

THE BULLETIN

SERVING BEND AND CENTRAL OREGON

Forecast
Increasing clouds in Central Oregon. Partly cloudy Saturday. High temperatures, 85-90; lows, 50-60.

60th Year Ten Pages Bend, Deschutes County, Oregon, Friday, August 9, 1963 Ten Cents No. 208

Jackie's condition 'satisfactory'

Anguished Chief Executive consoles his wife

OTIS AFB, Mass. (UPI) — President Kennedy consoled his grief-stricken wife Jacqueline today over the loss of their two-day-old son and then went to his Squaw Island summer home to visit his other two children.

The anguished Chief Executive, his eyes red and swollen, left the base hospital after a 2 hour and 10 minute visit with the First Lady. He made no immediate comment.

The President was spared the sorrow of having to tell his wife their baby was dead. Dr. John W. Walsh, her obstetrician, broke the news to the First Lady just after she awoke in her hospital room.

The doctor then placed Mrs. Kennedy under a mild sedation, it was disclosed. Mrs. Kennedy then slept until her husband arrived a few hours later.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said that under the circumstances Mrs. Kennedy's condition was "satisfactory."

Kennedy's brothers, Atty. Gen. Robert and Sen. Edward, rode with him in a convertible on the Caroline, 5, and John Jr., 2, awaited him.

President and Mrs. Kennedy were alone during most of his visit. Kennedy had flown here earlier by helicopter from Boston, where his prematurely born son had died in a hospital at 4:04 a.m.

No information forthcoming
There was no information forthcoming from inside the hospital, Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary Pamela Turnure had not accepted calls this morning.

Rusk returns to Moscow from talks

MOSCOW (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk returned today from informal talks on the sunny Black Sea with Premier Nikita Khrushchev aimed at easing cold war tensions and guaranteeing West Berlin security.

His special flight here after a day of informal, short-sleeve talks with the vacationing Soviet leader at Gagra on the Soviet Riviera.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko arrived with him. Rusk started his day early at Khrushchev's vacation villa after spending the night in a nearby government guest house with members of his party.

In Good Spirits
The Soviet premier, in obviously good spirits, introduced Rusk and his party to members of his family and even suggested that they take a swim in his heated pool before getting down to serious discussions.

Some of Khrushchev's grandchildren romped on the lawn in front of the house. They were half naked in the brilliant sunshine and 90 degree temperature.

After a picture-taking session for the Soviet and Western newsmen covering the talks, Khrushchev led Rusk and his group to the veranda of a recreation building near a main house.

Just before they got down to serious discussions, Khrushchev stepped inside and removed his jacket. He came out wearing a loose-fitting, collarless Ukrainian shirt.

Rusk removed his jacket also to keep in step with the informal atmosphere.

Khrushchev's relaxed mood was evident when he gave orders to let startled newsmen enjoy themselves on his estate.

"Let the correspondents go as they like, go for a stroll or go bathing—or anything they want," he said.

A surprised aide put the bathhouse and other recreation facilities at the disposal of the newsmen. The Americans fanned out on the estate to see as much as possible.

ZIP CODE FOR SANTA
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Even Santa Claus has a zip code number. Postmaster General J. Edward Day, replying to a letter from California asking if St. Nick had been assigned a number denoting his address, said Thursday he could be addressed at the North Pole, zip code number 99701.

News broken by obstetrician

39-hour fight for life is lost by JFK's son

By Alvin Spivak
UPI Staff Writer
BOSTON (UPI) — Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, infant son of President and Mrs. Kennedy, died today 39 hours after his birth, his heart exhausted in the struggle with a respiratory ailment.

The President was with the tiny infant when the end came at 4:04 a.m. EDT in a giant pressure chamber at Children's Hospital Medical Center. He lived just 39 hours and 12 minutes after his birth by Caesarean section at 12:52 p.m. EDT Wednesday.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, in making the somber announcement of the child's death, said: "The struggle of the baby to keep breathing was too much for his heart."

Strain Too Much
Salinger told newsmen the child simply could not stand the strain put on his 17-inch-long body by the inability to breathe properly.

The pressure chamber was a final effort by pediatricians to ease this burden and for a short time it seemed to be working.

