Warm weather seen for start of State Fair

SALEM (UPI)—Sunny skies and warm weather were forecast for the opening Friday of the 98th Oregon State Fair, and predictions are that more than 300,000 persons will attend the event before it closes Sept. 7.

The gates will open at 10 a.m. At noon, Gov. Mark Hatfield will participate in formal opening ceremonies, and dedication of the new floral building.

Opening day also is kiddies day, with all under 16 admitted free to the grounds, and reduced gateway prices in effect for the young set. Children 12 and under get free admission daily.

Horse racing will be held daily except Sept. 1. The rodeo-horse show will be stated at 7:30 p.m. daily through Sept. 5, and on Sept. 6 and 7 the 4-H horse show will be featured.

Judging of entries and exhibits began last week, and is now nearing a climax.

The fairgrounds have been buzzing with activity all through the week.

The first Oregon State Fair was held 102 years ago on the banks of the Clackamas River near Glandstone. The following year the fair was moved to Salem.

The first fair was sponsored by the Oregon State Agricultural Society.

Because of World War interruptions, this is the 98th fair. Plans already are under way for a centennial celebration at the 1965 state fair.

Lyons attends assessor meet

Robert E. Lyons of Bend, Deschutes County assessor, is in Eugene attending the annual convention of the Oregon State Association of County Assessors. It opened Wednesday. In continuation through Friday.

Lyons, who is the president-elect, was to give the keynote address, in response to the welcoming remarks. He was also scheduled to give the invocation opening day.

The convention next year will be held in Bend, bringing 230 to 300 persons to Central Oregon for the sessions. In addition to assessors and their employees, representatives from industry, farm organizations and public utilities attend.

Lyons will advance from the office of first vice-president. Mrs. Lyons accompanied him to the convention. They left Tuesday evening.

New baking firm to be operating here next week

Cascade Baking Co. will begin operation next week in the old Sunrise Bakery building, 815 Wall Street. The new business, owned by Ralph Hunter and Russell H. Cotter, will carry a complete line of bakery goods. There will be no coffee shop in connection with the operation.

Both the new owners have moved to Bend from Klamath Falls, where they were employed at Fluhrer Bakery. Hunter was manager and part owner of the business. The Bend bakery has no connection with any other bakery.

The Hunters are living on Parrell Road. In the family are Mr. Hunter, his wife, Geneva, and their two-year-old daughter, Cotter and his wife, Lena, are living in Riverview Trailer Park.

Police clear up theft of forty silver dollars

Bend police today marked as cleared the theft of some 40 silver dollars and other money from the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Moore, 65 Gilchrist. Some of the money has been recovered.

Responsible for the theft, officers said, was a 12-year-old boy, who had admitted entering the Moore residence on several occasions. They money was found in an upstairs room.

Indirectly involved are four other boys who apparently had a part in spending some of the missing money. Two of the other boys said they knew the source of the money.

A total of $26.50 has been recovered.

The break in the case of the missing money came when silver dollars started showing up around a grocery store, with one boy "tracing" five of the metal dollars for a $3 bill.

Others were offering silver dollars in purchase of candy.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore reported that in addition to the $40 in silver missing, some money was taken from a piggy-bank.

The case has been turned over to juvenile officers.

JOBLESS RATE DOWN

SALEM (UPI)—The statewide rate of insured unemployment was down for the week ending Aug. 22 compared to both a year ago and four weeks ago. David H. Cameron, employment commissioner, said today.

Revival planned at Redmond

Special To The Bulletin
REDMOND — Dr. Fred B. Moseley, executive secretary for the Baptist General Convention of Oregon and Washington, will conduct revival meetings beginning August 30 at the Redmond Avenue Baptist Church in Redmond.

The meeting will continue through September 8. The pastor, Rev. Bert Wilson, states that there will be nursery facilities available and everyone is welcome to attend. Services are scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. and end near 9 o'clock.

