Robert E. Jones gets judgeship

SALEM (UPI) — State Rep. Robert E. Jones, R-Portland has been named to a circuit judgeship on the trial bench of the Multnomah County Circuit Court, the governor's office announced today. Jones, 36, a freshman member of the legislature, will take over the judgeship at the end of the judicial day, Oct. 31.

A vacancy was created earlier this month when Judge Donald E. Long, of the domestic relations department, announced his retirement.

Judge Carl A. Dahl, who has been on the circuit bench since June of 1955, handling both trial and domestic relations cases, has asked and been given a chance to resign his trial duties and to succeed Long in the domestic relations department.

Gov. Mark Hatfield agreed to the change. Jones is a member of the firm of Anderson, Franklin, Jones and Olson of Portland.

His appointment vacates his position in the legislature. It is expected the Washington County Court may not name a successor to Jones unless a special legislative session is called before the regular session in 1965.

Mild weather aids salvage

PORTLAND (UPI) — A mild spring and a cool summer have been helpful factors in the timber blowdown situation, a lumber official said Tuesday.

W. D. Hagenstein, executive vice president of the Industrial Forestry Association, said an estimated 17 billion board feet of timber was knocked down in the region by the Oct. 12 and subsequent winds.

He told a Keep Oregon Green luncheon that the mild spring allowed salvage of 2 1/2 billion board feet and because of this the lumber strike this summer did not materially hurt the overall salvage effort. Hagenstein said the cool summer proved unfavorable for the dreaded bark beetle, but that beetles still remain a threat. An increase in lightning-caused fires this summer was noted but the overall acreage burned on state and federal land is about the same as last year, despite the blowdown danger, forestry officials said.

State Forester Dwight Phipps said that because of the blowdown, some areas may be open by permit only to deer hunting.