The official cause of death given by the hospital was prematurity and hyaline membrane disease. The disease is a coating of mucous within the lungs. Oxygen is prevented from getting into the lungs of the child in sufficient quantities.

It was later announced at Hyannis Port that the funeral for the child would be held at 10 a.m. EDT Saturday in Boston.

There will be a private Mass of the Angels, said by Richard Cardinal Cushing, a close friend of the Kennedy family, in the chapel at the prelate's home. Only members of the immediate family will be admitted to the services.

The burial, which also will be a private ceremony, will be in a family plot at Holyhood Cemetery in suburban Brookline. The plot has not previously been used.

The First Lady has been in excellent condition at the base hospital since the birth, 5½ weeks premature, of her son Wednesday. But, of infant son Wednesday.

Within hours of his birth, the child had to be taken by ambulance to the Boston hospital where facilities were believed available to handle his breathing problem, known technically as idiopathic respiratory distress syndrome.

The boy's condition seemed to be improving during his 34 hours at the hospital.

Kennedy Called Back
Thursday morning doctors had noted "some encouragement" but Kennedy was summoned back from Cape Cod, where he had been visiting his wife, in the early afternoon because of a decline in the infant's condition.

The child's breathing improved after he was placed in the huge pressure chamber which provided needed oxygen for his tiny lungs.

But at 2:10 a.m. EDT, the President was awakened in his fourth floor room at the hospital and advised to go to the chamber on the ground level.

About 20 minutes later, he was joined by his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, and his long-time associate and White House receptionist David Powers, who had been staying at the President's downtown hotel and had been called to the hospital to be with Kennedy.

Remained An Hour
The President, his brother, and Powers went to an area near the pressure chamber and remained there approximately an hour.

Salinger said the President went back to his room at about 3:10 a.m. EDT. But about 3:40 a.m., he was called back to the pressure chamber area, as were the attorney general and Powers.

The three were there when the child, still within the chamber, drew his final breath.

Salinger said there were no clergy members present when the infant died. He said he did not know whether last rites of the Catholic Church had been administered.

The baby was baptized minutes after its birth by Caesarean section at 12:52 p.m. EDT Wednesday. The baptism was conducted by Otis AFB Chaplain Joseph Scallan because of its premature birth and the danger of its respiratory malady bore to the 4-pound 10½ ounce infant.

Plans reported for thirty-unit motel on E. 3rd
A building permit was filed this morning for construction of a 30-unit motel, to be erected on the northwest corner of E. Third Street Highway at Olney Avenue.

The white-stone faced structure, to be called "The Dunes Motel," is being undertaken by the Ray Ems Construction Company in Portland. Owners will be Jim Hemstreet and John Bonn, both of Portland.

Ems said the motel will be of modern design, and equipped with the salesman in mind. All units will be compact but comfortable. Hemstreet and Bonn will manage the enterprise initially until a replacement is brought in.

Mao says he backs Negro rights drive

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung Thursday called the American Negroes' civil rights campaign a "sharpening of the class struggle" and promised them Peking's support.

Mao, in a statement issued by the New China News Agency, charged that President Kennedy's civil rights program was nothing but "two-faced tactics... an attempt to lull the fighting will of the Negro people and deceive the masses throughout the country."

He denied charges made by Moscow that China's own policies were racist. The Soviets have accused the Chinese of trying to capture leadership of nationalist movements in Africa, Latin America, and Asia by turning the people there against the "white, hostile," Soviet citizens.

"Our unity is not one of race; it is the unity of comrades and friends," Mao said.

His statement on the U.S. race question was prompted by an American Negro, Robert Williams, who is "now taking refuge in Cuba," Mao said.

Williams fled to Cuba from North Carolina in 1961 after the alleged kidnapping of a white couple during Negro protest demonstrations in Union County, N. C. He had been suspended from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People before the incident after advocating violent action to meet violence from whites.

Mao, chairman of the Chinese Communist party, said Williams "has twice this year asked me for a statement in support of the American Negroes' struggle against racial discrimination."

