

Freeman announces plans to bolster potato prices

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman Friday announced plans to bolster potato prices by offering the growers a subsidy for diverting part of their 1963 crop away from normal consumer markets.

The diversion program, designed to raise prices by restricting supplies in the regular market, has been used in every marketing season since 1953 except for 1959.

Diversion payments are made to farmers who send table-grade potatoes—excluding culls—into starch and flour factories or for use as livestock feed.

Freeman said the payments, as usual would be offered only in states or areas where the potato industry develops a plan for keeping all but top-grade spuds off consumer markets.

Lower quality potatoes must be withheld from the "fresh" market in order to qualify an area for the payments.

Payments for potatoes diverted to starch, flour and livestock feed will be made only on potatoes of U.S. No. 2 or better quality with a minimum diameter of two inches for round varieties. For long varieties, payments will be made only on potatoes with a minimum diameter of two inches or a minimum weight of four ounces.

Payments will be 50 cents per hundredweight diverted through Dec. 31, 40 cents from next Jan. 1 to Feb. 29, 1964, and 30 cents from March 1, 1964 until the program is terminated.

Payments under the program totaled $1.4 million last year and $10 million in 1961.

States in which the program has operated in recent years include Maine, California, Colorado, Oregon, Rhode Island, Utah, Washington, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, New York, Idaho, Minnesota, Montana and

New Jersey. This year's program was announced after the Agriculture Department had estimated the 1963 crop of fall-harvest potatoes at 193,992,000 hundredweight, up nearly 3 million hundredweight from 1962 and 9 per cent above average.

Areas which want to qualify for diversion payments must restrict fresh-market shipments to the following quality standards: For round varieties: U.S. No. 1, minimum two inches diameter.

For long varieties: U.S. No. 1 minimum two inches diameter or four ounces in weight, and U.S. No. 2 minimum six ounces in weight.

Ullman, Coles share program

Special to The Bulletin PRINEVILLE — Congressman Al Ullman and LaSelle Coles, Prineville, will appear before the joint meeting of Kiwanis members and the Prineville Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon meeting October 31. Coles recently returned from a visit to Russia as a member of the Bureau of Reclamation team assigned to that study mission. He will discuss reclamation activity in Russia as seen by his team and will also discuss socio-economic conditions in the USSR.

Congressman Ullman will speak briefly on national legislative matters affecting the Central Oregon area, as well as some national issues.

Following the luncheon, Ullman will meet with rockhounds of Central Oregon at 2 p.m. to discuss the proposed regulation of the Department of the Interior on the taking of petrified woods from federal lands. The proposed measure has aroused a furor among rockhounds in the mid-Oregon area.

This agitation has resulted in a flood of letters and telegrams to Washington, D.C., asking for a liberalizing of the proposed regulation which would limit rockhounds in removal of petrified wood found while rockhunting on federal lands.

LOSSES SEA LUST FALMOUTH, England (UPI)—Nine-year-old Bobby Blackford was found asleep Friday in a rowboat that had drifted out to sea. "I always wanted to be a sailor," the youngster told one of his rescuers, "but not any more."

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH PURKEY

Kenneth Purkeys in Eugene following marriage in East

Kenneth Dee Purkey, formerly of Bend, and Miss Beatrice Claire Schwarz, Philadelphia, were married recently in Germantown Gospel Hall, in the Pennsylvania city, and are now at home in Eugene. The bridegroom, recently discharged from the U.S. Army, is resuming his former work with the State Highway Department.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schwarz of Philadelphia, was employed for the past three years by Wellington Management Co. in that city. She is a graduate of Olney High School and Pierce Business College there.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Purkey, Eugene, who formerly had their home in Bend on Reed

Market Road. A Bend High School graduate, he attended Central Oregon College. For the past two years, he was stationed at Fort Belvoir, Va., with the 357th Engineer Company.

Mrs. William Mawhinney, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Cousins, Miss Doris Ott and Miss Beatrice Pfaff, were bridesmaids. Robert Cowen, Washington, D.C., served as best man. Ushers were Carl Balsam, also of Washington, and Ernest Schwarz, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Faith Theological Seminary. The newlyweds made a honeymoon trip through New York State, before coming to the West Coast.

Highlights of the Week

It was a bad week for Tito, America's Adlai Stevenson

By United Press International It was a bad week for Yugoslavia's Tito and America's Adlai Stevenson.

Both were tormented by mobs but Stevenson got the worst of it.

Tito's troubles began when he went to New York on the last leg of his official visit to the United States. Anti-Tito pickets protested his presence without let-up and he angrily called off a social function on the ground that New York police could not provide enough security.

Hours before Tito sailed on the Rotterdam Friday, an anonymous caller said a bomb had been placed aboard the ocean liner and its departure was delayed an hour.

