Sandy Koufax fans fifteen for new mark

NEW YORK (UPI)—Southpaw Sandy Koufax broke the World Series strikeout record today when he fanned 15 New York Yankee batters in a superb six-inning performance that enabled the Los Angeles Dodgers to win the opening game of the classic, 5-2. John Roseboro's three-run homer and a pair of run-producing singles by Moose Skowron drove in all the Los Angeles runs off Yankee lefthander Whitey Ford before a crowd of exactly 68,000 fans in sun-soaked Yankee Stadium.

Koufax' feat broke the record of 14 set by Carl Erskine of the old Brooklyn Dodgers exactly 10 years ago to this day in the 1953 World Series against the Yankees. By striking out the first five batters he faced, the 27-year-old Koufax also tied a record set by Mort Cooper of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1943, also against the Yankees. The Dodger fireballer pitched 4 2/3 perfect innings before Elston Howard singled with two out in the fifth for the Yankees' first hit. Tom Tresh drove in both New York runs with a homer into the left field stands in the eighth inning. The homer also drove in Tony Kubek, who had beaten out

'Disgraced' mobster's death told

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Cosa Nostra informer Joseph Valachi told Senate investigators today about a mobster who "died of a broken heart" after disgracing himself by showing nervousness after the killing of gangland boss Giuseppe Masseria. The squat alumnus of the crime combine identified the nervous gangster as Ciro Terranova. Masseria, who was set up for death by his own lieutenants, was murdered in a Coney Island restaurant. Masseria was the leader of the Italian faction in the 14-month Italian-Sicilian gang war of 1930-31. "Ciro was so shaky in putting the key in the ignition that they threw him off the wheel," Valachi said in describing the episode. He said Vita Genovese, alleged "under the table boss of Cosa Nostra, Terranova and other aides had been present at Masseria's slaying."

Stripped Of Power
Valachi said Ciro began to have what he called the "buck wheats" after the incident and his underworld power began to be stripped away. "After a while he took it so hard that he just died of a broken heart," he said. "He disgraced himself?" asked Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., of the Senate investigations subcommittee. Valachi agreed. Valachi testified about the Masseria slaying, touched upon briefly in Tuesday's testimony, after answering a volley of questions posed by subcommittee members. He disclaimed knowledge of criminal operations in a variety of mid-western cities in language which suggested that he had never heard of the cities themselves. "Senator, I never heard of Omaha," Valachi said, when Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., asked about policy and horse book operations there.

Nominees told by Rep. Norblad

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Walter Norblad, R-Ore., has nominated 12 young men to compete for two vacancies at the U. S. Naval Academy. They are Bernard T. Lantis, Woodburn; Robert Morrison, Monmouth; Martin Eggert, Tigard; Clifford Brown, Salem; Mark Goodell, Lake Oswego; John Lewis, Forest Grove; Frank Molek, Aloha; Ernest Badaeu, Milwaukie; Joseph Schirmer, Hillsboro; John Watson, Corvallis; Tom Mason, Sherwood; and Robert Chessman Jr., Astoria.

Negro tells of rushing bias at U of O

EUGENE (UPI)—The only Negro to go through fraternity rushing at the University of Oregon this fall was quoted by the campus newspaper today as saying there is "rather evident" discrimination on the campus. Herb Sanders, a freshman English major from Los Angeles, told the Oregon Daily Emerald that all but two of the fraternities "definitely did not intend to pledge me from the start." He said he received "drop cards" from all but two of the houses, indicating the fraternities did not wish him to return. There is no way for a Negro to become a fraternity member at the University, Sanders predicted. He told the paper he was "amazed at the lack of courage shown." "It belies the whole principle of brotherhood which underlies the fraternity system. It seems that they lost sight of the goal," Sanders insisted he was not bitter, but he added, "discrimination makes some pretty nice guys bitter."

