BULL BY THE HORNS — This event in recent years has become known as steer wrestling but many individuals still refer to it as bulldogging. This action was caught by the camera Sunday afternoon at the Crooked River Roundup at Prineville.

Bend swimmers do well in face of traffic tragedy

Special to The Bulletin

ST. HELENS — Bend swimmers, taking to the pool at only half strength, displayed swimming talent and took their share of honors Sunday, when the Central Oregon aquatic crew entered multi-team go here in face of a traffic tragedy en route.

Competing in the St. Helens outdoor facility were 10 teams: Bend, St. Helens, Dallas, The Dalles, Forest Grove, Hillsboro, Hood River, Neighborhood House and Goldendale, Wash.

Trophies were awarded to first place winners. Ribbons were bestowed on swimmers capturing places one through six. The Bend aquatic crew returns this weekend to face Lakeview at the Juniper Park pool this Sunday at 10 a.m.

Bend placers last Sunday were as follows:

Freestyle — Boys 8 and under (110 feet), Benjy Gilchrist, first. Boys 9-10 (110 feet) Scott Vandervort, sixth. Boys 11-12 (110 feet) Dan Bekins, fourth. Boys 13-14 (220 feet) John Copenhaver, first, Dave Davisson, fourth, and Bruce Devlin, sixth. Boys 15-16 (220 feet) Paul Uptegrove, second. Girls 15-16 (220 feet) Shirley Mayer, first.

Breastroke — Boys 9-10 (110 feet) Greg Thomas, second. Boys 11-12 (110 feet) Dan Bekins, first and Dennis Houk, sixth. Boys 13-14 (220 feet) Dave Davisson, second, John Copenhaver, third, and Gary Thomas fourth. Boys 15-16 (220 feet) Ted Davisson, second, and Paul Uptegrove, fourth. Girls 15-16 (220 feet) Shirley Mayer, second.

Back stroke — Boys 8 and under, (110 feet) Benjy Gilchrist second, and Bill Ernst, fifth. Boys 9-10 (110 feet) Scott Vandervort, second. Boys 11-12 (110 feet) Dan Bekins, sixth, and Dennis Houk, fifth. Boys 13-14 (220 feet) John Copenhaver, first, Dave Davisson, fifth, and Bruce Devlin, sixth. Girls 15-16 (220 feet) Jean Cecil, first, Shirley Mayer, sixth.

Medley (440 feet) — Ted Davisson, first, John Copenhaver, third, and Paul Uptegrove, second. (Boys 12-16).

Medley (440 feet) — Jean Cecil, first, and Shirley Mayer, fifth (girls 12-17).

Boys 12 and under 440 freestyle relay — Bend captured first but was disqualified. (Dan Bekins, Scott Vandervort, Tim Uptegrove, and Dennis Houk.)

Boys 16 and under 440 freestyle relay — Bend captured first. (Paul Uptegrove, Dave Davisson, Ted Davisson, and John Copenhaver.)

Girls 16 and under 440 freestyle relay — Bend captured second. (Shirley Blann, Sandy Traxler, Jean Cecil, and Shirley Mayer.)

Central Oregon's swimmers received a setback when they arrived at St. Helens to learn of a fatal accident on the Redmond-Madras highway involving some of their team members. Killed was Mrs. Rita Hoffman, mother of two simmers from Redmond, Joan Hoffman, 14, and Martha Hoffman, 12. Both swimmers were injured. Other swimmers in the death car were Beverly Snider, 12, and Rosemary Montgomery.

Bend swimmers managed to turn in an above average performance in face of the traffic accident news they received when they reached St. Helens. One car of swimmers passed the death car at the crash scene en route to the St. Helens tourney, but didn't know it was the Hoffman car, a team spokesman said today.

'Broken bone brigade' Philadelphia Eagles return to reputation

By United Press International

The Philadelphia Eagles, who were known around the National Football League circuit last year as the "broken bone brigade", are at it again.

Fullback Clarence Peaks, the Eagles' leading ball-carrier in 1960 and 1961, suffered an elbow injury in the Eagle - Baltimore Colt clash last Saturday night. Although Peaks was originally expected to be out of action for three weeks, further examination showed a chipped fracture of the ulna bone on the left arm.

As a result the Eagles, whose staggering injury list last year was a major factor in the club's plunge to the Western Division cellar after a second-place finish in 1961, will lose Peak's services for approximately six weeks.

