Girl Scouts trek along Skyline trail

With light hearts and heavy 20 pound pack sacks on their backs, 25 Girl Scouts left Sunday to hike 37 1/2 miles on the Skyline trail. Judy Branstetter, Mona Sue Hickman, Marie Freeburg, all of Bend and Diana Wales of Klamath Falls, joined 21 other girls for the trek. The other girls are all from Eugene.

The Girl Scouts met at Irish-Taylor Lakes, about 60 miles from Bend, where they picked up the Skyline trail. They will complete the hike on July 28, after hiking from the Irish-Taylor Lake region to White Fish Camp on Crescent Lake. Plans are to hike from three to seven miles a day, depending on weather and trail conditions.

Organization and execution of the hike is being done under the "senior opportunity" program of the Girl Scouts. All girls are given a choice of three projects. A hike on the Skyline trail was one of the choices offered. The girls will have a Trail Blazing rank when they return.

Trip director is Mrs. Stanley Hasek of Eugene. Co-director is Mrs. Clifford Soderstrom, also of Eugene.

Outside groups to join Pageant pet parade on Saturday morning

By Phil F. Brogan
Bulletin Staff Writer
Bend's 1963 Pet Parade, a top feature of the Mirror Pond Pageant program, will include a dozen groups from outside points, including Portland, Junction City and Estacada, Vic Kaiser, chairman in charge of this event for the Jaycees, reported today.

In the line of march will be rodeo and fair royalty from six different towns, when the parade is held Saturday, July 27.

It is the plan of the Jaycees to arrange the parade so the visiting units will not be concentrated at one place in the line of march, but will fit into children sections, pet and group entries at intervals.

Kaiser reported today that Estacada is sending its water festival court to take part in the parade, the colorful Vikings from Junction City will again be represented by their Norse ship and its hardy crew. Last year, the Vikings not only took part in the parade, but along the line of march stopped occasionally to capture a maiden, or a civic leader.

Rodeo Court Due
Lakeview will be represented not only by two groups of its Strutters, but by its Lake County Rodeo court. Redmond's Potato Festival court will also be present, as will the Jefferson County Rodeo court.

The Shrine Band from Portland is to join in the parade, with the musicians appearing in their colorful costumes.

Also in the line of march, from outside points, will be the Crook County Rodeo court, the Redmond Fire Department, the Deschutes County Fair Court and the Cascade Boat Club.

Bringing up the rear will be the Rim Rock Riders.

Despite the many outside entries this year, children and their pets will be in the spotlight Saturday at 11 a.m. when the parade swings into formation and moves north on Bond, before coming back downtown over Wall and heading west for Drake Park.

Hundreds of youngsters or weeks have been preparing for the parade, grooming pets and preparing community floats. There will be carried pets, as well as walking pets, and there will be many decorated bicycles and tricycles.

Up near the head of the parade will be the Bend Mirror Pageant court of 1963, headed by a queen who will be named here tomorrow night at the coronation ball.

Many Groups
Boy Scouts will intermingle with junior baseball groups. Competing for attention will be marching units from eastside and westside playgrounds in Bend. Soap box cars will vie for attention with

Hood River man named to state welfare board

SALEM (UPI)—Temporary Gov. Ben Musa today named Ralph W. Perry Sr., 65, a semi-retired Hood River orchardist, to the State Public Welfare Commission.

It is the first time since Gov. Mark Hatfield has been in office that a substitute governor has made an appointment to a state board or commission.

Musa, president of the Oregon Senate, has full powers when Hatfield is out of state.

The senate president said today he recalled that a temporary governor years ago had appointed a circuit judge, Sen. Walter J. Pearson pardoned a murderer who was serving time in the Oregon penitentiary when he was temporary governor in 1960.

Hatfield Not Told
Hatfield, who is in Miami attending the National Governor's Conference, was unaware of today's appointment.

