Reminder given persons due to retire soon

People nearing retirement age are urged to inquire about documents, proofs, and special information needed when applying for social security benefits.

Jesse D. Gayley, field representative for the Social Security Administration, pointed out that basically proof of age is needed. Birth certificates, baptismal records, voting or census records will supply this information.

Another thing usually needed is the amount of earnings for the year before retirement and the amount earned during the year of application. Birth certificates for minor children and, in some cases, marriage certificate may also be asked for.

Gayley also pointed out that each case is different. The type of documents needed can be explained by the local social security office, located at 537 Wall Street.

Two men cited for intoxication

Two out-of-town visitors were apprehended by city police Sunday and booked on charges of intoxication in a public place.

Cited are Donald Woolsey, 38, of Idanha, and Marty Dilger, 42, Spokane. Bail on each was fixed at $27.50.

Report required of subdividers

Owners of subdivisions located within Oregon are advised by Real Estate Commissioner Robert J. Jensen that reports required under the Oregon Subdivision Control Law, effective September 2, may be filed at this time.

Report forms, known as a "Preliminary Notice of Intention" to sell or lease subdivided land, are available without charge at the real estate department offices at 112 Labor & Industries Building, Salem, and 378 State Office Building, Portland.

There is no fee required for the filing of this report. Under the provisions of the law, the Commissioner is authorized to waive further report filing after an examination of the preliminary report.

Commissioner Jensen said that as a general policy, waivers will be issued after filing of the preliminary notice for subdivisions located within this state, created under the jurisdiction of a city or county authority specified in ORS Chapter 92, and which are not advertised for sale outside this state.

After September 2 it will be unlawful to offer for sale or lease any lot or parcel in a subdivision until the provisions of the new law have been complied with. By taking advantage of the early filing, subdividers can avoid delays resulting from congestion on the effective date of the law. A tract of land partitioned into four or more lots is a subdivision.

Songs offered on COC program

Central Oregon College will present a program of songs by Vernon Crawford on this week's radio show. Crawford was a member of the COC choir and played Dr. Li in "Flower Drum Song."

His program includes "Bist Du Bei Mir" by Bach, "If My Song Had Wings" by Hahn, "The Living God" by O'Hara, "Wayfarer's Night Song" by Martin and "Clouds" by Ernest Charles. Crawford will be accompanied by Dallas Quick.

The various songs will be carried on KBND, Bend, on August 7 at 6:30 p.m.; KPRB, Redmond, August 9, 12:45 p.m.; KRCC, Prineville, August 12, 4:45 p.m. and KRGL, Bend, August 14, 2 p.m.

PREDICTS CANDIDATES

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., predicts, ruling out a compromise candidate, that the Republican National Convention will choose either Sen. Barry Goldwater or Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the presidential nomination next year.

Man treated after accident

Two cars were involved in a crash at the intersection of the Powell Butte and Butler roads near the Bend Municipal Airport this morning about 7:30 and one driver received medical attention.

Operators of the two cars involved were Joe Wood, Powell Butte, who was treated as an outpatient at the Redmond District Hospital, and Philip Van Lawrence, Redmond, who suffered head injuries.

Investigating Oregon State Police said the accident occurred when Lawrence, traveling east over the Butler road, attempted to swing to the left on the Powell Butte road, without noticing the approach of the Wood car.

The cars were virtually demolished.

Garage blaze brings firemen

A fire in a garage owned by L. C. Winkle, 444 Alden, brought fire crews to that locale about 2:15 this morning. The fire, originating in a mattress, caused some damage to the garage, firemen said.

Three small fires that broke out Saturday were blamed on the carelessness of smokers. The first was a brush fire at the Pilot Butte Motor Court. Others broke out in sawdust at the E. Alden-Ninth intersection and at Colorado and Riverside, along the river bank. The fires caused no damage.

Action aimed at milk act

Oregon Milk, Inc., a corporation which purchases milk in Oregon and Washington for distribution, has filed suit in Multnomah county against the Oregon Department of Agriculture, in an attempt to invalidate the new milk stabilization act which went into effect in June.

The incorporators in Oregon Milk are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Markell and Dennis Marvin, all of Bend. The milk stabilization act was introduced at the recent session of the state legislature by Rep. Kessler Cannon, R., Deschutes, Jefferson and Crook counties.

Oregon Milk has been granted a temporary restraining order against provisions of the act, pending court action on the suit which seeks a declaratory judgment ruling the act unconstitutional.

The local corporation, according to a spokesman, contends that the act is in violation of interstate commerce, and guarantees a price to Oregon producers which is higher than the Oregon - Washington - Idaho price based on market conditions. The corporation charges that the act discriminates against producers who don't have quotas.

Two motorists draw citations

Two motorists collected traffic citations Sunday from Bend police officers.

Lois M. White, 1221 Fresno, was cited for driving without an operator's license, with $7.50 bail. David James Thompson, 493 State Street, was charged with making a reverse turn between intersections. His bail is $7.50.
