Rose Bowl pals

Bump Elliott threw block in younger brother's bowl path

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—When Bump and Pete Elliott played together for Michigan in the Rose Bowl on Jan. 1, 1948, Bump never dreamed that one day he would throw a roadblock to his younger brother's path to the post-season classic.

But that's exactly what happened last Saturday when Bump piloted Michigan to a stunning 14-8 triumph over the Illinois club coached by Pete to earn the United Press International "coach of the week" honors.

Illinois went into the game ranked as the nation's No. 2 team with an excellent chance of going to the Rose Bowl.

But Michigan, a young team that is suddenly jelling, had different ideas.

Now that the Illinois game is past, Bump, who is still real close to his brother and doesn't exactly relish the idea of battling him every year, is rooting for the Illini again.

"Sure, I'd like to see them win the rest of their games," he said.

But he neatly sidesteps the point that he could still help Pete to go to Pasadena by knocking off Ohio State in two weeks. "Right now, we're concerned about Iowa this week, that's the only game on our mind," he said.

Team Bounced Back

Michigan had a sorry 1-3-1 record after five games and seemed in jeopardy of sinking below last year's 2-7 mark and finishing in the Big Ten basement for the second straight season.

But the Wolverines upset Northwestern, 27-6 two weeks ago and then utilized a tough defense and capitalized on a fumbled pitchout recovery in the last seven minutes to nip Illinois and even their mark at 3-3-1 for the season and 2-2-1 in the Big Ten.

Now the odds are against the Illini. They would have to win their final two games against Wisconsin and frontrunner Michigan State while Ohio State would have to lose to either Northwestern or Michigan for Pete to go to the Rose Bowl.

Bump, 38, now has whipped brother Pete, 37, in the only four games that they've coached against each other — but Bump refuses to believe that he has a jinx or a hex over Pete.

Four Separate Occasions

"I don't believe in those things and I'm sure that Pete doesn't either. It's been four separate occasions and it's just happened that way.

"I'm certain that the kids on the field don't feel there's a jinx," he added. "The ball takes

Troy to defend OSU pass attack

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—University of Southern California's Trojans stressed pass defense once again today as they prepared to meet Oregon State's football team Friday night in the Coliseum.

Coach John McKay moved All-America end Hal Bedsole up to second string after Tuesday's workout. Bedsole had been dropped to third string after the Trojans were upset by the Washington Huskies.

McKay said Bedsole would play behind Fred Hill and Dave Moton who are alternating at split end on the first team.

Despite injuries, muffed chances Bills making strong bid for title

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Despite a chain of demoralizing injuries and muffed opportunities, the Buffalo Bills are making their first genuine run in four years at the American Football League title.

Lou Saban, the 42-year-old coach of the Bills, said the Eastern Division chase "will go right down to the wire" following Buffalo's 27-17 victory over Denver Saturday night.

This was Buffalo's third consecutive triumph and fifth in six games and it lifted the Bills (5-4-1) into second place, only half a game behind Houston (6-4). This is Buffalo's highest level in four years.

"The boys have never quit," Saban said. "We have some sound men, especially Capt. Billy Shaw, who doesn't panic when things get rough."

Started Off Badly

The Bills, labbed as the team to crack the three-year reign of the Oilers, looked like they were going to live up to the billing by winning three of four exhibition games. But the Bills, using the same script that saw them lose their first five games in 1962, failed to win in their first four 1963 regular season clashes.

Many felt Buffalo's disappointing start rested with Jackie Kemp. But Saban disputes those who claim the chunky redhead is having an up-and-down year.

"Jack has had a great season. It was unfortunate but he just didn't have anyone to go with him early in the season," Kemp has completed 143 of 287 passes for 13 touchdowns and a league-leading 2,307 yards.

Lost Seven Players

Saban's woes began in exhibition games and continued until he had lost seven top men for the season, including half of the 1962 backfield that led the league in rushing.

The Bills, getting a clutch performance from a different player every game, started the long road back with their first victory Oct. 5, a 12-0 shutout of the Oakland Raiders.

Kemp, end Bill Miller, who has caught a club record 52 passes this season, and a pair of rookies from Notre Dame, quarterback Daryle Lamonia and halfback Ed Rutkowski, have been the offensive stars.

As Saban put it, "there always has been someone to do the job."

"But that tie sure looks big," he sighed. The draw was a 27-27 standoff with defending champion Kansas City Sept. 22.

That deadlock could play a key role in Buffalo's drive to overtake Houston.

Indiana tilt: Renfro well, Hoosier best

PORTLAND (UPI)—Mel Renfro will be almost fully healthy and Tom Nowatzke is the "best fullback in the Big 10."

Those comments were made Tuesday at the meeting of the Oregon Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association by advance men for Saturday's Oregon-Indiana football game here.

Art Litchman, athletic public relations chief at Oregon, said Renfro would be "just about 100 per cent" for the game. Renfro suffered a cracked rib in the Washington game here Oct. 26.

Tom Miller, publicity chief for Indiana, said Nowatzke, who blitzed Oregon State last week, was the best fullback in the Big 10 "and possibly the country."

The crowd in Saturday's game here is being watched as a possible indication of the future of college football in Portland. There has been pressure to return all Oregon and Oregon State games to their campuses and a small crowd Saturday could help this movement along.

Oregon, incidentally, has played Big 10 teams seven times and has lost all seven.

Idaho Vandals face Idaho St.

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI)—Idaho takes on Idaho State Saturday and coach Dee Andros is working on building up the Vandals' running attack this week.

Passing and defense have been the main reasons that the Vandals have won four games this season.

NBA transplant five ruins 'homecoming' of another...

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The San Francisco Warriors had a "homecoming" here Tuesday night but it was spoiled by the Philadelphia 76ers, another transplanted National Basketball Association team.

The Warriors, returning to the city they left two years ago in a franchise shift, were edged 106-102 in an overtime game by the 76ers, formerly the Syracuse Nats. It was the only game scheduled in the NBA Tuesday night.

The game had another nostalgic touch since Alex Hannum, San Francisco coach, is the former mentor of the Syracuse Nats.

Hannum said the situation led to an inspired and "well-played" ball game but to the Warriors' Guy Rodgers, who was a collegiate star at Temple University here, it was just another road game. This despite the fact that his family was in the stands.

The Warriors got a nice hand from the crowd of 5,817 when they came on the floor for the pre-game warmup but the loyalty of the fans was with the current local NBA entry, the 76ers.

The victory was a satisfying one for Dolph Schayes, new 76ers coach who starred for many years with the Nats under Hannum.

But for a time, it appeared the work of Wilt Chamberlain, the former favorite here, would deprive the 76ers of the triumph.

San Francisco rallied to send the tight game into overtime when Chamberlain, who has won new fame as a playmaker, tipped in Rodgers' missed jump shot to deadlock the game 96-96 as time ran out.

The Warriors then scored the first four points of the extra period on a basket by Rodgers