Pearson says he resents 'threat' by state board

PORTLAND (UPI)—State Sen. Walter Pearson, D-Portland, said Tuesday he resents the "threat" by the State Board of Higher Education to raise entrance requirements and tuition if the Legislature's tax program goes down to defeat Oct. 15. Pearson and State Sen. Thomas Mahoney, D-Portland, are scheduled to make a television appearance in opposition to the tax program Sunday. If a special legislative session is called, Pearson said he would introduce a bill forbidding the board to increase tuition or scholastic standards for Oregon residents. "Public-supported higher education was never meant to be only for the best students," he said. "Most of our prominent citizens have been in the average student class. People who want their children to go to practically a graduate school should send them to some private school, such as Stanford, Yale or Harvard." Pearson also suggested the state could get along with less "leading" teachers. "I think we can better get teachers from the average teacher group, rather than those who spend their time writing books which the students are required to buy the next year," he commented. Pearson, vice chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee in the 1963 legislature, said proponents of the tax program are guilty of misrepresentation in stating that its defeat would automatically mean an increase in property taxes. He said nearly every school district in the state is over its 6 percent tax limitation and any increase in property taxes would have to be approved by the voters.

Israel renews its peace offer

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Israel renewed its peace offer to the Arab countries today and proposed a six-point pledge to pacify the Middle East. Mrs. Golda Meir, foreign minister of Israel, told the General Assembly her government "continues to believe that there are no outstanding differences between it and its Arab neighbors, including the refugee problem, that cannot be settled through direct negotiations." "To lessen existing tensions and to allay the fears of armed conflict," she said, "the government of Israel proposes to all the countries of the Middle East to pledge themselves: (1) To respect the political independence and territorial integrity of all the states of the region. (2) Not to interfere in the internal affairs of any other state. (3) To renounce the threat or use of force. (4) To abandon policies and practices of belligerency, including boycott and blockade. (5) To settle all disputes by peaceful means. (6) To enter into negotiations with the object of achieving complete disarmament with mutual inspection, covering all types of weapons."

Approval asked by Trailways for tour plan

PORTLAND (UPI)—An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner today opened a hearing on application of Pacific Trailways for a permit to operate so-called "vertical integrated" bus tours to various points in the United States and Mexico. The hearing opened at 9:30 a.m. and then recessed until 1 p.m. because of the start of the World Series. William Niskanen, Bend, executive vice president of Pacific Trailways, presented an opening statement in which he said his firm has evolved and developed the escorted bus tour idea to a point where it now conducts such operations to Alaska, New England, Florida, Mexico and Canada. Being sought is authority to conduct tours which would include passage via bus and regular commercial airlines.

Three white men facing minor counts

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Three white men arrested during an investigation of racial bombings here will be tried next Tuesday on misdemeanor charges of illegally possessing dynamite. Court officials indicated earlier the trial would be held today in recorder's court. No reason was given for the change in date. The three were freed under $300 bond. The charges carry up to $100 in fines and 90 days in jail on conviction. The misdemeanor charges were filed Tuesday against R. E. Chambliss, 59, and Charles Cagle, 22, both of whom have been held in city jail on open charges since Sunday night, and John W. Hall, who was arrested Tuesday. Cagle and Chambliss have Ku Klux Klan backgrounds and Hall has several arrests for vagrancy and a federal conviction on charges of theft from an interstate shipment. Arrests Follow Announcement
The arrests of Cagle and Chambliss followed an announcement by the office of Gov. George Wallace in Montgomery Sunday night that arrests were "imminent." The men underwent intensive questioning by state investigators, headed by Alabama Public Safety Director Al Lingo. But the Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, one of the leaders in the integration drive here, indicated dissatisfaction with the investigation. "The dramatic announcements by the governor followed by the inconsequential results makes this all the more sinister," Shuttlesworth said. "This appears to be a sham on the part of law agencies, in an effort to soothe the national conscience and placate Negroes." "The cup of the Negro's patience runneth over," he said. Lingo and his state troopers Tuesday night said they uncovered 135 sticks of dynamite hidden in a wooded area near the city. He said "we are stepping in the right direction in the Birmingham bombings. We are making progress."