The Detroit Lions inserted flankerback Terry Barr at quarterback in Monday's workout. The reason for the move was to provide a back-up man for Earl Morrall in case of injury. Milt Plum, the Lions' regular signal-caller was injured in Saturday's game with the Cleveland Browns. Detroit also placed rookies Pete O'Brien, Karl Kassulke and Don King on waivers.

View Game Films

Coach Al Sherman of the New York Giants, who meet the Lions in the first game of a doubleheader at Cleveland Saturday night, was particularly pleased with the play of veteran back Hugh McElhenney in Saturday's game with the Chicago Bears after viewing game films Monday. Another veteran, Alex Webster, also was praised by Sherman.

The Cleveland Browns' head coach, Blanton Collier, also spent and said he was "much more encouraged" over the team's progress. He added that the defensive line did "an exceptional job" in last Saturday's Browns-Lions game.

Although coach Buddy Parker's Pittsburgh Steelers were soundly whipped by the Green Bay Packers last Saturday night, Parker was philosophical about the defeat. "You don't spot the champions two weeks of practice and a game and expect to beat them," he said.

In other NFL developments the Baltimore Colts released Dave Yohn, second-year linebacker, and the Los Angeles Rams cut six rookies—Gerald Barto, Dick Farris, Earl McQuiston, Walter Nikirk, Dennis Murphy and Harold Daniels — in addition to veteran Clancy Osborne.

Cleared For Action

The Kansas City Chiefs of the American Football League reported that Bobby Ply would see action in Saturday's game with Oakland although Ply's nose was broken during Friday night's game with Buffalo. Chris Burford sparkled at end in Monday's workout.

Dave Smith, reserve fullback of the Houston Oilers, suffered a slight muscle spasm but is expected to see action in Wednesday night's game with the Boston Patriots.

The New York Jets released safety Ed Kovac, tackle Frank Morelli (both of whom played for the Titans last year) and linebacker Frank Robotti. Center Mike Hudock and fullback Bill Mathis, who were injured last Friday night against Houston, should be ready for Friday night's game with Buffalo.

Phila hurler Chris Short beats Giants

By United Press International

Chris Short stands 6-4 and weighs 205 pounds, but he has never ranked too tall among National League pitchers.

In fact, the only recognition—if you can call it that — he has gained in five seasons with the Philadelphia Phillies came in 1961 when he led the league in wild pitches.

Yet in the last month, Short twice has short-circuited the pennant hopes of the two leading NL contenders.

The lanky southpaw from Milford, Del., beat the Los Angeles Dodgers in their own park July 26 to launch Walt Alston's men on their current skid. And Monday night he turned back the San Francisco Giants, 3-1, with the help of a two-run, eighth-inning homer by Johnny Callison.

Short called Monday night's performance his "biggest thrill in baseball" and "the best game I ever pitched." Nobody was ready to argue with him on either count, least of all the Giants, who missed a great opportunity to pick up ground on the idle Dodgers.

It was the first time in his career that Short beat the Giants. He dueled Jim Duffalo through seven scoreless innings until Jim Ray Hart, playing in his first full big league game, doubled home Harvey Kuenn for a San Francisco run in the top of the eighth.

The Phillies, though, bounced back with three runs in their half of the inning. Tony Taylor opened the frame with a single and Callison followed with a homer into the light tower above the right field wall. Roy Sievers singled home the Phils' final run off reliever Bob Bolin.

Duffalo wound up with his first defeat in five decisions this year and the Giants dropped four games back of the pace-setting Dodgers. For Short, who scattered eight hits and fanned eight, it was only his fourth victory against nine setbacks.

The Pittsburgh Pirates turned back the Houston Colts, 4-2, in the only other NL game. In the only American League action, the Boston Red Sox snapped a nine-game losing streak by edging the Minnesota Twins, 5-4.

Take Early Lead

The Pirates staked Bob Friend to a 3-0 lead in the first inning with the help of a two-run single by Jerry Lynch with the bases loaded. Roy Face, appearing in his fifth straight game, saved Friend's 14th victory by turning back a strong Houston threat in the ninth inning.

Lou Clinton, benched since Aug. 4, belted a pair of two-run homers for the Red Sox to prevent Minnesota from moving into a second-place tie with the Chicago White Sox. The Red Sox, who committed four errors, wiped out a 4-2 deficit in the sixth on a solo homer by Felix Mantilla and Clinton's second blast of the game with Carl Yastrzemski aboard.