Warne Nunn, Hatfield's administrative assistant said he "wouldn't recognize Perry if he walked in the door."

"I think the governor will be real happy with this appointment," Musa said this morning.

He explained the naming of the new commissioner wasn't aimed at embarrassing Hatfield.

"I just wanted to add to the stature of that commission. I think I'll be complimented for doing a good job," Musa declared.

Musa Recommended Perry
Musa said he had known Perry for many years and he had recommended Hatfield appoint him after Roy Webster, also of Hood River, resigned from the commission last week.

Webster and Perry are neighbors in Hood River, which is a part of the senate district Musa represents. Both men are orchardists.

Perry was a member of the Hood River County Welfare Commission from 1936 until 1956, except for one two-year interval.

Special To The Bulletin
PRINEVILLE—Marvin Puett, Prineville, selected the wrong location for disorderly conduct early Sunday morning. He walked into the city police station of his own volition and began a type of conduct described by police chief Mike Thompson as "obnoxious."

A nearby cell soon received Puett. After spending Sunday in jail Puett was released on $50 bail. He appeared in city court Monday morning to pay a $30 fine for his mislocated conduct.

Two motorists get citations

Two motorists collected citations charging them with traffic violations.

Cited this morning was Donn Gregory Black, Auburn, Wash., on charges of making a reverse turn in the middle of the block, with $75.00 bail.

Kenneth Lee Linville, 1002 Baltimore, was charged Sunday with a basic rule violation, with $25 bail.

Committee named to study New Deschutes apartment building plans

By Gerald Drapeau
Bulletin Staff Writer

Bend city planners last night appointed a three-man committee to find means by which the city can gain new apartment buildings without "chipping away" at residential areas.

The committee, composed of R. G. McFarland and Drs. Edgar Timm and Bradford Pease, will institute two alternate studies; whether to provide a separate zone classification for multiple-family dwellings, or append these dwellings to a list of allowable uses in the zoning ordinance.

Zoning problems have multiplied considerably in recent months. Requests by apartment builders for zone changes to build in areas now designated as single or two-family zones, have brought continual denials by the city commission. Most of the builders consider the current multiple-family zones unsuitable for their purposes, because of distance from the business area. Still, the city needs new apartments, and is seeking a lawful way to locate them.

The committee was authorized to name a date for a public hearing to accompany the studies.

In other action, the board held a public hearing on a proposed zone change of a block lying between E. Fourth and Fifth Streets

New Deschutes span planned

A new bridge is to be constructed over the Deschutes River. This will be the Three Trappers' span, and will cross the Deschutes up near its origin in the high Lava Lake country.

Bids for the project, which calls for a bridge 51 feet in length, will be received at 3 p.m. on August 9. A copy of the bid and plans can be obtained from the Deschutes National Forest office in Bend.

The project is located approximately 33 miles along the Cascade Lakes Forest Highway.

The project calls for furnishing all labor, tools, equipment and materials to complete construction of the span. The project includes 14 pre-stressed slabs.

The span will be a half mile east of the Cascade Lakes route, between Deschutes Bridge and Caltus River.

Work on road nearing finish

Another section of The Dalles-California Highway, near its northern end, has been modernized.

A binder coat of oil, with leveling course of three-quarter inch stone, has been applied on nearly all of the 4.94 mile Eight Mile Creek-Dufur section of the route. Only a short unrolled strip remains at the extreme south end of the project.

This new unit links on the south with the modern highway that reaches into The Dalles.

Grading is progressing on the Dufur-Gap section, the next improvement to the south.

Farther south, work is underway on a new route down the Tygh Valley grade country.

District court bail forfeited

A Bend man, Ralph William Boese, forfeited $10 bail Monday in Deschutes county district court, for excessive engine noise.

Delbert Samuel Anderson, Co-hasset, Minn., was fined $7.50 for obscured rear vision.

Both appeared before Judge Joe Thalhofer.