OSU enrollment at all-time high

CORVALLIS (UPI)—Enrollment at Oregon State University reached an all-time high today with the announcement that 10,033 were set to start classes. The previous record of 10,037 was set last year. Registration closes Oct. 11, and officials expect the total by that time to be about 10,450. Today's totals included 6,812 men and 3,241 women.

County faces damage suit

A $15,125 law suit against Deschutes County and three elected officials, third such civil action filed as the result of an accident Jan. 29, 1962, east of Pilot Butte, was filed yesterday in Federal Court in Portland. Joseph Wright of Nampa, Idaho, filed the new suit on behalf of his son, Lamar, 4, for injuries received in the accident. Earlier lawsuits, seeking $100,000 each, were filed by Wright and his wife. Named as defendants were County Judge D. L. Penhollow, Commissioner Fred Shepard and George Baker, Don Sholes, a county cooper, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cooper, listed as residents of the county. Cooper is employed by the Bend School District. The complaint said that the accident involved two private vehicles and a county truck and that all defendants were negligent.

ALL-TIME HIGH

SALEM (UPI)—Enrollment at Willamette University has reached 1,414, an all-time high, school officials said. DOW JONES AVERAGES
By United Press International
Dow Jones final stock averages: 30 industrials 737.94, off 0.39; 20 railroads 170.61, off 0.32; 15 utilities 139.49, off 0.38; 65 stocks 299.50, off 0.33. Sales today were about 3.78 million shares compared with 4.42 million shares Tuesday.

Kennedy signs military pay boost bill into law

OPERATION CLEARANCE—Transients booked on vagrancy charges are put to task of leveling their woody homes in "hobo jungle" area, along railroad tracks just south of Franklin Ave. A 14-man crew has been busy this week clearing trees and brush growing along irrigation canal, abreast of Oregon Trail Box factory. Supervising police officer Maurice Ries says vagrants are hard workers and quite cooperative.

$1.2 billion in increases are provided

By Alvin Spivak
UPI Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy signed into law today legislation providing a $1.2 billion pay increase for nearly two million members of the armed forces effective immediately. The measure gives pay boosts ranging from $5 a month for recruits with two years of service to $10 a month for lieutenant colonels and navy commanders. Congressional action was completed Monday when the House approved the Senate-passed bill, 332 to 5. It covers all members of the armed forces except 742,000 draftees and enlistees in their first two years of service. Keep Men in Service
The pay boost is aimed at encouraging men to stay in the military services. For enlisted men, the hikes would go from $5 for some recruits to $70 for senior sergeants and petty officers. For officers, they would range from $20 for second lieutenants and ensigns to $110 for lieutenant colonels and commanders. The bill also would benefit retired military personnel, widows receiving military pensions and an estimated 900,000 reservists on drill-pay status. Written into the bill was a special $55 a month combat bonus for an estimated 2,000 U. S. servicemen exposed to Communist Viet Cong fire in South Viet Nam. Didn't Do Justice
Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of a House armed services subcommittee which spent months working on the bill, said it still did not do "justice" to the men and women in uniform. But he told his colleagues "we have done the best we can" in an economy-minded Congress. Rivers said military pay still lags behind industry, which now is skimming off the best available talent. Although the measure was $30 million short of the administration's original request, it would provide an average 14 percent increase for servicemen, who got their last raise in 1958. The President signed the bill at a ceremony in the Cabinet Room at the White House, surrounded by Defense Department officials and House and Senate members who had been instrumental in enactment of the legislation. Kennedy signed the measure with "a good deal of pleasure" because he said it recognizes the "dedicated service of so many thousands of our fellow citizens" at home and abroad. Servicemen Lauded
"While we are all necessary and properly respectful and impressed with the more powerful weapons that have been developed, we all must realize it is the men who manage them and control them," Kennedy said. The President expressed hope that the bill would encourage men to remain in the armed services and thus improve the quality of the forces. He added a hope that, "most important of all, it will sustain families." Kennedy said his administration had pledged "its best efforts" to assure that in the future military pay increases will keep pace with rises in civilian salary levels. "That is a pledge we intend to keep," he said. As he affixed his signature to the bill, using a number of pens so that he could distribute them to dignitaries present, the President looked up and asked: "This is retroactive, isn't it?" "Yes, sir, to yesterday," responded Chairman Richard B. Russell, D. Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee. "You met the schedule very well," Kennedy commented.

