Musa at odds with Hatfield on tax plans

SALEM (UPI) — A split between Gov. Mark Hatfield and Senate President Ben Musa became apparent today when Musa revealed his own plan to trim the state's general fund budget.

Musa's plan calls for budget cuts totaling $37.1 million.

Hatfield Wednesday called a special session of the legislature for Nov. 11. He said he had ordered $35 million in cutbacks, wanted the legislature to enact a $12 million speedup of withholding tax collections, and authorization to make cuts in basic school support.

Musa said he opposed giving Hatfield authority to make the cuts in basic school.

"The legislature enacted the original basic school program, and the legislature should make the cuts," Musa said.

The Democratic Senate president also said he was "afraid there will be difficulty on the one-shot plan. I don't think the voters will go for it."

Musa said he had called a caucus of the Senate Rules Committee and Senate Ways and Means Committee here Friday.

The budget cuts proposed by Musa include a $20.5 million slash in basic school support, and $1.7 million cuts in the State Department of Education.

Higher education's operation costs would be trimmed by $11.9 million, and the college building program cut by $9 million.

He proposed a $3.1 million cut in public welfare, a $1.3 million cut in mental institutions, and a $1 million slash in correctional institutions.

The courts, legislature and elected officials would be sliced $2.7 million, and reductions also would come from the tax commission, natural resources, salary adjustments, and other state building programs.

5th American defection noted

BERLIN (UPI)—The U.S. Army today investigated the fifth reported defection of an American soldier to East Germany within seven days.

The East German news agency ADN said Wednesday night Pvt. Frank Barton, 22, of the 6th Missile Battalion, 517th Artillery, stationed at Giessen, West Germany, had asked political asylum.

The Communist agency noted Barton was the second soldier from the same missile unit to defect recently. It did not say where or when he entered the East.

An Army spokesman said Barton, whose mother, Mrs. Annette Barton lives in Los Angeles, Calif., has been listed as absent without leave from Giessen since Aug. 30.

It appeared Barton went AWOL with Pvt. Gary T. Martzke, 25, of Highland, Mich., whose defection to the East was claimed by ADN Monday night, the spokesman said. The two soldiers were known to be friends, he said.

Apart from the personal link between Barton and Martzke, there was no apparent connection between any of the other defections claimed by ADN since Oct. 9, the spokesman said.

Powers struck crossing street

A man who was knocked down by an auto Wednesday at the Franklin Avenue - Wall Street intersection was later examined and released at St. Charles Memorial Hospital.

Art Powers, 57, of 921 E. 11th, was crossing Wall Street in an eastward direction when he was struck by a car making a left turn onto Wall from Franklin.

The motorist was Donald W. Wachter, 19, of 311 Wall Street. He told officers he did not spot Powers until it was too late to stop.

Boy checked for rabies

PORTLAND (UPI) — No definite diagnosis has been made as to whether a 14-year-old Turner boy, who was hospitalized here after contact with a wild fox, had rabies, a spokesman for the University of Oregon Medical School Hospital said today.

Wayland Bishop received a full series of rabies shots before he was sent home earlier this month. The fox was found dead several days before the boy became ill.

Tito in U.S., has informal talk with JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, the "independent" Communist who seeks friendly ties with both East and West, arrived today for an informal but highly significant visit with President Kennedy.

The Yugoslav president, fresh from a Latin American tour, was flying to Washington (11:45 a.m. EDT) from Williamsburg, Va., where he arrived Wednesday from Mexico City.

Tito was spending only six hours in the U. S. capital. He planned to return to Williamsburg for the night and fly to California Friday. He is scheduled to address the United Nations before leaving for home Oct. 25.

Gets Official Welcome

While his visit was listed as informal by the State Department — in an apparent effort to forestall criticism in Congress — Tito was to get the red carpet treatment usually accorded an official state visitor.

A 21-gun salute and other military honors were scheduled when his helicopter sets down on the White House lawn. The only exception to the routine: no parade through the city was planned for Tito.

