Austerity program may only delay fiscal trouble

By Zan Stark
UPI Staff Writer

SALEM (UPI) —Many of the budget cuts proposed by Gov. Mark Hatfield's austerity program will "push the fiscal problem into the next biennium," Finance Director Freeman Holmer said Thursday.

In discussing proposed reductions before a joint meeting of the Ways and Means Committee, Holmer cited postponement of capital construction projects, and cutbacks in facilities for community colleges and higher education.

The comments came at the end of a four-hour afternoon session devoted to discussions of cuts in the state's mental institutions and hospitals, and welfare department reductions.

Mental Health Administrator Dr. J. H. Treleaven said "mental health is going to suffer as a result of the cuts, there's no doubt of it.

Long Struggle Noted

"We have struggled in this state a long time, but have made major improvements in the past 10 years. We have aimed these cuts at quantity, not quality. I oppose going back to the kind of programs we had 15 years ago."

He said the staff-patient ratio at state hospitals had been cut "dangerously thin" as a result of the reductions.

Welfare Administrator Andrew Juras detailed the $1.6 million welfare cuts ordered by the governor, and warned reductions in institution budgets could result in more people being placed on nursing home care.

He said there now are 6,500 nursing home beds in Oregon, and that 3,640 are occupied by welfare cases.

He noted that in addition to the cuts ordered as a result of the Oct. 15 referendum, the department had to reduce general assistance aid because it was $234,000 over budget already this beinnium.

Most of today's meeting of Ways and Means was to be devoted to proposed cuts in basic school aid, and reductions ordered for the Board of Higher Education.

One-shot plan revised, offered by Sen. Corbett

SALEM (UPI) —A revised one - shot revenue plan that would add $20 million to the state's income this biennium was proposed today by Sen. Alfred Corbett, D-Portland.

Under the Corbett plan, withholding taxes would be usable by the state immediately after they were collected from employes wages, rather than when turned over to the state, as at present.

The Hatfield plan would have raised $12 million by speeding up the turnover of monies to the state.

"If we follow my proposal," Corbett said, "we will have available at least $8 million additional for blunting the harsh edge of Hatfield's budget cuts."

"I am not prepared to give final approval to this withholding program until we receive some assurance from the governor that these additional moneys will be used in some areas where we feel the cuts will be expecially severe," Corbett said.

U.S. plans to close down two B47 bases in England

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department announced today that 2,650 American military personnel and 41 bombers and tanker planes will be withdrawn from Britain by next July 1.

The withdrawal involves the closing of two of four bases in Britain currently used by B47 bombers, and the return to the United States of 19 bombers and 22 tanker planes.

The reduction amounts to approximately 10 per cent since there are now 25,000 U.S. military personnel and approximately 35,000 military dependents in Great Britain.

In London, informed sources described the move as the first in a series of reductions in U.S. bomber, jet interceptor and air transport units in Britain, Spain and France. The cuts will be made during the next nine months, it was said.

It was announced here, however, that U.S. nuclear power available for free world defense is being increased by the addition of Polaris submarines each armed with 16 missiles. The subs are being produced at the rate of one a month.

The Pentagon said the reshuffle "is part of the gradual change in the composition of U.S. strategic forces as operational Polaris and land - based missiles increase rapidly in numbers and are able to assume a growing share of strategic missions."

The Air Force said recently that more than 450 U.S. intercontinental missiles now are ready to fire.

"The U.S. nuclear force is manifestly superior to the Soviet Union's," the Pentagon statement said. "In fact, the Soviets are estimated to have today only a fraction as many ICBM missiles."

Under the new program, the nearly 100 B47 bombers in Britain will be reduced to 80.

Asked whether it was planned to withdraw the remaining 80, the Defense Department said these planes are not yet obsolete but that gradual reductions can be expected in the future.

Cause of power failure traced

A power failure yesterday affected 800 Bend residents for about 20 minutes.

It occurred at 1:58 p.m. Power was restored at 2:15. The outage was caused by six insulators on a power pole near Oregon Woodwork, Ltd. at the foot of S. Columbia Street.

A PP&L spokesman explained today that the insulators were fractured some time ago by someone shooting them out. No power outage was caused at the time, but Bend's sudden rain deluge caused them to "short out."

Oregon Woodwork, itself, was without power for four hours and 15 minutes.

Beta Sigma Phi pledging due

Beta Sigma Phi sorority will climax its fall rushing season with a semi-formal banquet and pledging ceremony Wednesday, November 13, at 6:45 p.m. in the upstairs dining room at the Copper Room. Pledges to be received into membership are Mrs. Hal Wilson, Mrs. Jack Karnes, Mrs. Leo Doyle and Mrs. Ray Poncey.

The sorority started its rushing activities with a model meeting in October at the home of Mrs. Ed Rueckheim. The chapter's social, cultural and service programs for the year were outlined for the guests.

Mrs. W. E. Roats, charm coordinator at Central Oregon Beauty College, was guest speaker. The traditional bride's tray, engraved with the sorority crest, was presented to Miss Kay Asseln, now Mrs. Bob Skidgel.

Another event was a buffet supper in the Fireside Room of First Lutheran Church, for members and rushees. The sorority's international theme was carried out in decorations and menu.

