

Mets handed 20th straight defeat on road

By Fred Down
UPI Staff Writer

The song of the open road is the saddest song of all for the New York Mets.

This is the saddest of all major league teams and it's official today that the sad, sad song of the open road is their official theme song.

New York fans have accepted them with an amused tolerance and even glorified their ineptitude but in foreign cities they find their real home because they are accepted with open arms. They are the solution to every manager's problem — the team that can't win for trying. It went into the record book Friday night when the Houston Astros whipped them, 7-3, and handed them their 20th straight loss on the road. No team in all the annals of modern major league baseball history ever did that before and if you're looking for a worse reason for more big league expansion you'd better check commissioner Ford C. Frick. Casey Stengel is fresh out of ideas.

Details? They're awful. The Colts scored seven runs in the first inning. They got three walks and starter Tracy Stallard hit a batter. Rusty Staub, Bob Lillis and Dick Farrell hit singles. Al Spangler hit a double and Bob Aspromonte hit a grand slam homer.

A Futile Try
The Mets made a pathetic effort to avoid topping the all-time record for road futility set by the 1916 Philadelphia Athletics when they rallied for three runs in the third inning but Dick Farrell, a tough cookie who knows a pigeon when he sees one, settled down and shut them out for the rest of the way to score his eighth victory of the season. The Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers, 6-5, the San Francisco Giants beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-4, the Cincinnati Reds bombarded the Milwaukee Braves, 11-1, and the St. Louis Cardinals topped the Chicago Cubs, 4-1, in other NL games.

Tony Taylor drove in five runs with three singles to lead the Phillies to their 20th victory in 26 games this month. Chris Short picked up his third win for the Phillies although Jack Baldschun, one of the unsung relief aces of the season, took over in the eighth. The Dodgers threatened in the ninth when Jim Gilliam and Tommy Davis singled but Baldschun struck out Frank Howard and retired Ron Fairly on an infield out.

Chuck Hiller hit a two-run, ninth-inning homer off Pirate relief ace Elroy Face, who set a major league record by making his 360th appearance in relief without a start. Jack Fisher won his fifth game for the Giants after the Pirates tied the score in the eighth on Johnny Logan's triple and a single by Bill Virdon. Willie McCovey hit his 30th homer of the season for the Giants.

Tommy Harper and Pete Rose led Cincinnati's 18-hit attack on five Milwaukee pitchers. Joe Nuxhall pitched a seven-hitter and struck out seven batters behind the attack which routed Tony Cloninger in 1 2/3 innings and saddled him with his seventh defeat. Rose, Harper, Vada Pinson and Johnny Edwards had three hits apiece for the Reds.

Bob Gibson's four-hit pitching and Ken Boyer's two-run homer paved the way for an easy victory over the Cubs. It was Gibson's 12th win of the season while Paul Toth was tagged with his sixth defeat.

Hawkins has 4 stroke lead in golf play

CHICAGO (UPI) — Home cooking might be just what Fred Hawkins needs to score his second tournament victory in 16 years on the pro golf tour.

Hawkins, 39, held a four-stroke lead heading into the final two rounds of the $50,000 Western Open with a 36-hole total of 135 on 18-hole rounds of 67 and 68.

He is the only player who has turned in consecutive rounds in the 60s.

It's not all because Hawkins is living at home for the tournament, where there's mother and father at Antioch, Ill. He has to drive his car for an hour and 20 minutes between home and golf links.

"It's too far and too long, really," Hawkins said, "but it's the only chance I got to see my parents during the years, so it's worthwhile."

It would be worth a minimum of $10,000 first money if the home cooking can keep him on the road to a win. Hawkins has played the tour steadily for a longer period than any other current competitor except 51-year-old Sam Snead, and he's won only one tournament, the 1956 Oklahoma Open.

Hawkins' consistent assault on par for the first 36 holes indicated he could hold his form for the rest of the event and see if anybody left in the field could catch him.

For today's third round, only those who scored 150 or under can continue, a field of 70 pros and one amateur.

The closest challengers were the ancient Snead, who has won more PGA tournaments than any other player, National Open champion Julius Boros and Bob McCallister, all with 139. Another trio was deadlocked at 140, five strokes behind, Joe Campbell, leading money winner Arnold Palmer, and Lionel Hebert.

Through five players, including Palmer and Boros, were able to score 67s yesterday, while only Hawkins could do it Thursday, the course generally played tougher than it did in the first round when 16 players netted par. Yesterday, only 14 could do it — and only 25 were par or better compared to 29 on the first round. For the 36 holes so far, 13 players were under par and seven were even.

Pitcher homers in 8-0 victory

By United Press International
Who was it said pitchers can't hit?

