

SEVEN-GALLONEER — Morris Clark, Bend mail carrier, gave his 56th pint of blood, at the Red Cross Bloodmobile yesterday. He has been a donor for "15 or 16" years in Bend.

Students back from Honduras

Five Central Oregon students returned to Bend last night after spending the summer in Honduras. Rene Macy, Tom Walker, Culver, Charles Palmer and David Miller of Burns; and Andy Wayman, Bend, stepped off the bus which they had taken from Mexico City. The group had flown there from Honduras.

Also returning were Alan Krueger, San Francisco, and Lucy Fischer of Culver who had chaperoned the excursion. Miss Chela Polon, Honduras, also returned to finish schooling in Culver.

Eight Central Oregon students, three Honduran and one Mexican exchange student left June 10 on the beginning leg of the trip. The foreign students were returning to their homes after attending school in Central Oregon.

Arrangements were made by Exchange Students, Inc., which sent a similar group of six students to Honduras last summer. The organization has placed 10 foreign students in Central Oregon and plans to bring three or four more this year.

Timber sale is scheduled

Special to The Bulletin
PRINEVILLE — Prineville oral auction bids will be received at the office of the Ochoce National Forest at 10 a.m. September 23, on some 1,500,000 board feet of pine and other species in the Cram Creek sanitation sale, according to C. L. Clark, forest supervisor. Minimum acceptable bid prices on the timber, it was announced, are $16.20 for the ponderosa pine and $7.25 for the Douglas fir and other species. Timber in the sale area covers about 4,100 acres, in an area west of Big Summit Prairie. Timber in the sale includes merchantable dead timber and extremely high risk timber, Clark said.

Oregon SCS officials open 2-day session

Oregon Stabilization Conservation Service office managers from all parts of the state opened a two-day conference in Bend this morning, following a welcome by City Manager Hal Puddy of Bend and Jack Ledbetter, Redmond. Ledbetter is manager of the host group, the Deschutes ASCS.

This year's convention was arranged for the vacation season, so wives and members of families could attend. Many are here, and this afternoon will be taken on a Juniper Trail tour by the Redmond Chamber of Commerce.

Some 90 persons are expected to attend the two-day meeting. Philip Bauder of Yamhill County is general chairman of the conference, which was formally opened this morning at the Pilot Butte Inn by Ralph M. Black of the Linx ASCS county committee. R. E. Schedeon, Gresham, ex-member of the Oregon State Legislature and now chairman of the Oregon ASCS state group, was in the program this morning, and will appear again this afternoon to discuss public relations.

Other state officers present include Arnold N. Bodker, Portland, Oregon ASCS executive director. Also expected are Charles Cox, acting assistant deputy administrator of ASCS, and James Dyess, northwest area director. Roy Clark of the office of information, northwest area ASCS, was listed as one of the speakers.

A Bend man, Phil E. Brogan, associate editor of The Bulletin, will speak Friday at 2:30 with Oregon's geologic story as his topic. Adjournment will be at 4 p.m. Friday.

Action taken

The Bureau of Land Management has been authorized to construct 21 miles of forest access roads in the LaPine area as part of the Accelerated Public Works program.

Donald Z. Robins, Prineville District Manager, said that construction of these roads will begin immediately, and that this project will provide about four months' work for approximately 10 workers in Deschutes County. Crews to complete the work will be recruited through the State Employment Office in Bend.

State organizations map plans to save '63 legislature's tax increase program

By Zan Stark
UPI Staff Writer

SALEM (UPI)—The state was set today for a massive campaign to salvage the 1963 legislature's $60 million tax increase package.

The campaign is expected to be launched immediately, and be fought on the basis of "save our schools" and "keep our property taxes from going up."

Oregon voters will decide the fate of the tax bill at a special election Oct. 15.

A drive to refer the measure to a special election already has won more than the 23,185 petition signatures needed, unofficial tallies indicated today.

The Oregon Education Association, AFL-CIO, Associated Oregon Industries, and Oregon Farm Bureau Federation appeared ready to spearhead the drive to save the tax bill from defeat.

None of the groups opposed the peoples' right to vote on the bill, but all appeared ready to wage a bitter campaign to keep it from being defeated at the special election.

Cecil Posey, Oregon Education Association, said "we will try to save the tax bill. It is too important to education. People don't realize that 60 per cent of the general fund goes to education."

"The legislature was skimpy in its appropriations for education, and we fear a defeat of the tax bill would do great damage to education."

Ivan Congleton, executive secretary of Associated Oregon Industries (AOI), was visiting the governor, and was not available for comment. But an AOI spokesman said "we will oppose defeat of the tax bill. We don't like it but we support it because we know what will happen."

"The legislature worked 141 days on that bill, and it was the best they could do. We doubt if it can do better at a special session. It could be worse."

Labor To Assist

Organized labor planned a campaign on the state and local level to keep the measure from being defeated.