A meeting was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Gordon Ackerson, with Mrs. Orval Boyle in charge of the cultural program.

AUTOMATED STILL

MARBLEHILL, Ga. (UPI) — A whisky still so automatic it needed no operator was discovered in the north Georgia hill country Thursday.

Revenue agents said the device, capable of producing 600 gallons of moonshine per day, was equipped with an elaborate array of push buttons to control the steam boiler, and flow of mash and water.

Four Butte men arrested in dynamite case

BUTTE, Mont. (UPI) —Four Butte men have been arrested in connection with theft of four tons of dynamite which figured in a blast that killed one man here, Silver Bow County authorities said today.

Names of the three charged with burglary came up at an inquest into the death of Emil Guay, 31, of Butte, killed in a terrific explosion that rocked the mining city the night of Aug. 24.

Sheriff William Dalling and county Atty. Robert J. Holland said questioning uncovered new details of the explosion but none of those questioned have been able to give any explantion of what triggered the blast.

Driver jumps free of truck, suffers bruises

Special to The Bulletin

PRINEVILLE — A log laden truck owned and operated by Wayne Demaris, local logging contractor, was wrecked Thursday when it gained momentum which could not be checked on a downhill road. Unable to check the skidding truck on the steep, rain soaked road, Demaris jumped from the rig. He landed on his shoulder and suffered some bruises.

The log-laden rig rolled into the timber, and it is feared, was a total wreck. The accident occurred in the Big Summit area, from which Demaris was hauling logs for Tim Silvey.

This morning about 3 o'clock, a lumber laden truck owned by Wallace Smith and hauling timber from the east to the Hudspeth Pine plant in Prineville rolled over on the Ochoco highway just east of town.

The rear wheel of the truck had mired into a soft shoulder when the vehicle was making a turn toward the mill area. Another truck was used in an attempt to get the lumber-laden unit out. When the towing chain broke, the truck rolled over.

No one was injured.

"Caleta" . . . and it is not pronounced Caleeta. What a beach! Tahitian Larai Huts make this even more impressive to me than other beach areas we have seen. And the Caleta Hotel is a story in itself. What a beautiful terrace we had with a restful view overlooking the harbor and what a gorgeous sunset in the evenings! Reminded us of the suite we had at the Majestic Hotel in Carres overlooking the French Riviera and a similar view when we attended the ASTA convention there.

Xavier Diaz De Leon, in charge of public relations at the Caleta, is the best one yet. He gives a welcoming reception for new guests every evening except Sundays — (So glad we arrived on a Monday! Look what we would have missed.)

In Mexico, Western International Hotels has the Alameda, Francis, Majestic and the Ritz. In Acapulco — The Caleta and El Mirador. In Morelia — Virrey de Mendoza. In Tampico — The Camino Real.

We met John Hickman of Western International Hotels of Seattle in Mexico City. Right now, Saturday, Nov. 2, 10:30 a.m., Will and John Walmsley and I are viewing some buildings and the House of the Governors is the most beautiful. Please see the issue of the National Geographic Magazine at the Deschutes County Library if you didn't save your copy.

We took Barbachano's Yucatan Tour "Turquoise Cruise" which included Thurs. night, Oct. 31 at Hotel Maryland where we stayed in a Tahitian style hut show at the end of the swimming pool in their folder and it is more beautiful that the folder depicts.

Last night (good thing we have proof because you would never believe us) they told us Marshall Tito and Mrs. Tito stayed where we slept and that the suite of rooms were decorated especially for them when they stayed at the Hacienda Uxmal on their recent trip enroute to the United States. "Andy" our tour guide seems to be their best one and knows everyone in the Yucatan area and country and villages. John Walmsley said we had No. 40 and that since they gave him No. 41 he must have been using the aides quarters. What luxury! Magnificient!! I kept studying the entrance and the ornate furnishings including marble top tables. We had the view of the pool from the outdoor terrace which you see in the folder.

Back to work Thursday, Nov. 7, "Adios" "Si".

Guild to send Yule packages to Korean boys

Two Korean boys in the Dong Chin Orphanage in Seoul will receive gift boxes at Christmas time from the Trinity Episcopal Guild. The guild supports the two children through proceeds from the thrift shop. Letters written by the boys, with translations by their teachers, were read at the guild meeting Tuesday afternoon at the parish hall.

The orphanage is affiliated with the Christian Children's Fund. One of the boys mentioned a fondness for cowboy articles, which are to be included in his gift box. The thrift shop is especially in need of boys' clothing, baby articles, costume jewelry and dishes, it was reported by Mrs. George Blinn.

Mrs. J. L. Van Huffel was hostess for the meeting, assisted by Mrs. Louise Snodgrass. Mrs. Clare Taylor called attention to the United Thank Offering, to be taken at the morning church service November 10.

Mrs. Frank Prince reported on the World Community Day program November 1 at First Christian Church, under auspices of the United Church Women. The UCW spring study series will be on "The Christian Family and Its Money," it was reported by Mrs. Eugene White.

Thanksgiving donations of canned goods are to be taken to the next meeting, Tuesday, November 19, at the home of Mrs. Phil Brogan, 1426 Harmon Boulevard.