But Tito escaped physical harm. Stevenson was not so fortunate.

City of Hospitality

He went to Dallas, which prides itself as a city of hospitality and as the cultural center of the Southwest, to deliver an address on the 18th anniversary of the United Nations.

Stevenson received a standing ovation after his speech but there were some boos. But the worst was yet to come. An anti-U. N. mob outside the auditorium shoved the U. N. ambassador and a student spat in his face.

Instead of preferring charges against his assailants, Stevenson turned the other cheek. He said those who opposed the United Nations should go to school instead of jail.

Dallas's city fathers, embarrassed by the incident, offered its regrets to Stevenson and Texas Gov. John Connally described the attack as "an affront to common courtesy and decency."

Misguided Patriotism

The Dallas Times Herald said "this misconstrued, misguided brand of patriotism is dragging the name of Dallas through the slime of national dishonor."

New York's tabloid Daily News, which often has criticized both Stevenson and the United Nations in its editorials, carried this headline above the Dallas story: "Shametown, U. S. A., Apologized to Adlai."

Another person who has been picketed, Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu, who also was in Dallas, said the attack on Stevenson may be a hint that some Texans are "fed up with persons who are soft on Communism."

Mme. Nhu also said she regarded repeated references to her as "The Dragon Lady" as a compliment. The "Dragon Lady" was created by cartoonist Milton Caniff and appeared in his "Terry and the Pirates" series as a beautiful but mysterious Oriental woman who worked more often for good than evil.

"Among Orientals, a dragon is a very good sign," she said. Around the world around the clock:

Washington — President Kennedy sought to keep some Democrats from supporting a civil rights bill which he felt was too strong to be passed in Congress.

Marrakech—King Hassan II rejected a proposed summit meeting with Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella to negotiate settlement of the border dispute between Morocco and Algeria. Instead he called for a summit with heads of state of Tunisia, Libya, Mali and the United Arab Republic also sitting in.

Frankfurt—The United States successfully carried out "operation Big Lift," a maneuver that moved 15,278 troops from Texas to West Germany in less than 72 hours. "Big Lift" was designed to show the United States' ability to make mass movements in short time.

Washington — Soviet negotiators arrived to buy $250 million of surplus U. S. wheat. Russia is suffering from a grain shortage and the deal was approved by President Kennedy. Main obstacle is the high cost of American shipping, which must be used according to the agreement worked out by Kennedy.

Bus drivers sign contract

PORTLAND (UPI) — Bus drivers have signed a two-year contract with Rose City Transit Co. calling for higher wages and fringe benefits.

The new contract calls for a 13-cent hourly pay hike effective Nov. 1, an additional 5 cents next Nov. 1 and 5 cents more on May 1, 1965. The raise eventually will boost driver wages to $2.70 an hour.

The firm recently asked for a fare hike increase. A hearing is scheduled Oct. 31 by the City Council.

Folmer Bodtger herd classified

The herd of registered Jerseys owned by Folmer N. Bodtger, Bend, Ore., has been classified for breed type by an official classifier of the American Jersey Cattle Club, Columbus, Ohio.

This herd now has 3 "Excellent", 32 "Very Good," and 9 "Good Plus" animals, giving the herd an average score of 85.5 per cent.

The ratings are based on an official score card which allows 100 points for the ideal Jersey animal.

CLOCK STOPPERS

COMBE MARTIN, England (UPI) — Residents of this Devon seaside village always wondered why the church clock was stopping all the time. They discovered the clock stopped because pigeons sat on the minute hand.

Appeal issued for clothing

The United Clothing Appeal has asked for good used clothing to be ready for pickup by the Church World Service truck early in November.

Good, clean used clothing may be left at the following churches before November 3: First Christian, Trinity Episcopal, First Methodist and First Presbyterian. Contributions of money will also be appreciated since churches are charged eight cents a pound for processing clothing, including shipping and cleaning of woollens.

Mrs. Eugene White, United Church Women Chairman for this project, reports that the following items are urgently needed by refugees and other persons who have lost everything in man-made or natural disasters: blankets, summer or winter clothing in good repair, every kind of children's clothing, layettes, socks, mufflers, caps, gloves, cotton and denim yardage. Especially needed are men's, boys' and children's shoes of all sizes. Also women's shoes, size five and up — but no open toes, high heels or backless shoes. All shoes should be tied together in pairs.

There will not be another pickup until late spring. More than 1,000 pounds of clothing was picked up in Bend by the truck in July.

Another project of the Bend United Church Women was the sewing of 20 Arabian-style all purpose cloaks for Algerian refugees to help fill the Oregon Trail Chapter of the American Red Cross appeal for 700 garments. Eighty thousand of these garments for men and boys were sent recently to Algeria.