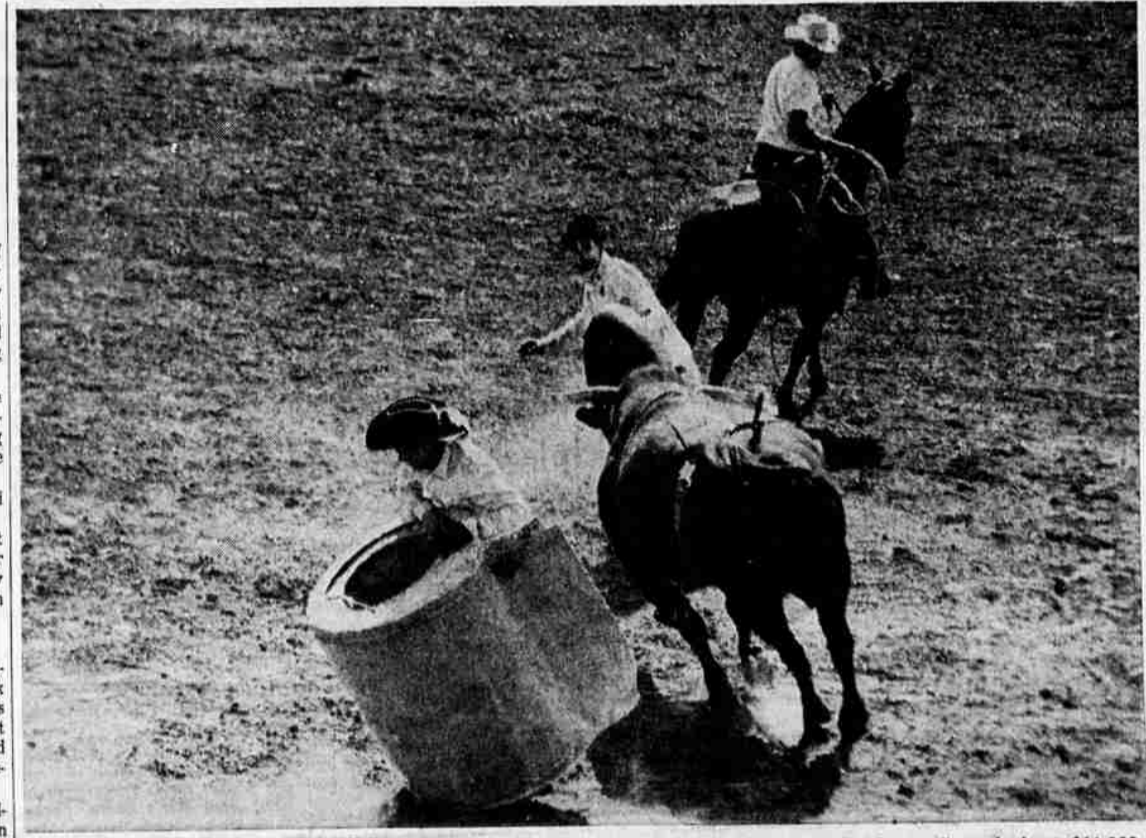

"I wish to take this opportunity to express our resolute support to the American Negroes in their struggle against racial discrimination and for freedom and equal rights," he said.

He said the "speedy development of the struggle of the American Negroes" was a "manifestation of the sharpening of the class struggle within the United States."

"I call upon all the workers, peasants, revolutionary intellectuals, enlightened elements of the bourgeoisie, and other enlightened personages of all colors in the world, white, black, yellow, brown, etc., to unite against the racial discrimination practiced by U.S. imperialism and to support the American Negroes in their struggle against racial discrimination," Mao said.

NOT CAREFUL ENOUGH
DALLAS (UPI) — Grocer J. W. Richey is a careful man. Because of the threat of robbery, he had a burglar alarm system installed at the front door of his store.

Thursday, burglars broke in and stole tobacco, wine, a money order machine and a radio. They came in the back door. It wasn't connected to the alarm.

STARTS TONIGHT—The 18th annual Crooked River Roundup starts tonight at 7:30 p.m., with shows also scheduled for Saturday and Sunday at 1:15 p.m. It has been announced that prize money at the Prineville show will total about $11,000. Pictured action shows Sam Albee hanging to some clown props after leaving bull No. 5 at the Deschutes Rodeo last week.