J. D. McDonald, president of the Oregon AFL-CIO, said "we have about 40 per cent of the people in our ranks, and we plan a campaign to get as many people as we can to vote for the tax bill. We plan to work with other organizations. We will start immediately."

George Dewey of the Oregon Farm Bureau Federation said the Farm Bureau Board wasn't happy with the tax bill, but would oppose its defeat for fear property taxes would be increased.

State Leaders For Bill
Gov. Mark Hatfield, Senate President Ben Musa, House Speaker Clarence Barton, and most other state officials are on record as opposing defeat of the measure.

They warn that a $60 million cutback in the state's general fund budget could prove disastrous to the state's educational system.

Musa and Barton issued statements supporting the people's right to vote on the measure. Both are currently in Honolulu for the 18th annual Legislative Conference.

"People who bear the burden of tribute under the constitution should have the right to determine how that tribute should be calculated," Musa said. "People have to pay the bills and if the bill is more than they can bear they should have the right to reduce the amount."

"I have no quarrel with the right of the proponents of the referendum to invoke it," Barton added. "And if they obtain the required number of signatures, I have no quarrel with the right of the people to review the action of the legislature."

Family reunion held by Reids

Mr. and Mrs. Ancil Reid of Bend, and their three sons and three daughters and other family members, held a reunion Sunday in Bend. A lawn party and dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Reid, with 29 persons present.

Children of the Bend couple are sons H. L. Reid and Harold Reid, both of Bend, and R. D. Reid, Richland, Wash., and daughters Mrs. Emil Datcher and Mrs. Bob Kelley, Portland, and Mrs. Herman Bortz, Bend.

The Richland brother was accompanied by his wife and their children, Larry, Michael and Sheri.

Others from out-of-town were the following Portlanders: the Kelly's daughters, Janiece and Barbara; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burleigh, son and daughter-in-law of Mrs. Bortz; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Datcher, son and daughter-in-law of the Datchers, and their son, Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Kinslow, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Reid, and their daughter, Colleen.

Bend residents attending included Glen Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Reid; Linda Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reid, and Mrs. Bortz's daughter, Connie.

Morris Clark hits 7-gallon mark in blood drawing

There was hardly room for candles, or the cupcake that Morris R. Clark received Wednesday at the Red Cross Bloodmobile. There were seven of them.

This means that Clark gave his 56th pint of blood, to become a seven-gallonner.

Five other multiple-gallonners and five one-gallonners were among donors who contributed to the 156-pint take. Although 44 pints short of the quota, the amount was considered "not bad," because of vacation time for a number of the regular donors.

Clark, a Bend mail carrier who lives at 525 Newport Avenue, has been giving blood, for "15 or 16 years." He thinks he might have missed one Bloodmobile visit.

when he and his family were on a trip to Georgia.

Included in his 56 pints are two given as a "walking donor," at St. Charles Memorial Hospital. He says that he always "feels good" after giving blood, and it in no way interferes with his regular activities. Often he goes from the Bloodmobile to the golf course.

After giving blood yesterday, he went on an antelope-hunting trip. Mrs. Marion Cady became a four-gallonner, and Mrs. Kay Blake a three-gallonner. Two-gallonners were Lynn Dunn, Mrs. W. G. Manning and Robert Schrage.

Reaching the first rung, with one-candle cakes for eight pints, were Mrs. Larry Brown, Alfred Austin, Mrs. Mary Finegan, Mrs. Marjorie Nimmo and Al Beauvais.

First-time donors yesterday were Lorraine Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Laughlin, Mrs. Charles Ruby, Mrs. William G. Williams, Mrs. James Burnette, Christine Hoff and W. E. Pyle.

The total take included 17 pints for open heart surgery being performed today in Portland on a 33-year-old woman. This blood was flown to Portland by the Civil Air Patrol.

Four Bend High School boys, Jerry Wetle, Mike Clark, Mike Nehl and Don Cook, assisted in setting up and dismantling the equipment.

Deadline noted on vote sign-up

Deschutes County residents whose voter registrations are out of date should re-register by September 15, in order to cast ballots in the special election October 15. County Clerk Helen Dacey said today that 2500 voters were purged from the register for failure to vote in the last two general elections.

Of the 2500, 646 have re-registered. This leaves a total of 3,666 voters on the books.

Cards were sent to all persons whose names were removed from the register. They may get their names back on the list by completing the cards and returning them.

Voters may also register at the clerk's office in the courthouse. Anyone who is 21 years of age, a resident of Oregon six months and a resident of his precinct 30 days, is eligible.

The special vote October 15 will be on the initiative measure attempting to nullify the income tax program passed by the state legislature this summer. It was determined yesterday in Salem that petitions carry sufficient signatures to hold the election.

Accident takes life of youth

LA GRANDE (UPI)—William C. Robertson, 18, Pilot Rock, was killed and two other youths injured Wednesday evening when their car left U. S. Highway 30 nine miles east of La Grande.

State Police said Robertson apparently went to sleep at the wheel. Union County Medical Examiner Jay R. Sloop said he died of internal abdominal injuries suffered when he struck the steering wheel.
