OES Past Matrons will meet Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the Superior Cafe clubroom.

Bend chapter No. 109, Order of Eastern Star, will hold initiation at the meeting Monday at 8 p.m., at the Masonic Temple. Mrs. George Noxon will be chairman of the refreshment committee.

Golden Age Club will hold a public card party Saturday night at the clubhouse, E. Fifth Street and Glenwood Drive. Prizes will be given. Dancing will follow, and refreshments will be served. Doors will open at 8:30.

A Camp Fire group of Trail-seekers, meeting this week, planned a hike up Pilot Butte and a trip through the Bend Dairy. Members present were Peggy Wanser, Laura Kee, Donna Beach, Julie Jensen, Lynette Cornett, Pam Osasacs, Cheryl Clark, Kay Coleman, Sheba Triplett and Sarah Linferfell.

Mrs. Paula Grutze, former owner of Donner Flower Shop and a long-time Bend resident, has moved to Pendleton, to make her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Livingston and family. Mrs. Grutze recently sold the business to Mrs. Robert M. Lincoln, who had assisted there the past several years.

Skyline Squares will sponsor a dance Saturday night, November 23, at Central Oregon Beauty College ballroom, with Russ Kiel calling. Dancing will start at 8:30 p.m. Women have been asked to bring pie. All interested in square dancing will be welcome, it was announced.

Activities tonight include a meeting of Cub Scout Pack No. 90, with a demonstration of home-made "noise" instruments, at 7:30 at the Kenwood gymnasium, and regular game night at Moose Hall, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. James Getchell of Creswell, former Bend residents, are parents of a boy born Wednesday, November 20, at Sacred Heart hospital, Eugene. The baby, third son for the couple, weighed 6 pounds, 7 ounces, and has been named Eric Scott. His brothers are Ronnie, age 3, and Bruce, 2. Mrs. Getchell, the former Dorothy Barlow, is the daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barlow, 1041 Portland Avenue. Mrs. Barlow has been in Creswell for several weeks and will remain there for awhile to assist in the care of the infant.

Miss Mary Cowden recently opened a new dance school in Vancouver, Wash. She spends Mondays and Tuesdays there, and the rest of the time the business is operated by an assistant. Miss Cowden is continuing her schools in Bend and Madras.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haskins, Sisters, are parents of a 7-pound, 7-ounce girl, named Cheryl Lee, who was born Thursday at St. Charles Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Earl K. Reynolds, Deschutes county Camp Fire executive, returned recently from San Francisco, where she attended the triennial conference of Camp Fire Girls, Inc.

Decor sessions due at Redmond

Two Christmas decor workshops, for Camp Fire and Blue Bird leaders of the Redmond area, will be held Tuesday, November 26. Sessions will be from 1 to 3 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. Both will be in the basement at the home of Mrs. Keith Clark, 724 S. 12th Street Redmond.

Those attending may choose the most convenient time, according to Mrs. Earl K. Reynolds, Deschutes county Camp Fire executive, who will be the instructor.

Suggested materials to take include scissors, Elmer's glue, ruler, small paint brush, small container for water, assorted pine cones and a cardboard tissue core. Those who wish to make a beeswax candle may obtain materials for about 40 cents.

Dead President's career was devoted to public service

John Fitzgerald Kennedy, the 35th President of the United States, was not only the youngest man ever elected to the office, he was the first Roman Catholic ever to serve as this country's President.

As a candidate for the 1960 presidential nomination, Kennedy was criticized on grounds he was too young and inexperienced. But his biggest problem was the religious issue which stirred some Democrats to recall the 1928 defeat of Catholic Alfred E. Smith.

Kennedy met the issue head-on, declaring his support for the constitutional provision requiring separation of church and state. After taking an oath to support the Constitution, he said, a president who took orders from the Pope would be guilty of a crime and subject to impeachment.

Even when his Catholic faith seemed a political handicap, the buildup Kennedy had been getting through national publicity for three years made him the man to beat far in advance of the 1960 convention.

His toughest convention opposition came from the forces of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. The Kennedy organization was too much for old pro Johnson, however, and the Texan accepted second place on the Kennedy ticket.

The resultant campaign by Kennedy and Johnson against Nixon and his running mate, JFK's 1952 victim, Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., brought a new dimension to American politics — the television debate. Seasoned political observers believed long after the election that if Nixon, then better known to the public than his opponent but not nearly the smooth television personality, would have defeated Kennedy if he had avoided the debate. In fact, Kennedy and his campaign manager, brother Robert, shared this belief, but stated it differently: that television was one of the chief ingredients in the Democratic victory.

