

Guard to leave for camp Friday

Forty members of Bend's Co. C, 2nd Tank Battalion, 303rd Armored Division, will leave tomorrow morning at 3:30 a.m. for 15 days of summer training at Yakima Firing Center.

At the location, the Bend guard will train with an estimated 1500 men from other units throughout Oregon and Washington.

Commanding officer of the unit as it heads north and takes over its Yakima assignment will be Lt. Leo Hopper, who has headed the local Oregon National Guard outfit since July 21.

He replaced Captain W. K. Molan who was transferred from Bend to Seattle by his company, the Union Pacific. Captain Molan plans to spend a week with the Bend guardsmen during the Yakima training exercise.

The local unit will not take the two tanks with them that are a familiar sight behind the Armory. At Yakima, they will get a regular army issue of armor need in field training.

Since receiving their tanks earlier this year, the Bend guardsmen have taken their armor into the field on several occasions for training. The training area is in the vicinity of Bessie Butte, south of Bend.

Reports issued for last month

Special to The Bulletin
PRINEVILLE — In various city departments, the municipal judge record shows 46 cases handled in court in July, with traffic and liquor violations being the major offenses. One case of hit-and-run was tried.

Ted Adamson, fire and ambulance chief, reported 17 fire calls during July of which the majority were within the city limits. The city ambulance made 18 trips, of which 17 were local for a total of 448 miles of travel and 48 man hours on duty for volunteers.

Plans underway for Crook County Fair, Aug. 23-25

PRINEVILLE — Last minute preparations are underway in all departments for the 1963 Crook County Fair, August 23-25, as the department heads prepare for what is expected to be the largest year in Crook county fairs, according to Ivan Chappell, fair manager.

Department heads are Gus Woods, county agent, livestock; Mrs. Maude Purvine, home extension agent, 4-H contests and exhibits in the home economics field; Mrs. Blanche Harper, open class home economics exhibits; Mrs. Noma Tucker, floral; Mrs. Doris Kircher, art; Mrs. Joy Haworth, photos and crafts; Mrs. George Chase, land products; Mrs. Gilbert Lawson, rabbits and poultry; Raymond Guthrie, halter class and Frank McCullough, working events, in the horse show.

Don Snel, fair secretary, stresses that the fair is being planned to be educational, and that the fair itself will not be a place primarily of entertainment, though portions of the fair will furnish amusement and pleasure.

He emphasized this week that the fair will show the skills, the effort and the work of Central Oregon residents.

Marshall L. Hunt is heart victim

Marshall L. Hunt, 63, long-time resident of Central Oregon and widely known in the region, died last night at 11:30 in the Klamath Falls Hillside Hospital. He was a victim of a heart attack he suffered on August 3 when in trapshooting competition in the Klamath city.

Hunt suffered the attack on the "firing line" as a member of the Bend team. He was widely known in Oregon trapshooting circles, and long served as an officer of the Bend Trap Club.

Mr. Hunt was a native of Douglas County, having been born near Oakland on Oct. 27, 1900. He attended school in southern Oregon, and was married to Marie Crozier, by whom he is survived. Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. John Baker, Bend, and a son, John R. Hunt, a teacher in an American school in Germany who is presently at home in Everett, Wash. There are two grandchildren, Pamela Marie and James Marshall Baker.

Mrs. Carey Stearns, LaPine, is a sister, and James Stearns, Tulelake, Calif., is a nephew. Shortly following his marriage, in early days, Mr. Hunt lived for a time in the LaPine community, then was a resident of Burns before coming to Bend to serve for many years with the Bend Hardware Co. At the time of his death he was with Murray & Holt in Bend.

The family home in Bend is at 38 Greeley. Funeral services are to be announced later.

Stephen Rutland Allen, Oakland, Calif., was arrested for improper passing. He forfeited a $20 fine. Karrol Seiling Christensen of Eugene forfeited $25 for a basic rule violation.

Another out-of-state man, Ignacio Resender of Sunnyside, Wash., was arrested yesterday for an overload on his truck. He forfeited a $33 fine.