Woman to visit here from India

Mrs. Amnu Swamina Dhan from Madras, India, president of the All-India Bharat Scouts and Guides, will be in Bend from Sunday evening, October 6, to Tuesday morning, October 8, as the guest of the Bend Girl Scouts. She will appear at several public meetings. Mrs. Swamina Dhan is on a 90-day trip to different areas of the United States, under sponsorship of the U. S. State Department, to provide personal contact with school children. She is a member of India's Nationalist movement, formerly headed by Mahatma Gandhi, which helped win the fight for Indian independence. She will stay at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Kemple. Monday she will have a full schedule of appearances. She will be at a noon luncheon at the Pine Tavern sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, with women's organizations invited. She will be at the Methodist Church all afternoon, for various Girl Scout meetings, and in the evening will be speaker for a Central Oregon College lyceum assembly in the Bend High School auditorium, at 8:30. The schedule for the Girl Scout meetings is as follows: 2:30 p.m., leaders and board members; 3:30 p.m., troop No. 46 meeting, court of honor for junior high age girls; 4:30 p.m., songfest for all Girl Scouts and Brownies of Bend. Mrs. J. R. Meissner, Bend Girl Scout Neighborhood chairman, is coordinating these meetings.

Flora pushing over Caribbean

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—Killer Hurricane Flora pushed 125 miles per hour winds up the Caribbean today and the weather bureau warned the "well developed and dangerous" storm would grow even stronger during the day. Gale warnings were ordered for the peninsula of Barbados in the Dominican Republic this afternoon and for the peninsula Presque Isle du Sudouest in Haiti tonight. At 8 a.m. EST, the San Juan Weather Bureau said the storm's center was about 340 miles southwest of San Juan, near latitude 14.3 north, longitude 69.4 west. Moving toward the west-northwest at 14 m.p.h., Flora was expected to increase some in size and intensity during the day, the weather bureau said. "On its present course, Hurricane Flora will pass about 120 miles south of the peninsula of Barbados early tonight and less than 100 miles south of the peninsula Presque Isle du Sudouest Thursday morning," the advisory said. It warned beach residents of these areas to take precautions against tides five to eight feet above normal. Flora, which left six persons dead when it roared across Tobago Monday, increased in size during the night. "The older most hurricanes get, the more they spread out," forecasters explained.

Crippled child's dress set ablaze by taunting boys at San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An eight-year-old girl, crippled by polio, was hospitalized Tuesday with painful burns over 40 percent of her body — the victim of malicious teasing by two schoolmates because she wore braces on her legs. The victim, Cathryn Reeves, had been the target of taunts from two young boys for several weeks because of the braces. The taunts reached a climax Tuesday when one of the boys tossed a book of flaming matches at her and reduced her flower-print dress to ashes. "She couldn't do anything but stand there and burn," said an ambulance attendant who rushed her to Mission Emergency Hospital. Cathryn was reported in fair condition today while police searched for the two boys, believed to be schoolmates of the injured girl. The girl was out playing when the harassment started again. Reeves, told police her daughter had complained for several weeks of harassment by the suspect assailants. "She had complained that they pulled her hair and knocked her school books out of her arms," Mrs. Reeves said. "And earlier this afternoon Cathryn said they hit her on the head with a lunch pail on her way home from school." The girl was out playing when the harassment started again. She told investigators the boys started flicking one match at a time at her. But, she said, she was unable to run away because of her braces. Finally one of the boys tossed a book of matches and turned her into a human torch. A neighbor, alerted by the screams of two other young girls, told police. "I looked down the street and saw little Cathryn staggering along, screaming. Her clothes were all burned off. She was burned all over."
