Hospitals may be closed if tax bill beaten

SALEM (UPI) — Defeat of the tax measure at the Oct. 15 election could result in closure of Columbia Park and Dammasch hospitals, Gov. Mark Hatfield hinted today.

The governor told a meeting of the Mental Health Planning Board that defeat of the tax measure could result in an $8.3 million cut-back in budgets for mental health operations.

"This amounts to more than the total budget for operation of Columbia Park and Dammasch hospitals.

"Closure of these or other institutions would be deplorable, but it is obvious that in the event the tax measure is defeated, and in the absence of legislative action, reduction of equal magnitude would be required," he said.

Hatfield said, "I believe that a vote against the tax bill would do irreparable harm."

He added: "I can assure you that state officers and employees will abide by the election decision whichever way it goes."

All Have Stake
"It is not my purpose to make either threats or promises," Hatfield said, "However, I do feel obliged to remind you that each of us has a stake in the coming election."

The governor insisted "no persons should be denied services because of cost beyond their ability to pay. The public should be provided with full and complete information about mental health services, resources, and costs."

He said the 1963 legislature budgeted $33.5 million to the mental health division of the State Board of Control for operation of the mental institutions, and assistance to local communities.

"Ironically, at the moment we should be planning to better meet public needs, we must now look at the dark possibility of a reduced program," Hatfield said.

The session will open with tours of six psychiatric facilities in the Portland area. An exhibit of art work by mental hospital patients has been arranged. The session will close with a banquet at which Dr. West will speak on the subject, "New Frontiers of the Human Mind."

All sessions are open to the public. Luncheon and banquet tickets may be obtained from the Mental Health Association, 427 SW 11th, Portland.

Plan adopted on discipline

EUGENE (UPI) — President Arthur Flemming of the University of Oregon says students themselves will be in large part responsible for campus discipline this year.

Flemming told his Monday news conference the program being adopted this year by the university goes as far as any institution in the country in placing responsibility for student conduct on the student.

A faculty-student conduct committee may delegate its job to a student court.

Among items included in the program is liberalizing closing hours for women students over 21. The program also emphasizes the university will not ask special treatment for any student accused of violating city or state laws.

Terms of two COI directors expire in 1964

Terms of two directors, Arthur Horsell of Powell Butte and Victor Payne of Terrebonne, of the Central Oregon Irrigation District will expire in January, 1964, COI directors have announced.

Petitions to fill the vacancies must be filed with the secretary, Betty Stanard, at the Redmond office not later than October 26. If necessary, an election, will be held November 12.

Horsell, who represents the Powell Butte division, has served on the board for the past six and a half years. Payne, representing the Terrebonne division, has been on the board since Jan. 8, 1958.

Carry-over board members are Ray Knowles, Redmond; Bertel Nelson, Bend, and Alvin Niemann, Alfalfa. Terms of board members run for three years.

Nominations by petition must be made not less than 15 days prior to the election date. If only one qualified candidate is named for each office to be filled, an election will not be necessary, with the candidates declared elected.

Petition forms for nomination of candidates for director are available at the office of the secretary. Candidates for membership on the five man board must be owners of land situated in the division proposed to represent.

Firemen answer three alarms

Bend firemen answered three alarms Monday and Tuesday morning.

The first was a small grass fire which was out when crews arrived at the G. G. Millet residence, Glen Vista Road. No damage occurred. Firemen later drove to the city dump when fire began spreading. There was no damage.

Early this morning, Ralph Dickinson of 718 E. Second called the department when he smelled smoke in his house. The odor came from a burned out fan motor on his furnace.

Fatal shooting is investigated

THE DALLES (UPI)—Sherman County Dist. Atty. T. Lester Johnson today was investigating the fatal shooting of Keith Sturdevant, 34, at a Rufus trailer house Sunday night.

Johnson said witnesses were being questioned but no charges had been filed.

The fatal shooting, the third in six months in Sherman County, apparently followed an argument between Sturdevant and another man at a tavern, authorities said. Sturdevant was struck by a bullet from a .22 revolver.

Teamster local found guilty of unfair practices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Labor Relations Board said today Teamsters Local No. 324 was guilty of unfair labor practices in picketing retail outlets in the Salem, Ore., area which handled products of Curly's Dairy, Inc., and Timber Valley Dairy, Inc.

Cascade Employers Association filed the unfair labor charges last Jan. 21, charging the union picketed certain retail establishments with the object of forcing them to cease doing business with the dairies.

The proceedings were transferred to the NLRB May 13 after the parties agreed to waive taking of testimony before a trial examiner and issuance of an intermediate report. A three-member panel made the ruling for the full NLRB.

The two dairies and the union had been unable to reach agreement on a collective bargaining contract since Aug. 9, 1962.

The NLRB found that the union had "engaged in a program to promote and bring about a consumer boycott of the dairy products produced by both employers." It said since Jan. 1, 1963, the union has picketed the premises of Albertson's Market, Orcutts Market, Marth's IGA Store, Jerry Home Market, and other retail food and grocery markets in the vicinity of Salem and Lebanon.

The decision noted the pickets were given detailed instructions not to interfere with deliveries or employees at the picketed stores, and that the union had notified operators of the stores of the intention to picket peacefully. It said the union had no labor dispute with any of the retail outlets.

The NLRB said it has consistently held that picketing of a secondary establishment addressed to consumers constitutes restraint and coercion.

The NLRB ordered the union to cease and desist. The union can appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Forest free from fires

The Deschutes National Forest was free of fires today, with the hazard this morning lower than that of yesterday because of a sudden drop in temperature overnight.

Bend's low for the night was 38 degrees. In some areas, some ground frost was reported. However, forecasts for Central Oregon call for continued fair weather through Wednesday, but with temperatures expected to reach around 80 degrees. Bend's high yesterday was 77.

Some afternoon clouds are expected in Central Oregon Wednesday.

Despite the improvement in fire weather conditions, the fire alert continued in mid-Oregon woods, with most lookouts still occupied in the Deschutes woods.

Foresters report, however, that there are comparatively few hunters in the Deschutes woods — possibly the lowest number for the start of the season in the past decade.

Publicity relative to the poor take of deer in the Deschutes country this past year is believed to be a factor in the comparatively few hunters in the local woods this season.

City directs Reif to get rid of wall

The wall must go! This decision of the City of Bend was essentially the content of a letter sent to Robert D. Reif, 1559 Division, and read to City Commissioners Monday during a noon luncheon.

Reif is the builder of a rock wall which sticks out onto the Division Street dirt roadway that passes the front of his house. He built it for the purpose of asserting his front property line, which actually extends a yard beyond the wall into the street. City police have complained that it presents a definite traffic hazard to motorists using the street, and City Manager Hal Puddy has requested its removal. But Reif has been firm in his refusal.