Dr. Moseley came to the northwest last year from Atlanta, Ga., where he served as secretary of the city mission department of the home mission board, Southern Baptist Convention. Prior to his service in Atlanta, he served pastorates in Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi.

Clark Van Noy will lead the singing of well-known gospel hymns. Mrs. Jeanne Nash will play the piano and Mrs. Naomi Cook, the organ. There will be special choir numbers, as well as solos, duets and quartets.

Morals charge faced here

Kenneth Lee Hundley, 34, of 955 Wall Street, is held at the Deschutes County Jail on a sodomy charge, with bail set at $5,000.

Hundley was arraigned yesterday in Deschutes County District Court, after being arrested by Bend city police. A 15-year-old boy is involved, according to officers.

Circuit Judge Robert H. Foley presided at the arraignment, in the absence of District Judge Joe Thalhofer.

Hundley told the arresting officer that he is unemployed.

Condemnation suit is filed

Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Meyer are targets of a condemnation suit filed this week in circuit court by the State Highway Commission.

The commission has offered $2,700, including $340 for construction of a fence, for an easement through the Meyers' property on the Deschutes River - Redmond section of the McKenzie Highway.

Named as co-defendant is Equitable Savings and Loan Association, which claims an interest in the property.

Judge issues warning against wildcat strike

CHICAGO (UPI)—A U.S. district court judge today issued a stern warning against any plans to stage a wildcat ground crew strike against United Air Lines Friday.

Judge Joseph Sam Perry extended a temporary restraining order banning any walkout after he was told strike notices were already being distributed at Chicago's O'Hare International airport.

"If there is defiance of a court order, these men are headed for being discharged from their jobs," the judge said.

Mechanics and ground crewmen belonging to the International Association of Machinists (IAM) went on strike Aug. 21 against United at airports from New York to Portland, Ore.

The strike was stopped when U.S. district court Judge Bernard Decker issued a restraining order effective until Friday. At that time a federal court was to hear arguments on United's request for a preliminary injunction.

The union came into court early today asking that the order be vacated and United attorney Stuart Bernstein retorted with a charge that strike notices were being distributed at that moment.

Perry told IAM attorney Louis Poulton "I know you give the assurance that the union will not call a strike, but discipline is required here and you take that back to the men."

He then extended the restraining order banning any walkout until 6 p.m. Sept. 5.

Recent court suits reported

Two mortgage foreclosure suits and two collection suits are among civil cases filed recently in circuit court.

Equitable Savings and Loan Association has instituted two actions. In one, a judgment is sought for $10,250, plus six per cent interest from March 10, 1963, from Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Geving. Also named as defendants are Joyce Geving, a single woman, and Mr. and Mrs. Willard L. Fix, who conveyed a warranty deed to the property to Joyce and Charles Geving.

Defendants in a $1,340.25 foreclosure action are Bernadine M. Mayrand, Leonore Flick and Collections, Inc.

A. W. Brusewitz is suing Harold L. Lynch, to collect $950 on a promissory note, plus interest from Oct. 5, 1962.

Chester S. MacMillan, doing business as MacMillan Plumbing, is suing Lytle Willden and Max Williams, doing business as W2 Construction Co., for $1,962.20, balance allegedly due for work performed between May 11 and Oct. 30, 1962.

Others winning blues in the competition were Cynthia Harper, John Robinson, Roberta Chappell, and the teams of Susan Wampler and Mary Wiegand, Becky Christoffersen and Kathy Strickland.

Winning blues, and also named to go to state fair for the 4-H outdoor cookery projects are James Stafford, Dan Babcock, John Robinson, Steven Butler.

EMMETT KNICKERBOCKER Speaker at Rotary meeting

Knickerbocker tells experiences in ancient Iran

Home on leave from Iran, Emmett Knickerbocker, who was raised in the Sisters community, traced for Rotarians here Wednesday a picture of primitive agriculture in an ancient land.

For the past two years, Knickerbocker, serving as an agriculture advisor under a State Department program, was stationed in Regizeh, Iran. On his return, he will be working out of Shiraz. He is one of eight field advisers to the Iranian government, working with people of that country in an effort to increase agriculture production, especially in areas where people are facing near starvation.

