

Briefs Here and There

Meetings tonight include: Cub Pack No. 23, Thompson School auditorium, 7 o'clock; Pioneros Pine post and auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, VFW Hall, N. First Street at Revere Avenue, 7:30. At 8 o'clock: Bend Ladies of Elks, BPOE dining room; Deschutes County 4-H Leaders Association, conference hall, Redmond extension office.

A regular meeting of Tahawas Toastmistress Club will be held tonight at 7:30, in the dining room at Superior Cafe. All members are asked to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Don McKague, 160 Irving, are parents of a 6-pound, 14-ounce boy born early this morning at St. Charles Memorial Hospital. Donald Dean is the name selected.

Eagles Auxiliary is sponsoring a rummage sale today, Friday and Saturday at the Domino Hall, on Greenwood Avenue near Eagles Hall. The sale starts at 9 a.m.

In and Out of hospitals In Central Oregon

BEND
New patients at St. Charles Memorial Hospital are Raymond L. Clark, Route 1, Bend; William Frank Lathrop, 515 Kansas, Corvallis; Baillargon, 1354 Federal; William Redding, 2105 Aubrey Road; James Guy Foster, Summer Lake; Clea M. Oatman, 106 Colorado; Mrs. Lonnie Wright, Jr., 613 E. Olney; Stephen McDermott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McDermott, 423 Portland Avenue.

Patients dismissed were Mrs. Lonnie Wright, Mrs. Leland Huetl, Mrs. John Schilling, Mrs. James McFadden, Mrs. Cecile Carlson, Mrs. Virginia Hendrix, Mrs. Wayne Christenson, Merle Lowe.

PRINEVILLE
PRINEVILLE — New patients admitted to Pioneer Memorial Hospital are Mrs. Harry Bongers, Mrs. Harvey Hockett, Fred Piant, John Koehler, Allen Stewart, James Butler, Mrs. Edward Hall, Mrs. Eugene Brooks, Prineville. Released have been Chris Galbraith, Felix Gagemier, James Butler, Pauline McLaughy, William Ashcraft, Prineville.

Home Nursing course can be taken by TV

Central Oregon women interested in taking the Red Cross Home Nursing course can do it by daytime television, Mrs. Neal Goldsmith, Red Cross Home Nursing Supervisor, said today.

Special TV classes start October 1 at 2:15 p.m. over Channel 5 in Bend. This is the Educational TV channel 10 in Portland. The courses last 10 weeks and can be taken at home, Mrs. Goldsmith said.

Women interested should register in advance at the Red Cross office in Bend. There will be a workshop at the end of the lessons for those who want certificates, Mrs. Goldsmith said.

Information, workbooks and textbooks, necessary for the course, can be obtained at the Bend Red Cross office. The course is also being offered during evening time on Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. on the same station for those who can't take it during daytime hours, Mrs. Goldsmith said.

DIRECTOR NAMED
PORTLAND (UPI) — C. Howard Lane, local radio and television executive, has been elected a director of the First National Bank of Oregon.

Lane is president of Mt. Hood Radio and Television Broadcasting Corp. and also has business interests in Astoria.

AMERICA'S Master of Mischief!

Dennis the Menace
BEGINS MONDAY IN THE BULLETIN

Juniper and Sage Home Extension Unit will sponsor a rummage sale on Friday, in the building formerly occupied by the Superior Cafe, on Bond Street. Hours will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Duplicate bridge winners in last night's session include, north-south, first, Art Hill and Dr. Dave Spence; second, Ila Hansen and Mrs. Alma Douglass; third, Mrs. Chester Slimkosky and Mrs. Jack Jeffers, and fourth, Mrs. Charles Whitcomb and Mrs. Olivia Sathan. East-west, first, Carl Rexroad and Jerry Todd; second, tie between Col. Rex T. Barber and Mrs. Don Fahey and Wallace and John Cleveland; fourth, Mrs. F. S. McGarvey and Mrs. A. C. Stipe. Hostesses were Mrs. Fred Buchanan and Mrs. Ed Strother.

Bachelor Beauts will have their regular dance Saturday at 8:45 p.m. at the Eastern Star Grange Hall. Larry Musgrave will do the calling. Refreshments will be served. All square dancers are welcome.

Circle 1, Catholic Altar Society, will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday, October 1 at the home of Mrs. Katherine Duffy, 902 Broadway, with Inez Melarive as co-hostess.