Out-of-state trip planned

SALEM (UPI) — Gov. Mark Hatfield will be out of state for a week to attend a football game, make several public appearances, and get a few days of rest.

He will leave Friday with the Oregon football team and attend the game Saturday with Arizona.

Sunday night he will appear on the Sunday evening forum at the university.

Wednesday he is scheduled to make an address at Occidental College in Southern California, and on Friday will appear before the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco. He plans to return to Salem later that same day.

Mrs. Hatfield will accompany him.

Senate President Ben Musa will occupy the governor's chair in Hatfield's absence.

Glenn H. Gregg, 64, dies at hospital on Wednesday

Glenn H. Gregg, 64, winner of Bend's Outstanding Senior Citizen award for 1953, died Wednesday afternoon at St. Charles Memorial Hospital, where he had been a patient. A Bend resident 22 years, he was active throughout the period of his local residence in civic and service club work.

Born in 1899 in Ford, Iowa, he later lived in California and Minnesota, and moved to Salem in 1912. He attended Salem schools and Oregon State University. A charter member of the Salem Lions Club, he transferred his membership to Bend when the family moved here in 1941.

Mr. Gregg was owner of Gregg's Banner Bakery until it was sold to Sunrise Bakery. At the time of his death, he was sales manager for Dyer's Auto Service.

He is survived by his widow, Gladys, 820 E. Fourth Street; a son, Kenneth, Oklahoma City, Okla.; a daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Gulliford, Ephrata, Wash., and three grandchildren.

Mr. Gregg was chairman for Bend's Golden Jubilee Water Pageant celebration in 1953, and that same year, was chairman for the United Fund Drive. These activities were the particular ones for which he received the Senior Citizen Award, presented in January, 1954.

He was a member of the Bend School District board for 16 years. He was a past president and board member of the Bend Chamber of Commerce and a past director of the Bend Golf Club. A past president of the local Lions Club, at the time of his death he was an international councillor. He was a member of the St. Charles Memorial Hospital advisory board.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by the Niswonger-Reynolds Funeral Home.

Soldier's body is discovered

KLAMATH FALLS (UPI) — The body of a 19-year-old Army private from Fort Ord, Calif., was found along a railroad track nine miles east of here today.

He was identified as Leonard J. Tate. His home town was not immediately known.

Both working 'perfectly,' U.S. reports

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Two top-secret U.S. satellites were reported "working perfectly" today as they traveled in orbits toward final stations 60,000 miles high to patrol for clandestine nuclear tests in space.

The two 485-pound satellites rode into the sky one atop the other in the nose of a silvery Atlas-Agena rocket — the opening shot in a tightly guarded, five-shot program variously called "Vela Hotel," "Vela High altitude" and simply "Project 823."

The launching was one of the most deadly accurate ever made by the veteran Atlas-Agena, and informed sources said today radio signals from the satellites indicated that both were "working perfectly."

Algiers says peace talks break down

ALGIERS (UPI) — Algerian-Moroccan peace talks have broken down without reaching a cease-fire agreement and the Algerian delegation is flying home this evening, the state-operated Algiers Radio announced today.

The announcement was broadcast soon after Algerian sources in the Moroccan southern capital of Marrakech said the talks had ended in deadlock.

At the same time, reports from army headquarters at Colomb Bechar on the edge of the Sahara 500 miles southwest of Algiers said fighting raged for the fourth consecutive day between Algerian and Moroccan troops around contested border posts.

The radio said the two chief Algerian delegates M'Hamed Yazid and Major Hoffman Slimane were flying home with Algerian Ambassador to Morocco Saad Dahlab.

The announcement quoted Yazid as saying before taking off from Marrakech, "I have not been able to reach an agreement with my Moroccan brothers and I am not sure whether I shall return."

The statement appeared to indicate the talks might have broken down completely. The diplomatic developments came as Algerian and Moroccan troops were reported engaged in their fourth day of fighting for control of the Sahara outposts of Tinnjoub and Hassi Beida.

Still ahead was the tricky job of getting the moonlets to fire their small, solid-fueled rockets just at the right time to "kick" them into the intended circular orbits.

