

Layered look leads in fashion for fall. Here for the young set, the layers are three—jacquard plaid V-neck pullover, sleeveless mock-turtle shell and box-pleated, green and black diagonal tweed skirt.

Interest added by '63 cuffs

With fashion interest shifting strongly to sleeves, cuffs as well as shoulder lines come in for a greater share of attention this season.

Favorite treatment is the little roll cuff, with the sleeve softly gathered into it. This type of cuff often is accompanied by a matching roll collar.

The shirt-cuff look for sleeves continues in both suits and coats. Other cuffs are detailed to give a custom effect — handsomely adorned with buttons or with buckles and straps. The result adds up to still more freshness for fall fashion.

TILE TIP

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ceramic tile is an ideal surfacing material for kitchen countertops since its dense scratch-proof body is baked at more than 2000 degrees during manufacture and cannot be damaged by hot pots and pans.

Bags accent country air

Handbags in rich, earthy colors add off-hand elegance to the new country look in fashion. In city, suburb and countryside, fall's handsomest handbags put the accent on roomy casual shapes, "heavy" ornamentation and interesting leather treatments. Textures are varied — grained, sueded, antiqued, brushed and deep-polished smooth.

Contours are large but not over-size, spacious but not bulky. Deep, woody shades and autumnal hues put the beauty of handbag leathers and silhouettes into glowing focus.

Colors such as mustard, cranberry and copper add spice to neutrals, while log, antelope, meadow brown and black forest (blackened green) subtly underline brighter hues.

Seen more often as handle treatment are flexible self-leather straps, either single or double, and rigid construction leather-covered handles. Brass closings, emblems and other brass hardware, including luggage buttons, are further evidence of suburbanite styling come to town.

Smaller and slimmer, though still roomy, are leather handbags for dressy costumes — envelopes, clutches and scaled-down box bags. Subdued ornamentation is the "order of the late day" with a simple burnished florentine gold closing or other decoration the only trim.

In glossy smooth leathers, glowing lustre leathers and sleek suede, handbags for after-dark remain pretty and petite. Occasionally sparkled with a touch of jeweling, evening bags in deep, vivid colors or inky black enhance the festive life of fall.

Fall fashion trends for men are pointed up here in a light-toned glen plaid British wool worsted suit (left) with two buttons and (right) in three-button sport jacket in a British woolen fabric, featuring a bold masculine pattern, flap pocket, two side vents.

Young juniors get fall jump

Young juniors get the jump on fall fashion in skimmy or shift-shaped jumpers, worn with long-sleeved blouses or turtle-neck sweaters. Many jumpers, along with vests and jerkins, display dropped shoulders.

The wandering waistline is on-the-move in young junior dresses and jumpers. Fall fashion offers a variety of high-rise looks, low-belted styles, unmarked waistlines and new stretched-out torsos.

FLOATING BED
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — A "floating bed" is being used by scientists at the University of Rochester to measure the forces generated by the heart.

Floating a fraction of an inch above jets of compressed air, the bed is completely free from extraneous vibration. It permits researchers to obtain highly precise measurements that are unobtainable if even the slightest background tremors are present.

It all adds up to fashion maturity in the youthful mood.

Light, bright look in men's styles noted

It's out of the dark and into the light for men this fall and winter as men's fashions trend toward the "light and bright" look. Men's tailored clothes will move away from the dominating blacks and dark tones into an era of silvery grays, rich iridescents, silvered browns and blues.

The two-button suit in countless interpretations becomes the fashion front runner, backed by the classic three-button models and the high-style one-button ideas.

Sportswear waves a red flag for fall and winter, presenting shades from the brightest firemen's red to deep, deep burgundy. These colors will dominate most segments of the sportswear field.

The classic look will be an important factor in the styling picture throughout.

Iridescent suit bears watching

This fall's most newsworthy development in the trend-setting department is the emergence of the "iridescent suit," in which sparkling gold, olive, blue and green threads are woven together in the fabric so that suit actually changes color as its owner moves about.

Introduced by several major manufacturers, the "iridescent suit" seems a logical projection of the now well-entrenched lighter, brighter look in men's suits, and in some circles is seen as the harbinger of a new and significant trend in this realm.

AT THE NECKLINE
Neckline note for the sportive look is provided by ties, in ascot and other versions.

Versatile coat, featuring wing collar and raglan sleeves, can be worn beltless, half or fully belted.

PAJAMA STORY
For those partial to pajamas, fall's newest ones feature a long shirt over short pants.
