Bitter fighting in Cuba reported

MIAMI (UPI) — Cuban exile sources here today reported bitter fighting between guerrillas and Castro troops in Central Cuba with heavy casualties on both sides.

Four underground groups in the field in Cuba were said to have pooled their resources in a 20-day series of running skirmishes with Castro regulars. Nearly 200 battle casualties, including 144 killed, were reported.

Scene of the prolonged fighting was Guissimal, in Las Villas Province, some 12 miles south of Sancti Spiritus, important communications center and one of the province's major cities.

The area is 20 miles east of the Sierra Escambray, where resistance to the Cuban Communist regime has been almost continuous since Fidel Castro seized power in 1959.

Exiles estimated the government threw at least 6,000 militia troops into the fray at various times and used helicopters, tanks, field artillery and armored cars in the fighting.

Hatfield barbs draw reply

PORTLAND (UPI) — Delay until Oct. 1, 1964, on opening of bids on offshore oil exploration is in the public interest and will stimulate the economy of the Northwest in the long-run, the Interior Department maintained today.

The department issued a statement in answer to an attack by Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield last week. Hatfield charged that failure to open the bids until late in 1964 amounted to penalizing companies which were ready to bid earlier and would hurt the economy of the Northwest by delaying the work until 1965.

The exploration work would be done on federal ocean lands off the Oregon and Washington coasts.

Hatfield said the delay penalized Shell Oil Co. for having enough initiative to search actively for oil off the Northwest coast.

Appeals court upholds action on Teren salary

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Ninth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has upheld the decision of a federal court in Portland decreasing the salary of former Columbia River Paper Co. president Nils G. Teren.

The Appeals Court also approved a decision to cancel stock options of top officials and invalidate some of their retirement benefits.

Federal Judge Gus J. Solomon of Portland had ordered Teren's salary cut from $96,000 to $72,000 a year and ordered him to return $129,684 in excessive salary plus interest. The decision was handed down in April, 1962.

Company stockholders brought the suit, claiming company funds were being diverted by key officials to their own use in the guise of unauthorized salaries.

Columbia River Paper Co. was purchased by Boise Cascade Corp. the same month Solomon's decision was handed down.

Union blasts picket threat

PORTLAND (UPI) — Officials of the Local 8 of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union Monday blasted a threat to picket their headquarters by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

In a statement signed by local president Charles Ross and secretary Art Ronne, the union said it does not discriminate against Negroes. It said 11 Negroes have been working on the docks for almost two years.

"These honest Negroes came down and sought work, not because of the color of their skin, but as fellow Americans who needed an opportunity to earn a decent living," the statement said in part.

"To arrogantly demand jobs solely because of race is un-American and contrary to the principles of Christian brotherhood... We view the threats to picket... as a classic example of misleading the Negro people."

CITIZEN ISSUED

Lloyd Raymond Vanderbrink, 63, of Islay, Mont., was cited by Bend city police Monday on charges of being intoxicated on a public street. Bail was fixed at $27.50.

Armless boy takes engine on 'test' run

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (UPI) — The husky 12-year-old boy had spent most of his idle life watching the wonderful switch engines and mighty streamliners busy at work in the railway yards.

The youth had been born armless and could not run and play with the other children. He went to special schools and learned to use his feet as hands.

Life was dull for Larry Jones, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jones, Kansas City, Kan.

When he spent a night with his father and mother, he was overwhelmed and climbed aboard. It was the first time he had been on a train.

The brake was impled to release and the engine inched forward. He manipulated the throttle and gained speed. Finally Santa Fe switch engine No. 522 was breezing along at 40 miles an hour.

Switchmen were horror-stricken. They couldn't see the novice engineer. Switches were thrown and other trains rerouted.

No. 522 hummed along the track across a Kansas River bridge and into Missouri. The youngster, using his adept feet, halted the engine. He threw it into reverse and headed back toward home, where trainman Gene Schiebel caught up with the locomotive and activated an emergency brake.

"He was scared," an officer said later, "but he kept his head."

The youth was taken into custody, but later returned to his parents. Authorities speculated that no charges would be filed.

"I like trains," the boy told authorities.

"I'm glad he didn't like airplanes," a juvenile officer said later.

Area students on bar list

The names of 78 persons who passed the Oregon State Bar examinations have been announced by the Oregon Supreme Court. The court said 32 persons failed to pass the tests.

Thirty of those who passed were from Portland, 15 from Salem, 13 from Eugene. There were two from out of state.

Included in the group passing were two Central Oregonians, Mark A. Bliven, Bend, and Rodney R. Glantz, Prineville.

Crew blamed in plane crash

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) today blamed the crew's "lack of vigilance" for the crash of a West Coast Airlines plane into Utah's Great Salt Lake last Jan. 17. Three persons were killed.

The plane, a Fairchild F27, was on a pilot training flight with a Federal Aviation Agency inspector aboard when it crashed.

Killed were the inspector, Buell Z. Davis, 45; check pilot Capt. William H. Lockwood, 42, and Capt. Elmer J. Cook, 46, a trainee who sought an F27 rating.

According to the CAB report, the plane crashed into the lake when it failed to pull out of a "simulated emergency descent."