Knickerbocker reminded Rotarians that Iran has an ancient history, but is a country that is not very fertile. He described great salt deserts, and vast areas lacking water. Some 20 million people live in a country that is about one-fifth of the size of the United States.

Through the centuries, Knickerbocker mentioned, present Iran has suffered many times by invaders, from the days of Genghis Khan to World War II when both Russia and England occupied parts of the country.

Knickerbocker's transfer will take him to a part of Iran that has suffered from drought conditions for the past five years. His particular assignment will be to step up sugar production.

Knickerbocker and his wife, Teddy, are visiting with his sister, Mrs. Hugh M. Amsherry, at Camp Sherman. He is the son of M. W. Knickerbocker, Deschutes pioneer.

Westward Ho Motel purchased

Mr. and Mrs. E. Paul Farnsworth, who are moving here from Salem, are new owners of the Westward Ho Motel, at 1414 S. Third Street. They bought it from Norval H. Martin, Portland.

Farnsworth was here this week to complete negotiations. He and his wife and daughter, Cherie, who will be a senior in high school, will move here next week. They have purchased residence property on E. 12th Street.

Farnsworth was in the soft drink bottling business in Salem. He is a member of the Elks Lodge, the Lions Club and the American Legion. He is a World War II veteran.

There will be no changes in operation of the motel. Farnsworth said. Mrs. Ethel Wegner will continue as manager.

The motel consists of 43 units. A swimming pool was installed this summer.

Sawyer favors quota system in milk hassle

SALEM (UPI) — A voluntary agreement between Oregon handlers and their Washington milk producers to qualify Washington producers for quotas under the Oregon milk stabilization law was proposed Wednesday by K. V. Sawyer.

The suggestion was made by the Oregon milk audit and stabilization chief at a hearing to consider proposed regulations under the 1963 milk stabilization act.

The suggestion drew no comment from the 50 producers and handlers present.

Sawyer said the department would not enforce or apply the provisions of the stabilization act to out-of-state milk brought into Oregon "unless such milk is voluntarily made subject to the stabilization act under contract by and between the out-of-state producer and the Oregon handler."

Sawyer proposed to include the voluntary contract idea in the regulations under discussion.

The agriculture department will accept written comments on the plan for another two weeks, Sawyer said.

Pine industry negotiations are scheduled

PORTLAND (UPI) — Negotiations with pine area lumber operators were scheduled for this week following virtual completion of agreements between the Northwest lumber unions and fire area workers. A Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union spokesman said today.

Ratification was still pending of an agreement between the LSW and the Boise Cascade Corporation covering operations at Valtosa, Ore., and Ellensburg and Yakima, Wash. The agreement followed the industry-set standard of 30 1/2 cents per hour over three years.

Meetings were scheduled with Boise Cascade for pine area operations at Inchellum, Lincoln and Spokane, Wash., this week, according to William Ransbottom, business representative for District Council.

Sessions for new contracts covering Boise Cascade in the Blue Mountain District Council were scheduled for the end of this week or early next week, he said.

Meanwhile, ratification of agreements with Roseburg Lumber Co., Douglas Veneer and Carlyn Panel Co., were announced.

George Hollis Radford, 39, Prineville, was booked Tuesday at the Deschutes County Jail, to serve a 15-day sentence for driving while his license was suspended. He was also fined $200, or 40 more days. Radford appeared yesterday before Justice D. L. Ellis, in Redmond Justice Court.

Meantime, ratification of agreements with Roseburg Lumber Co., Douglas Veneer and Carlyn Panel Co., were announced.

Century Drive development due

Development of 180 acres just out of Bend, on the North Century Drive, is the aim of a newly-formed group called "North Century Seven." An assumed business name was filed this week at the courthouse.

The property, the former Ken Gulick ranch, was acquired about six months ago. A local real estate agent, whose name does not appear on the filing of the business name, is understood to be promoting the speculation.