Rains lower fire danger in mid-state

Scattered light rains lowered the fire danger in Central Oregon woods this morning, following one of the mildest nights recorded in the Bend area in recent years.

Low temperature for the night was 63 degrees, just 20 degrees above the average for August night temperatures in Bend.

Around midnight last night, the temperature in Bend was still around 70 degrees, following a high of 88 Thursday. The mercury dropped to 63 about sunrise, as light rain fell in Bend.

Up until noon today, some fairly good showers were reported from the Deschutes woods, under dry in most areas earlier in the week. Fox Butte, ten miles south of Bend, did not receive any moisture during the night hours, but this morning got a "quickie shower" that yielded 0.12 of an inch of rain.

Pine Mountain reported 0.15 of an inch, and East Butte, 0.10.

Rodeo tonight Prineville prepares for Roundup start

Special to The Bulletin
PRINEVILLE — The spotlight will be directed to Crooked River Roundup activities Saturday morning when a parade, one of the largest of recent years, will move through Prineville streets.

The opening rodeo will be tonight, followed by others on Saturday and Sunday afternoon, with each to start at 1:15 p.m.

On Saturday at 10 a.m. flags will wave and bands play for more than a mile of colorful entrants, led by color guards from the Veterans club and the Oregon Nation Guard. At the head of the parade will be the Crooked River High School band, the rodeo court, the rodeo board members, all mounted, and visiting rodeo courts.

A dance band will lead the second group, in which are to be floats from the Lions club, the Jaycees, the Central Oregon Boat club, the nursing home and Recreation Unlimited.

Band to March
The Redmond Union High School band will march before the third division, in which will be a varied assortment of entries, including baton twirlers, baseball teams, kids with pets and fancy costumes, the Army Reserve, the U.S. Forest Service, Bureau of Land Management, a Scottish bagpipe band from Albany, Boy Scouts, Red Cross, 4-H, the Redmond and Madra fire departments.

Mounted groups and miscellaneous
The Redmond Union High School band will march before the third division, in which will be a varied assortment of entries, including baton twirlers, baseball teams, kids with pets and fancy costumes, the Army Reserve, the U.S. Forest Service, Bureau of Land Management, a Scottish bagpipe band from Albany, Boy Scouts, Red Cross, 4-H, the Redmond and Madra fire departments.

Key Demos in accord on tax formula

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Key Democrats on the House Ways & Means Committee have agreed tentatively on broad outlines of a formula for cutting income taxes by nearly $10 billion in two steps.

Although President Kennedy last January called for a net $10.4 billion cut, the compromise has administration support and is expected to win committee approval next week.

The first cut in individual and corporate taxes would come next Jan. 1 and the remainder on Jan. 1, 1965. Under Kennedy's plan the first cut would have taken effect retroactively on July 1, 1963 and the last on Jan. 1, 1965.

Three Main Points
The three main elements of the compromise are:
—Individual tax rates, which now range from 29 to 91 per cent, would be scaled down to a range of from 15 to 75 per cent. Kennedy proposed a range of 14-65 per cent. The compromise would cost $8.7 billion in revenue instead of the $11 billion under Kennedy's plan.

—The 52 per cent tax on corporate income would be cut to 48 per cent, instead of 47 per cent as recommended by Kennedy. This would reduce the $2.5 billion in revenue loss envisioned in Kennedy's program.

—Structural revisions would be made in tax law to produce a net gain of about $1 billion or more in new offsetting revenue. There would have been a net gain of about $3.2 billion if Congress had enacted all the revisions sought by Kennedy.

Record reward offer made

LONDON (UPI) — Confirmed bank losses in the biggest robbery of all time soared today toward $8 million.

Insurance companies hit by the loss offered a record reward of more than half a million dollars for capture of the mail train robbers and recovery of the loot.

Officials said the known loss thus far in Thursday's "great train robbery" now totaled $7,000,000—with the ultimate figure expected to run as high as $8.4 million.

As the reward money piled up in hopes of inducing a "squealer" to offer information about the gang who staged the smooth-efficient ambush of the Glasgow - London train, Scotland Yard and post office security men scoured the countryside without a single clue.

