2 Bend Girl Scouts on road to new experiences

Two Bend senior Girl Scouts, Kathleen Kemple and Susan Billings, will soon be on their way to new scouting experiences, Kathleen in California and Susan in the San Juan Islands off the coast of Washington.

Kathleen, 16, who will be a Bend High School junior, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Kemple, 720 Riverside Boulevard, Susan, 15 and a sophomore, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Billings, 403 Emerson Avenue. Both are members of Mrs. William L. Schuckel's troop No. 105. Mothers of both girls have been Girl Scout leaders.

Kathleen will attend the Senior Girl Scout "opportunity" encampment August 1-17 at Camp Timbertain, Emigrant Gap, Calif. A Girl Scout for nine years, Kathleen will be one of some 135 girls representing every state in the union at the leadership camp. Projects will be held for specific needs of areas throughout the nation.

Susan will be one of 64 girls who will make a bicycle tour of the San Juan Islands, starting from Mt. Vernon, where her parents will take her by car. She will leave Sunday and return August 4. The group will camp at state parks, carrying bed rolls, clothing and all other equipment on their bicycles. They will cover about 40 miles. The last three days of the outing, they will be entertained by Canadian Girl Guides, at a hotel in Bellingham.

Both girls were selected for their trips on a competitive basis. Kathleen attended the alternate camp at Salmon, Idaho, last year. She is giving some thought to the possibility of attending the world-wide encampment next year in Switzerland. When she returns to Bend from California, trained to aid adult leaders in troop camping, she will work with Mrs. Jack Meissner in a special project for the local area.

Susan, who was named as first alternate for the bicycle tour, is attending in place of Kit Metke, who was unable to accept because of unforeseen circumstances. Coincidentally, all three girls named as possible bike tourists are Bend Scouts. Julie Meissner was second alternate.

Susan also qualified for a program aides' camp in Klamath Falls and a pack trip to a primitive area, both scheduled for the same period as the bicycle tour. She has been a Girl Scout eight years.

Kathleen will leave July 31 on the California trip.

Former Bend youngster dies

Word is received that Richard Lange, 10, former resident of Bend, died Thursday afternoon of a cancer condition at the University of Oregon Medical School Hospital in Portland.

He was the son of Arthur and Jean Lange, 3616 Lake Road, Milwaukie.

Richard was born on April 8, 1933 in Portland. In Bend he was a student of Allen School, a parishioner of First Presbyterian Church and a member of the Bantam Baseball League. The Lange family moved from Bend to the Portland area about a year ago to provide medical treatment for Richard. Mr. Lange had been a representative in Bend for the U.S. Rubber Company, and later an employee of Shoop & Schulze Tire Service.

Funeral services will be held in the St. Stephen Lutheran Church in Gladstone, where the youth was baptized. In place of flowers, memorials are requested to be sent either to the Cancer Fund or the First Presbyterian Church of Bend.

Among the boy's survivors are his parents, two sisters, Marcy and Patricia, and a brother, Bobby.

Schwab reveals expansion plan

Opening of a new store in Klamath Falls and a change in the management of his Bend plant was announced today by Les Schwab of Prineville, presently operator of 13 different tire centers in the region.

Schwab's associate, Dick Turner, who at present manages the Bend center, will be manager of the new Klamath Falls center, 14th in the regional setup. Dick Defoe, who has been assistant manager of the Bend store for the past three years, will take over as manager of the Bend center. Defoe, his wife Margery and their four children live in the Glen Vista area just north of Bend. Defoe has been associated with tires most of his life, Schwab noted. For the past seven years he has been with the Les Schwab Tire Center in Prineville and Bend.

Construction of a new building for the Klamath Falls Tire Center will be started next week. It will be at South 6th and Madison Streets, on property owned by Les and Dorothy Schwab.

Turner plans to sell his Bend home, at 820 East Franklin, and move to Klamath Falls about the middle of August.

"We plan to build in Klamath Falls the most modern tire center in the area," Schwab said, adding: "The building will have air conditioning, tiled rest rooms, large parking areas, large show rooms and comfortable waiting rooms."

The Les Schwab firm now has tire centers in Prineville, where the home office is located; Redmond, Bend, Madras, John Day, Hood River, The Dalles, Fossil, Mitchell, Hines and Post. There are three of the firm's centers in Prineville.

Presbyterians to hear talk by lodge head

The Rev. Edward J. Patterson, director of Santiam Lodge, will be the guest minister at the First Presbyterian Church of Bend Sunday, July 21, at 9:30 a.m. His message will be entitled, "So Live in Him."

Harvey Watt of the local congregation will assist in the service. A women's ensemble will sing the anthem, "Bow Down Thine Ear, O Lord," by George Frederic Handel, with Mrs. C. E. Bush, church organist, as accompanist.

The guest pastor, who is also stated clerk of the Willamette Presbytery, was pastor of the Willamette United Presbyterian Church at Oakville prior to January, 1962. He and his family now live at the lodge, on the Santiam Highway at the crest of the Cascades.

The Rev. James P. McGugin of the local church will serve this coming week as dean of the junior high camp at Santiam Lodge. This weekend he is participating with other staff members in a training program in preparation for the arrival of the campers Sunday afternoon.

Local families at church meet

Several local families will attend weekend activities at the Oregon Conference of Seventh Day Adventists. The annual camp is being held at Gladstone.

Local people attending are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Van Tassel, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Olson, Mrs. Paul Hundley, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Thompson and family.

Others attending are Mr. and Mrs. Orvel Hanson, Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. Lester Kramer and children.

The group will be host to the Voice of Prophecy radio broadcast which originates from Los Angeles. They will also hear speakers from various mission fields.

Crews arrive to find fire out

A small grass fire was reported burning this morning between railroad rails about six miles north of town toward Redmond, but it was out when Bend firemen arrived.

The only fire alarm Friday was for a small grass fire on property at the 1300 block on Newport. It caused no damage.

Prineville Jaycees slate Sabin clinic

Special to The Bulletin PRINEVILLE — An oral Sabin Vaccine clinic will be sponsored July 22 by Prineville Jaycees for all residents of the area who have not taken protection dosages against polio in all three types of vaccine.

The vaccine will be given at the Crook county nursing home, from 7-9 p.m., at the customary nominal charge, with a slight change. Vaccine will be given for 50 cents per person or $1.75 per family, according to Sid Harper, chairman for the project.

Dr. Elton Wood will be the physician in attendance, assisted by nurses from the Pioneer Memorial staff. Vaccine may be taken either on a sugar lump or in distilled water, Harper said.

Some 400 persons took advantage of the Jaycee clinic when the vaccine was offered in early May at the last clinic.