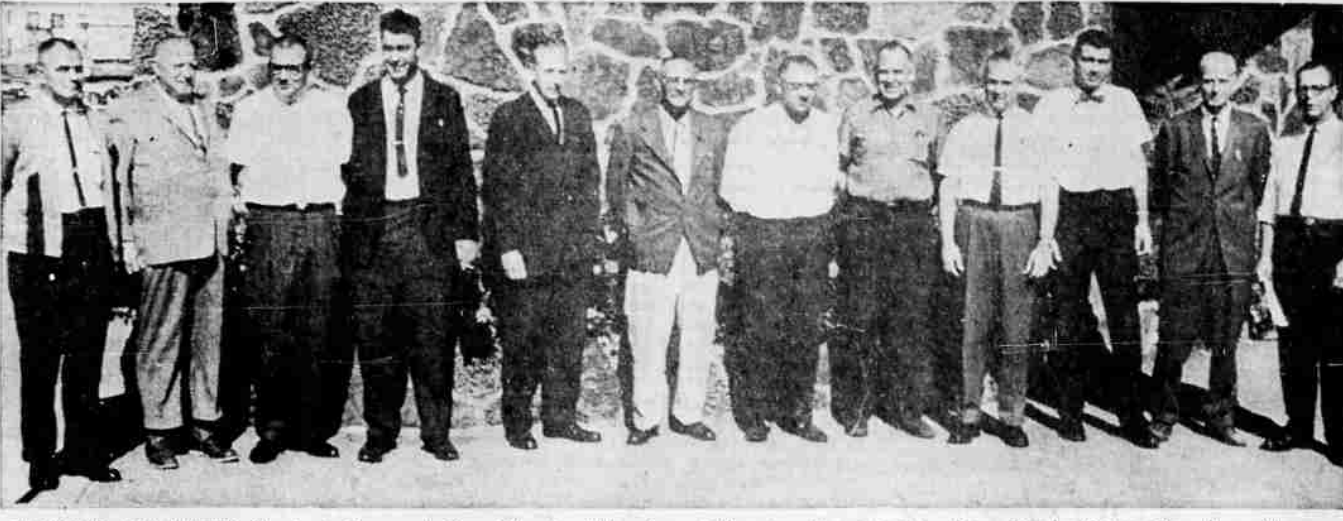

Mr. and Mrs. Farley J. Elliott, 543 Florida Avenue, will leave San Francisco September 28 for a vacation in Hawaii. They will make the ocean voyage aboard the luxury liner Matsonia. Elliott is Bend postmaster.

Door-to-door campaign set

Special to The Bulletin
PRINEVILLE — Some 20 teams of United Fund workers, with a total of 80 workers will be visiting homes of the Prineville area this evening in an intensive door-to-door drive for a part of the county's total budget.

The budget being sought in the current UF campaign is $12,000, with team captains hoping to raise $1,000 of that sum in the house calls to be made during the evening.

Team captains have been meeting regularly in a planning program of more than usual vigor, according to Crook county UF officers.

PLANNING COMMITTEE—The local Governor's Committee for "Hire the Handicapped" Week are pictured after a recent meeting. Members from the left are Chester C. Myers, William J. Baer, Sr., Clarence V. Bells, Jr., John C. Kerns, Harvey Olson, William C. Fickas, Myron Klose, Gordon McKay, Willard Hollenbeck, David Beckman, Hobart Starr, and Clark A. Price. Other members of the committee not pictured are Douglas Gaines, Rev. James Thompson, Vince Genna, Robert Ashby, D. L. Penhollow, Eddie Berg, Clifford Briggs, Don A. Grate, Mel Rogers, and Larry Keown. The week will be from October 6 to the 13th.

Problems of youth discussed at Juvenile Council session here

By Ila S. Grant
Bulletin Staff Writer
Public agencies are obligated to coordinate their efforts and make the results of their services "sell" their programs to the taxpayers, Rodney M. Starkey told the Oregon Juvenile Council in the keynote speech Wednesday morning. He is director of the Clackamas County juvenile department.

Problems of children and youth in relation to schools, law enforcement agencies, courts and other public departments were discussed from different points of view, in a panel presentation later. Attendance had reached 100 by late afternoon, with more participants expected today.

Jewell Goddard, Lane County juvenile department, was panel moderator. Four speakers pointed out the increasingly interlocking functions of schools, police, institutions and agencies.

Nick Peet, Salem, representing the Oregon Board of Control, said that over-crowded conditions at MacLaren School for Boys, Woodburn, and Hillcrest School of Oregon (for girls), Salem, put the institutions involuntarily into the business of "warehousing" children. Additional facilities, he said, are needed. Particularly a school for rehabilitation of older youths, to fill the gap between MacLaren and the Oregon Correctional Institution, and domiciliary care for children younger than high school age.

He mentioned ever-present problems of financing, intense public pressure resulting from escapes, misfit inmates who require maximum security and cause injustice to others, and the occasional shutting of persons from one institution to another because of diagnostic disagreement.

Ernest Gallaher, Pendleton chief of police, had both pats and pans for the new Oregon Juvenile Code, saying that it is "over-permissive and over-indulgent," reflecting the attitudes in both homes and schools. He criticized the juvenile tobacco law as being impossible to enforce, and a cause of disrespect to law enforcement agencies.

Albert Nelson, assistant superintendent of the Bend Public Schools, speaking from his experience as a member of the Deschutes County Juvenile Council, said that there is need for more psychiatric social workers, and to a lesser degree, more visiting nurses. Prevention of juvenile delinquency is most effective at an early age, he said, and mentioned the recommendation of last year's Governor's Conference on Children and Youth for more emphasis on guidance for children under 12.

