DETAILS CLARIFIED

A motorist involved in an auto accident which was reported in Saturday's issue has requested a clarification of the manner in which the accident occurred. Gilbert Stonecker, 415 Scott, points out that his vehicle was headed north on E. Third when it collided at the Greenwood intersection with an auto coming from the opposite direction. The second auto was in process of making a left turn in front of Stonecker when the cars collided.

Lumber salvage deaths reported

DEPOE BAY (UPI)—Three persons have died of apparent heart attacks in recent days after hauling salvage lumber from the beach, Dr. Robert Kaye, Lincoln County assistant medical investigator, said today.

He warned that persons with known history of heart disease should be especially careful with heavy exercises such as lifting lumber. Thousands of board feet of lumber which were cast adrift when a barge sank off California recently have washed ashore on the Oregon coast.

Clues sought in burglaries

By United Press International
Police in Portland and Salem today sought clues to Elks Club burglaries that netted some $12,000 in funds raised for charity. An estimated $6,000 was taken in each instance. The burglaries were discovered Monday.

Police in Portland said the burglary was "extremely professional." An estimated $3,000 to $4,000 in checks was left on the floor.

The lodge held a charity ball Saturday night.

In Salem, the money was raised for Christmas gifts for the needy and for children.

The shock and confusion when a loved one dies may obscure the many details to be arranged. Most thoughtfully, we anticipate every need, faithfully we observe every wish.

"CTC" How it benefits you as a shipper or traveler

Electronics performs vital tasks along Union Pacific—take "CTC" (Centralized Traffic Control), for example.

By means of push buttons on master control boards, dispatchers direct and control traffic over a radius of hundreds of miles. CTC makes for more efficient use of tracks—more trains continuously on the move—economies, and time saved for shippers.

Here is another example of electronics at work to keep freight shipments and travelers moving—surely and dependably, on Union Pacific... the automated rail way.