The bandits appeared to have vanished with their huge haul of cash and gems which they took from 120 mail sacks and carted away in trucks and a car in Thursday's pre-dawn darkness.

There was a possibility the loot and at least some of the robbers already were out of the country. The London Evening News quoted an unidentified man as saying he saw an airplane land and take off again in a hurry at a disused airfield near the site of the train robbery and at about the time it took place Thursday.

As police explored this latest mystery phase of the robbery, staged by bandits whose faces were masked by women's stockings and who were armed with crowbars, blackjacks and guns, the insurance brokers offered $500,000 in reward money.

Individual banks — which had shipments of cash in varying amounts en route to the Bank of England in London — added their own rewards to the insurance brokers' offer. Officials said they felt the amount of the reward money almost certainly would tempt some member of the underworld to furnish some leads to the robber gang, whose number originally was estimated at from 20 to 30 but which may have been smaller.

Police still without any clues

The gigantic record reward offer was made by the firms of Hart and Co. and Toplis and Harding, insurance assessors.

As Scotland Yard stepped up one of history's greatest man-hunts, some of the banks affected increased their original reward offers.

The Midland Bank, for instance, boosted its offer from $70,000 to $140,000, as the nation's banks began to learn just exactly what they had lost in the wild West-style train robbery.

The amazing success of the bandit operation near Cheddington, 40 miles north of London, was causing some new thinking on Britain's traditional concept that neither policeman nor robbers usually carry guns.

Because of severe penalties for harming a policeman, the underworld usually commits crimes without firearms.

Train robbery losses soar near $8 million

LONDON (UPI) — Confirmed bank losses in the biggest robbery of all time soared today toward $8 million. Insurance companies hit by the loss offered a record reward of more than half a million dollars for capture of the mail train robbers and recovery of the loot. Officials said the known loss thus far in Thursday's "great train robbery" now totaled $7,000,000—with the ultimate figure expected to run as high as $8.4 million. As the reward money piled up in hopes of inducing a "squealer" to offer information about the gang who staged the smooth-efficient ambush of the Glasgow - London train, Scotland Yard and post office security men scoured the countryside without a single clue. The bandits appeared to have vanished with their huge haul of cash and gems which they took from 120 mail sacks and carted away in trucks and a car in Thursday's pre-dawn darkness. There was a possibility the loot and at least some of the robbers already were out of the country. The London Evening News quoted an unidentified man as saying he saw an airplane land and take off again in a hurry at a disused airfield near the site of the train robbery and at about the time it took place Thursday. As police explored this latest mystery phase of the robbery, staged by bandits whose faces were masked by women's stockings and who were armed with crowbars, blackjacks and guns, the insurance brokers offered $500,000 in reward money. Individual banks — which had shipments of cash in varying amounts en route to the Bank of England in London — added their own rewards to the insurance brokers' offer. Officials said they felt the amount of the reward money almost certainly would tempt some member of the underworld to furnish some leads to the robber gang, whose number originally was estimated at from 20 to 30 but which may have been smaller. The gigantic record reward offer was made by the firms of Hart and Co. and Toplis and Harding, insurance assessors. As Scotland Yard stepped up one of history's greatest man-hunts, some of the banks affected increased their original reward offers. The Midland Bank, for instance, boosted its offer from $70,000 to $140,000, as the nation's banks began to learn just exactly what they had lost in the wild West-style train robbery. The amazing success of the bandit operation near Cheddington, 40 miles north of London, was causing some new thinking on Britain's traditional concept that neither policeman nor robbers usually carry guns. Because of severe penalties for harming a policeman, the underworld usually commits crimes without firearms.

TIRE BUYERS!!
All major tire suppliers, with exception of U. S. Rubber, recently raised tire prices. Now, U. S. Rubber has to do the same thing. U. S. Royal tires are going to be increased in price effective immediately.

SHOOP & SCHULZE
will hold the price line through Saturday. You can still buy U. S. Royal tires at the old price if you buy before Saturday night. Hurry! Prices go up Monday!

SHOOP & SCHULZE
TIRE SERVICE
1291 Wall 382-2121

SHOOP & SCHULZE
TIRE SERVICE
1291 Wall 382-2121