

Couple dies in two-car crash

By United Press International
A two-car collision south of Oregon City Wednesday night took the lives of a Canby couple and injured two of their grandchildren.

The victims were William E. Schaeffer, 58, and his wife, Florence, 56.

Injured in the crash were Lynette L. Hage, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hage, Portland, and Billy Schaeffer, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Schaeffer, Canby. The girl was reported in serious condition at a Portland hospital.

State Police said the Schaeffer car collided with one driven by Frederick E. Mittelstadt of Oregon City. Mittelstadt was unhurt. The crash occurred on U.S. Highway 99E north of New Era.

Oregon traffic accidents also took a third life Wednesday when Air Force Sgt. Lucien Robert Rouleau, 38, of Monmouth died in a Portland hospital. He was injured Tuesday when his car collided with one driven by Mrs. Avis VanDolah, 45, of Silverton near Salem.

Rouleau was stationed at Adair Air Force Base near Corvallis.

Bend church women sew garments for Algerians

Omar, the tent maker would have to go some to out-do the women of the Bend sewing societies of the Christian, Episcopal, Methodist and Presbyterian Churches.

Twenty Arab-styled Djellabahs were made by the individual members of the sewing circles, since they had disbanded for the summer. Some basted, stitched, or pressed in an assembly line type operation.

The project was sponsored by the American Red Cross chapter as part of an expanded program of assistance for Algerian refugees. Volunteers in more than a score of American Red Cross chapters will make the Arab-styled garments from 195,000 yards of fine woolen cloth turned over to the Red Cross by the Department of Defense.

In Bend, Mrs. Clyde Johnson of the Red Cross Board sponsored the project. It was supervised and carried to a satisfactory conclusion by Mrs. Edward Thurston.

The clothing project is but part of the effort to help nearly 5,000,000 persons in Algeria who are seriously affected by civil strife and related events.

Other Red Cross societies and governments also are assisting in a mammoth feeding program.

In recent months, the ARC has allocated more than $100,000 to the Algerian program. Included were 130 sewing machines, cloth, medical supplies, youth friendship boxes, and $40,000 in cash. Part of this was used to establish 150 child feeding stations.

Feeding responsibilities in the separate geographical areas of Algeria have been taken on by the Church World Service, Catholic Relief Services, and the League of Red Cross Societies.

Committee resumes work on 'tax cut'

By Vincent J. Burke
UPI Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — After a 26-day interruption, the House Ways & Means Committee will resume work Monday on the big tax cut President Kennedy wants enacted this year.

Although Kennedy aides have been pressing for faster action, it is doubtful that a bill can be steered to the House floor for a vote before mid-August.

The committee's bill is expected to provide a reduction in everybody's federal income taxes, effective next Jan. 1. The odds strongly favor House passage.

Confident Of Action
Although Senate action on the tax bill is certain to be delayed by a struggle over civil rights legislation, administration aides professed confidence that Congress would complete action on both measures this year.

The White House has put top priority labels on both bills. Kennedy has insisted that an economy-stimulating tax cut is needed to avoid danger of a recession next year and to create new jobs to curb unemployment which is much higher among Negroes than whites.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., suspended tax action by the Ways & Means Committee on June 18 to give the staff time to draft legislation embodying the committee's tentative decisions. The draft will be ready Monday.

It probably will take the committee at least two weeks to hammer the tax bill into final shape. Then, it will take additional time to clear the measure to the House floor.

New Revenue Expected
As it stands now, the draft includes tentative decisions that would yield $600 million of the $3.6 billion in new revenue which Kennedy requested to partly offset tax cuts totaling about $14 billion which he proposed.

The committee is likely to reverse an earlier decision and boost the revenue gain to about $900 million by agreeing to eliminate part of the favorable tax differential that applies to income from stock dividends.

The decisions on how much to reduce tax rates will be deferred until last. The committee is expected to wind up with a package that would result in a net tax reduction of less than the $10.4 billion proposed by Kennedy.

Typhoon Wendy passes Guam

HONOLULU (UPI) — Typhoon Wendy, with winds of more than 100 miles an hour near the center, appeared today to have bypassed the island of Guam.

The Philippines could catch the full brunt of the storm.

The Honolulu Weather Bureau said the typhoon center was about 90 miles south-southwest of Guam early today and was expected to be about 170 miles due west of the island early Friday.

The weather bureau said winds at the center were expected to increase to nearly 100 m.p.h. as the typhoon headed toward the Philippines.

Education can whip underlying anti-CD feeling

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) — The underlying feeling which caused the reduction of the Oregon civil defense program may exist in other areas of the country, but it can be overcome by a program of educating the people, according to the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Civil Defense.

Walter F. Lineberger made the statement here Wednesday en route to the Region 8 Civil Defense Conference in Yakima today and Friday.

Lineberger said he does not feel the underlying feeling which caused the state civil defense program is the start of a trend.

"It is possible that people would rather not face the problem of having to resort to fallout shelters," he added, "but would prefer to feel that missiles and other defenses can solve the problem."

"Fallout shelters can save tens of millions of lives in the event of a nuclear attack," Lineberger said. "The defense shelter system represents the difference between possible annihilation and maximum survival."

He admitted "in some ways we have lagged in civil defense."

City ponders inspector post

Special To The Bulletin
PRINEVILLE — Construction work in Prineville is currently without a building inspector. City councilmen heard the letter of resignation from Fred Stone, former inspector, read at the regular council meeting Tuesday evening.

Stone stated that current criticism of his work, together with press of business impelled his action.

Councilmen considered the problem, discussing two applicants for the job, and the need to raise the $25 monthly stipend which had been paid for the work.

Mayor Russell Vernon appointed Harold Gray and Stuart Shelk, councilmen, and Francis Juris, recorder, as a committee to make the study and work out a compensation schedule.

Bomb bursts at Belgian shrine

BRUSSELS (UPI)—A bomb exploded early today at Belgium's tomb of the unknown soldier, damaging the memorial and extinguishing its "sacred flame" for the first time since the end of World War I.

Windows in the area were shattered but authorities said there were no reports of casualties.

The mysterious blast occurred at 3 a.m., damaging stonework around the entrance to the 156-foot high monument, known as Congress Column.

Police said the freestone slab with the urn of the sacred flame at the entrance to the tomb escaped damage, but the flame itself went out.
