Walsh would welcome probe

COOS BAY (UPI) — William Walsh, president of the State Board of Higher Education, Tuesday welcomed an investigation of the system's fiscal control procedures.

"The Board of Higher Education welcomes any responsible investigation of the state system," Walsh said. "State law provides for continuing audits of the state system as it provides for audits of all state agencies."

State Sen. Walter Pearson, D-Ore., called for the investigation in a speech at a meeting of the Washington County Public Forum at Beaverton Monday.

Walsh, an attorney, said, "We have worked with the legislative fiscal interim committees in past years and prior to the last session on many studies including the subject of increasing use of our classroom space and we are continuing to work with the legislative fiscal office."

"We are constantly engaged in cooperative efforts with the Department of Finance and Administration in the executive department," he added.

Award is made in court case

Credit Bureau Adjustment Dept., plaintiff in a civil suit heard yesterday in circuit court, was awarded $1,491.41 from the defendants, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Acklen. The plaintiff sought $2,012.41, amount claimed due on an account assigned by Maurice J. Olson, a Bend contractor.

The defendants claimed that work done on their residence at 834 E. Irving Avenue was not completed according to an agreement, and denied liability. A jury of six men and six women was out three hours and 15 minutes, including a dinner break. They brought in a verdict at 6:45 last night.

Charles L. Bryant, Bend, was jury foreman. Other jurors were Gladys Wehner, Terrebonne; Roy M. Edwards, Naomi Mitchell and Kenneth Whitmore, all Redmond, and the following Bend residents: Eloyce A. Reinhardt, Alf Carlson, Frank Kennedy, John E. Boone, Carola Mae Harrison, Gladys Nordby and Marguerite Banta.

Circuit Judge Robert H. Foley presided.

Plans reported for subdivision

Special to The Bulletin

REDMOND — Proceedings for bringing five acres north of Redmond into the city limits were started Tuesday evening by city councilmen.

The property, formerly owned by James Kasserman, has been sold to D. E. Irwin, Inc., of Portland. The acreage will be subdivided into city lots and a new home will be constructed on each lot. The subdivision will be known as the Sisters View Addition, according to the purchaser, who says he has constructed 63 homes in the Central Oregon area in the past year.