Ray Riese, State Public Welfare Commission, told how his agency is concerned with the juvenile problem, and how family group therapy, often involving several agencies, enters into the picture.

The program opened with an invocation by the Rev. William Coughlan. Hal Puddy, Bend city manager, gave the welcome. Julian Hellock, Roseburg, council president, gave a general introduction to the three-day program. He is Douglas County juvenile court director.

LIKE THE HORSES
PARIS (UPI)—A butchers' organization disclosed Wednesday that Parisians consumed 111,500 horses last year.

Speakers named for meeting

MADRAS — State Representative Kessler Cannon and Madras School Superintendent William Dahlien will be featured speakers at the first fall meeting of the Madras Parent-Teachers Association scheduled for Monday, September 30 at the Madras grade school cafeteria.

Rep. Cannon, from Bend, will discuss the referendum on the state tax bill for the next biennium. Superintendent Dahlien is new to the district this year and will discuss the school situation in the district.

STROUT'S AUTOMOTIVE
168 Greenwood Ph. 382-2442
A Complete Line Of Automotive Paint Regardless Of Color!

Problems of youth discussed at Juvenile Council session here

By Ila S. Grant
Bulletin Staff Writer
Public agencies are obligated to coordinate their efforts and make the results of their services "sell" their programs to the taxpayers, Rodney M. Starkey told the Oregon Juvenile Council in the keynote speech Wednesday morning. He is director of the Clackamas County juvenile department.

Problems of children and youth in relation to schools, law enforcement agencies, courts and other public departments were discussed from different points of view, in a panel presentation later. Attendance had reached 100 by late afternoon, with more participants expected today.

Jewell Goddard, Lane County juvenile department, was panel moderator. Four speakers pointed out the increasingly interlocking functions of schools, police, institutions and agencies.

Nick Peet, Salem, representing the Oregon Board of Control, said that over-crowded conditions at MacLaren School for Boys, Woodburn, and Hillcrest School of Oregon (for girls), Salem, put the institutions involuntarily into the business of "warehousing" children. Additional facilities, he said, are needed. Particularly a school for rehabilitation of older youths, to fill the gap between MacLaren and the Oregon Correctional Institution, and domiciliary care for children younger than high school age.

He mentioned ever-present problems of financing, intense public pressure resulting from escapes, misfit inmates who require maximum security and cause injustice to others, and the occasional shutting of persons from one institution to another because of diagnostic disagreement.

Ernest Gallaher, Pendleton chief of police, had both pats and pans for the new Oregon Juvenile Code, saying that it is "over-permissive and over-indulgent," reflecting the attitudes in both homes and schools. He criticized the juvenile tobacco law as being impossible to enforce, and a cause of disrespect to law enforcement agencies.

Albert Nelson, assistant superintendent of the Bend Public Schools, speaking from his experience as a member of the Deschutes County Juvenile Council, said that there is need for more psychiatric social workers, and to a lesser degree, more visiting nurses. Prevention of juvenile delinquency is most effective at an early age, he said, and mentioned the recommendation of last year's Governor's Conference on Children and Youth for more emphasis on guidance for children under 12.

Ray Riese, State Public Welfare Commission, told how his agency is concerned with the juvenile problem, and how family group therapy, often involving several agencies, enters into the picture.

The program opened with an invocation by the Rev. William Coughlan. Hal Puddy, Bend city manager, gave the welcome. Julian Hellock, Roseburg, council president, gave a general introduction to the three-day program. He is Douglas County juvenile court director.

LIKE THE HORSES
PARIS (UPI)—A butchers' organization disclosed Wednesday that Parisians consumed 111,500 horses last year.

The '64s from Ford are here: The Year of the Test Drive starts today!

Ford cars have changed. Only a test drive can tell you how much. Races and rallies, economy runs, braking and acceleration tests have bred into our 1964 models the kind of total performance you just can't create on the test track alone. They are hard-muscled, fast-moving, sure-footed. Open competition helped make them that way. They offer you substantially more car than anything at their price. You don't have to take our word for it. We're willing to rest our case on our cars.

1964 SUPER TORQUE FORD
Strongest, smoothest, steadiest car in its field—by hundreds of pounds... More steel in frame and suspensions... Unique suspension system allows wheels to move backward as well as up and down to flatten bumps... Distinctive new rooflines.

1964 FAIRLANE
Unique combination of family-size room, sports car feel and modest price... Optional 289-cubic-inch V-8 so lively it was adapted for famous Cobra sports car... Five engine choices, six transmission choices, eight different models.

1964 FALCON
Everything's changed except the economy that made Falcon famous... Falcon's Six still holds all-time Mobil Economy Run record for Sixes or Eights... Plushest ride ever built into a compact car... 14 models—plus three extra-duty wagons.

ROBBERSON FORD SALES, INC.
424 E. Third St. Bend, Oregon

SIG TOMCZAK FORD, INC.
585 S. Sixth St. Redmond, Oregon