If all goes well, the satellites will swing through space about 140 degrees apart, ready to detect man-made nuclear explosions as small as 10 kilotons—equal to 10,000 tons of exploding TNT, or about half the power that destroyed Hiroshima—at distances of up to 200 million miles in space.

Defense bill signed by JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy today signed into law the second largest peacetime defense spending bill in U.S. history. The measure appropriates $47.2 billion to keep America's military muscles flexed.

The sum was so huge that it would take one person almost 90 years to spend it at a rate of $1,000 a minute.

The bill provides funds for the weapons and manpower of the armed forces for the current fiscal year which began July 1 and ends next June 30.

The defense money bill, largest to come before Congress each year, represents nearly half the entire federal budget.

The Air Force, as usual, got the lion's share of the total—$18.4 billion. The Navy received $11.2 billion and the Army $12.1 billion. Joint defense agencies accounted for the remainder.

Four convoys ordered through Russian zone

BERLIN (UPI)—The British army today ordered four convoys to travel through the Soviet zone to West Berlin in a new demonstration of Western access rights.

Soviet border guards passed the first two convoys through their checkpoint on the West German border without difficulty.

A British spokesman said soldiers in three trucks dismounted to be counted at Soviet request because there were a large number of soldiers in those trucks.

The spokesman said this was normal practice and the British dismount to facilitate clearance when there are many soldiers in a truck.

Wednesday Russian border guards harassed a British convoy, holding it for nine hours, and last weekend they held an American convoy for 48 hours.

The new movement on the 110-mile Helmstedt-Berlin highway was considered an indication of Western Allied determination to keep the vital highway route to isolated Berlin open and reject Russian demands for new inspection procedures.

A British army spokesman here said six convoys totaling more than 200 men and 60 vehicles would travel along the highway to Berlin today from a maneuver ground in West Germany.

CHAMPION STEER SOLD PORTLAND (UPI) — The grand champion steer at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition here, exhibited by Wolfe Hereford Ranch of Walla-walla, Ore., sold for $3 a pound Wednesday.

The Imperial Hotel, which now has purchased the P.I.'s grand champion for three years in a row, paid $2,334 for the animal.

Re-establishment of city's bus line urged by Stover

By Gerald Drapeau
Bulletin Staff Writer

The matter of public bus transportation was again brought before Bend city commissioners last night at the termination of their regular meeting.

A meeting visitor, B. A. "Dutch" Stover, asked the board to consider re-establishing the bus service which folded earlier this year from financial difficulties. He said the service was urgently needed by school children, elder residents and those who could not afford costly taxi fare.

Since the service terminated, commissioners have favored getting it going again. The

Bend man, 87, takes own life

The body of a suicide victim, John M. Griswold, 87, was found by Bend police Wednesday on Century Drive shortly after he shot himself in the head with a 30-30 rifle.

According to police, the victim had driven his car a short distance beyond the city limits and parked it at the side of the road. A note left in the car explained he had been quite ill for a long period.

The body was discovered by a passing motorist, Vance Barber, 1150 Union, who notified officers.

Mr. Griswold had resided with his wife Ildie at 425 Columbia.

Plans underway for conference of honor groups

Plans for the second annual National Honor Society conference were discussed by a committee composed of Central Oregon College students and faculty, Wednesday morning.

The conference, which is expected to be held in February, 1964, will bring together members of the various high school honor societies throughout the Central Oregon area.

The second Honor Society conference will be staged by Central Oregon College and will be hosted by the COC chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, national honorary.

Activities throughout the conference will include panels composed of students selected from high schools throughout the area. These groups will consider subjects relating to the theme of the conference. The day's schedule of events will be topped by a major address by a state or national figure.

RECEIVES AWARD—Philip F. Brogan, left, associate editor of The Bulletin, is congratulated by Arthur S. Flemming, president of the University of Oregon, at Charter Day convocation Wednesday in the Erb Memorial Student Union. Brogan, Sen. Wayne Morse and Dr. Kenneth Soren of the UC Medical School received distinguished service awards.