Ron Herr of Yakima did Friday night and pitched a five-hitter as well as Yakima blanked Wenatchee 8-0 in Northwest League action.

Eugene topped Lewiston 5-2 and Salem beat Tri-City 8-4 in the other games.

Herr contributed a solo homer in the third and a two-run homer in the fifth in Yakima's 11-hit attack. Tippy Johnson of the winners added a two-run shot in the fifth. Herr picked up his 11th win against five losses.

Cisco Carlos went the distance for Eugene to snap a seven-game losing streak. He allowed but four hits. Eugene got enough to win it in the fourth with three runs, one of which crossed on a double by Steve Selsky.

Salem collected 12 hits, including eight doubles, to sink Tri-City. The Dodgers got four runs in the second and added four in the seventh.

Gene Brabender, who won his 11th of the year, also picked up his first hit of the season in 33 times at bat.

GATE WINS FIGHT
NEW YORK (UPI) — Latest statistics from Sportsvision, Inc., prove that there was more action at the box office than in the ring for the Sonny Liston-Floyd Patterson rematch. More than 250,000 people paid $1,200,000 to watch via closed-circuit television the two minutes and 10 seconds fight.

BRONCO STOMP—This saddle-bronc rider takes to walking during rodeo action last year at the Deschutes County Fair. The rodeo will be held August 3 and 4, Saturday and Sunday afternoons, at the Redmond fairgrounds. The Indian village display will be improved this year.

Terrell goes after eighth straight win

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tall Ernie Terrell, Chicago's rapidly improving heavyweight contender, seeks his eighth straight victory tonight in a nationally televised fight with veteran Zora Foley at Madison Square Garden.

In his latest bout on April 13, the six-foot-seven Terrell outpointed rugged Cleveland Williams of Houston, Tex., whom champion Sonny Liston described as "the toughest man I ever fought," although Sonny stopped Williams twice.

Tonight eighth-ranked Terrell engages seventh-ranked Foley of Chandler, Ariz., who also fought Liston — and also was knocked out by savage Sonny.

Terrell, 24, is gunning for a title fight with Liston because he knows he has the long-jabbing and tight tying-up style that Liston abhors.

At Las Vegas, Nev., last week, Liston said: "You can have that Terrell. I don't want him. I don't like his style. He won't fight yuh! He pecks away with those long arms; then grabs yuh and ties yuh up in clinches. All he does is make yuh look bad."

Despite 31-year-old Foley's 11-year experience and slightly higher rating, betting is at even money for tonight's bout. It's "6-5 and pick 'em."

TRAFFICANT ON WAIVERS

WEST LIBERTY, W. Va. (UPI) — Defensive halfback Willie Daniels of the Pittsburgh Steelers is expected to be out of the action for six weeks after undergoing surgery for a torn knee cartilage. Quarterback Jim Traficant of Pitt has been placed on waivers as the Steelers closed out their first week of practice Friday.

Playing Yanks at home like meeting Sonny in dark alley

By Fred Down
UPI Staff Writer

The New York Yankees' American League rivals know how old-time visitors felt when they bought the Brooklyn Bridge because after a visit to Yankee Stadium this year they're lucky to escape with their shirts and gold teeth.

The Yankees are always tough but playing them at home is like fighting Sonny Liston in a dark alley. There's no percentage in it.

"Our team, especially our pitching, is geared for the stadium," explains manager Ralph Houk, viewing the Yankees' current eight-game lead through a cloud of cigar smoke. "Also, when we play on the road the fans turn out to see us beaten and they help get the other teams 'up.' Sometimes it's like taking on a whole city."

Well, the Minnesota Twins couldn't bring all their fans to New York Friday night and they'll settle Sunday night to escape with all their ball players. Because the Yankees not only knocked them off, 6-5, in the first game of a four-game series but also knocked star third baseman Rich Rollins into a hospital. The victory was the Yankees' 35th in 45 home games — a .778 percentage that compares with the AL record 65-16 home mark they had in 1961.

Rollins To Hospital

Rollins went to the hospital with a concussion of the left cheekbone after being struck by a wicked grounder hit by Hector Lopez. Earlier, Lopez delivered an even more damaging blow — a two-run homer that sent the Yankees off to a lead they never lost.

Jim Bouton was tagged for two homers, two triples and two doubles but went 8 1/3 innings to win his 13th game with the relief help of Steve Hamilton. Lopez had three hits and Elston Howard, Tony Kubek and Bobby Richardson two each for the Yankees. Minnesota homer hitters were Zoilo Versalles and Johnny Goryl.

In the National League, Philadelphia beat Los Angeles, 6-5, San Francisco beat Pittsburgh, 6-4, Houston downed New York, 7-3, Cincinnati drubbed Milwaukee, 11-1, and St. Louis topped Chicago, 4-1.

