found one unidentified body, a raft and pieces of debris from the blue and white boat.
The Navy said it would call off the search after today.
Nine crewmembers and 31 Jamaican fishermen were on the vessel when it left for Northeast Cay in the Pedro Banks fishing grounds to the south. Skipper of the ill-fated ship was identified as Lewis Tole, an Australian.
"From evidence at hand, it is believed the 'Sno' Boy' either swamped in high seas or broke up on a reef with no survivors," said a message from the Navy to the Coast Guard here Monday.

Rails notch stock gain

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks showed signs of firming today. Even the strike-threatened rails, which Monday took their worst trouncing in 13 months, notched a small gain. Chrysler tacked on nearly a point in a generally firm auto section.
Steels showed little change. DuPont improved in a steady chemical section. Some metals and electronics moved higher but a few drugs softened.
IBM paced the electronic gainers with a jump of around 2 1/2 followed by Electronic Associates, up close to a point. Xerox was another upside feature, up close to 5.
U.S. Smelting, Polaroid, Leeson and Control Data gained about a point or more. Corning Glass and Abbott Labs dipped roughly a point.

House committee chops budget

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Space Committee today chopped $489 million from President Kennedy's new $5.7 billion civilian space budget, bringing it below what the space agency called a minimum figure.
The House is expected to endorse the committee's recommendations when it votes on the big authorization bill next week.
The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) has indicated that it could not "live with" any cut beyond $400 million.
The committee reduction amounted to 8 per cent of the NASA request for the fiscal year that started July 1. Administration officials are hopeful the Senate will restore some of the cuts. There have been hints, however, that the Senate also favors sizable reductions.

Searching hard

EUREKA, Calif. (UPI)—A high overcast over northwestern California today hampered the search for a missing light plane carrying Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vike of Seattle, Wash.
Three aircraft — 10 less than Monday's search effort — took off to look for the single-engine airplane that disappeared Saturday en route from Ukiah to Crescent City, Calif.

Gaston woman gets 4-year jail sentence

HILLSBORO (UPI) — Mrs. Evelyn Flett, 34, Gaston, was sentenced to four years in the state penitentiary Monday on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.
Mrs. Flett was to have stood trial in Washington County Circuit Court on a charge of manslaughter resulting from the knifing death of her husband, Eldon, in November, 1961. The state dismissed the manslaughter charge when Mrs. Flett pleaded guilty to assault.

Two men arrested on robbery count

Special to The Bulletin
PRINEVILLE — A case of robbery by force is pending for either grand jury hearing or circuit court trial. Released on $1500 bail is Jimmie Mitchell, with Don Williams being held in jail for lack of a similar amount of bail on the charge.
In making the charge in justice court, officers said Williams and Mitchell were charged with robbing M. E. Picknor of $8, by force, while presumably driving home on McKay Road. Both men waived preliminary hearing.

Wilson says Romney is poor politician, but has 'instinct'

By Lyle C. Wilson
UPI Staff Writer
Gov. George Romney may not be much of a politician, as charged, but his instinct for the warm and gracious political gesture is about as good as John F. Kennedy's. That is very good, indeed.
Romney demonstrated his political instinct last weekend in fashionable Grosse Pointe, Mich. There he stepped off the sidelines in a surprise appearance at the head of an NAACP anti-segregation parade. It appears that Romney just took over. No previous arrangements. The governor simply stepped to the head of the parade and led off.
No one who knows Romney well would ascribe that maneuver wholly to politics. Romney is a man of severe integrity. He is likely under any circumstances to be moved more by moral than other considerations.
Nonetheless, Romney needs to make some character with American Negroes. For example: Just published is "Black Man in the White House" by E. Frederic Morrow (Coward-McCann, $5.95). Morrow was White House administrative officer for special projects, 1955-61, during the Eisenhower administration. There is a passage that will interest Romney.
Morrow is something less than objective in his discussion of the Negro and his problems, political and otherwise. But he knows his subject. His credentials are excellent. Morrow wrote that the Eisenhowers invited him and his wife to hear the Mormon Choir from Salt Lake City in a White House concert.
"It was a deeply moving experience," Morrow noted in his diary, "and, despite my feeling about Mormons, I have to admit that they have one of the finest musical groups I have ever heard. Salt Lake City is a difficult city for Negro residents. It has deep-seated, relentless discrimination and, since the city is run, controlled and practically owned by Mormons, it is only natural that I have developed strong feelings about them."
Morrow's book will be widely read by Negroes in the North and East. The Salt Lake City passage will do no good to Romney's political future. It could be offset, however, by maneuvers such as leading NAACP parades. Further, the governor is solidly on record on civil rights.

Five burn to death in crash

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (UPI) — Three passenger cars and a bus collided in a violent and fiery crash on the Penn Lincoln Parkway today.
Witnesses at the scene reported that five or six persons burned to death in the flaming wreckage of one car. One of the dead was a 5-year-old boy.
Police said five of the victims, trapped in one car, were burned beyond recognition.
The boy, also riding in the burned car, was thrown clear and landed on the highway still alive, but he died a short time later after being taken to Mercy Hospital.
Joe Schubert, an employee at a restaurant near the scene, told United Press International that he had counted the bodies of four or five persons still in the smoldering wreckage of one car.