The Orioles moved into second place behind the three-hit pitching of Milt Pappas and the help of a two-run homer by Johnny Powell and a three-run homer by Johnny Orsino. Dave DeBusschere suffered his fourth loss for the White Sox. It was the Orioles' fourth consecutive win.

Stuart Ties Score

Dick Stuart tied the score with a two-run homer and the Red Sox went on to score the decisive run of their victory over the Angels on a double by Ed Bresnahan and a single by Bob Tillman. Jack Lamabe picked up his fifth victory for 2 2/3 innings of middle-inning relief although Dick Radatz finished.

Moe Drabowsky's third wild pitch of the game enabled Al Luplow to score from third base with the winning run for the Indians. Jack Kralick started poorly but settled down and shut out the Athletics for the last six innings, including one stretch during which he retired 15 consecutive batters.

Ken Retzer's two-run seventh-inning homer lifted Washington's Don Rudolph to his sixth win although Ron Kline pitched the ninth. Retzer's blow came off Frank Lary, who suffered his fourth loss against one win. Al Kaline homered for the Tigers.

Peggy Conley turns back foe

PORTLAND (UPI) — Peggy Conley of Spokane turned back Leslie Holbert of Seattle 2 up to win the Pacific Northwest Golf Association junior girls' tournament here Friday afternoon.

The 18-year-old Miss Conley, who captured the tourney two years ago and was beaten in the semifinals last year, was 2 up after nine holes in the scheduled 18-hole finals.

ROUGH COMPETITION

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (UPI) — Opponents Kentucky, Indiana, Notre Dame, and New York University top the 1963-64 basketball schedule of the University of North Carolina. Coach Dean Smith's Tar Heels will have eight lettermen returning from last year's club which posted a record of 15-6.

United States no longer has monopoly on stars of golfdom

By Oscar Fraley
UPI Staff Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — There was a time in golf when it was Texas against the world but the game has risen to such stature internationally today that the United States must struggle to hold its own.

Go back a few years to when you have such as Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson, Lloyd Mangrum, Jimmy Demaret, Jackie Burke and Henry Ransom, just to name a few. As a team they could not only have taken on a group from the rest of the nation and walloped their bristles but the rest of the world wasn't even in it.

Until, in 1957, Japan's Pete Nakamura and Koshi Ono swept the Canada Cup and International trophy competition.

Little Pete, an Oriental Gene Sarazen, took individual honors in the race among 34 nations and with Ono teamed to beat Demaret and Sammy Snead in the Canada Cup team championship.

Explodes Around World

Since then, golf has exploded around the world. Prior to that time, of course, Britain had its greats in such as Tommy Armour, Henry Cotton and Bobby Locke. The rest of the world was from nowhere when it came to knocking the little white ball into the cup.

But look at what's happening lately.

Just a year ago, little Gary Player of South Africa won the coveted PGA championship and this time around the leader going into the final round was Australia's Bruce Crampton, even though Jack Nicklaus collared him in the stretch.

Yet, Nicklaus on the head end and Arnold Palmer seeking his third straight couldn't capture the British Open. Lethander Bob Charles of New Zealand outstayed both of them. Then, Bruce Devlin, of Australia took the French Open.

national tempo are those Canada Cup matches which will be held at Versailles, France, Oct. 24-27. Go back over the results of this worldwide two-man competition for the last few years and you'll understand the international scope of this humbling game.

Last year, Roberto di Vicenzo won individual honors by beating both Snead and Arnold Palmer. He swept it a year earlier but prior to that Flory Van Dnoek of Belgium took individual honors, Angel Miguel of Spain was the head man while Ireland won team honors, Stan Leonard of Canada was top man on the totem pole when Australia took team honors — and Japan set up the whole "we can beat the United States" attitude by pulling off their coup in Tokyo.

Piersall to sign with Angels

BOSTON (UPI) — Bouncy Jimmy Piersall was expected to land back on his feet and in the major leagues today after being released three days ago by the New York Mets.

The veteran outfielder was expected to sign with the Los Angeles Angels as soon as the 72-hour waiver period expired today.

Piersall was returning to the American League at the place where he broke in 11 years ago. His short-term unemployment was only the latest chapter in one of baseball's more colorful careers.

Piersall, a new resident of the Hyannis Port neighborhood where President Kennedy established his summer White House, was reported to have come to terms during weekend discussions with Los Angeles manager Bill Rigney in New York.

Piersall admitted Friday that he had gotten a major league job but said the formal announcement would have to come from the club which hired him. At the time he was given his release by the Mets, the 33-year-old outfielder, who came originally from Naugatuck, Conn., was batting only .193 in 40 games.

He had been killed by a foot injury but it was believed he had fully recovered.