The narrowness of this victory, however, tempered Kennedy's widely-voiced liberalism and moderated the tone of his New Frontier legislative program. His lack of a truly tested mandate from the American people colored his relations with Congress in the early White House years.

There were times when his policies seemed as middle-of-the-road as those of his predecessor, Dwight D. Eisenhower. This was highly annoying to the advanced liberals of the party.

There were major administrative accomplishments legislatively, but not one was gained without extensive effort and close margins. Relations with Congress were not helped when the Democrats scarcely held their own in the 1962 mid-term elections. Kennedy, however, derived comfort from the fact that the Democrats did not lose as many seats as usual for the party in power during an off-year election, but the net results showed the country still

Bend measures its initial 'official' snow of season

Bend this morning measured its first "official" snow of the season, but the fall was not heavy, only 0.2 of an inch at 7 o'clock.

The storm that whitened Bend in the predawn hours and continued into the morning was of the showery type, but it did add inches to the mountain pack, assuring good skiing over the weekend. All facilities will be in operation at Bachelor Butte, and at the Hoodoo Bowl, only lightly covered by snow, the rope tow will be in use Friday and Saturday.

Clifford L. Blann, operator of the Mt. Bachelor ski area, reported that four inches of new snow fell there in the past 12 hours, bringing the depth at the parking area to 49 inches. Temperature at reporting time was 31 degrees. The skiing surface was described as powder, ever so slightly balling.

The road into Dutchman Flat was snow covered this morning from the Bend city limits west. Plows were operating. Heavy use of the Bachelor Butte area is expected on Friday and Saturday.

Roads over Cascade passes this morning were in good winter shape, with rain falling at Government Camp following two inches of snow last night. Snow was falling on the Santiam divide, but the new pack was light, only two and a half inches. Flurries were reported from the Willamette divide.

Snow was falling on the Ochoco divide at reporting time, with 17 inches at roadside. Partly cloudy weather is predicted for Central Oregon tonight and Saturday, but the five day forecast indicates that more than normal precipitation will occur the first part of next week in all parts of the state.

Theme for '64 Pageant is announced

"Folk Songs and Ballads of the United States" is the general theme for the 1964 Bend Water Pageant, selected Thursday evening by members of the Pageant Committee.

The folk song theme was selected along with both 1964 co-chairmen and three new committee members.

Hal Peck, of Pacific Power & Light, and Ron Young, of First National Bank, will supervise Pageant activities. Newly-chosen committee members are Don Parish, Gary Hermann and Richard Sargent. According to Chamber of Commerce Manager Marion Cady, the Pageant Committee is now 18 members strong.

Cady also announced the committee has acquired a "float base" trailer for Pageant promotion purposes in other communities.

Lyman C. Johnson was last year's committee chairman.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH H. BELLEISLE

Newlyweds in Salem after recent wedding in Culver

Special to The Bulletin
CULVER — Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harold Belleisle (Sharon Atlee Schonneker) are at home in Salem, at 545 Madison Street. They were married recently at the First Christian Church in Culver.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Schonneker of Culver. A 1960 graduate of Culver High School, she attended the Merrill Davis School of Commerce and has been employed the past three years at Allstate Insurance Co. in Salem.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Belleisle of Salem. After completing high school in Salem, he attended Olympia Junior College in Bremerton, Wash. He is employed in Salem by the Bonneville Power Administration.

The Rev. William C. Kanne of Culver and the Rev. Ase Rice of Metolius performed the double-ring ceremony. William Simmons was soloist and Mrs. Simmons played the wedding music. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

Mrs. Kenneth Triplett was a matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Carol Ramsden, Salem, and Miss Niki Ohlde, Culver. Lisa Schonneker, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

Kenneth Triplett, Coos Bay, was best man. Jim Clark and LeRoy Bachelier, both of Salem, were candle lighters, and with Jim Woodry, also of Salem, seated the guests.

At the reception in the church

Fireside Room, Mrs. C. A. Harmon and Mrs. Art Mahoney, grandmother and aunt, respectively, of the bride, served the wedding cake. Punch and coffee were poured by Mrs. Al Mansfield and Mrs. Helen Herring, who had been grade school teachers of the bride.

Mrs. Harold V. Schonneker, sister-in-law of the bride, kept the guest book. Mrs. Ken Rupp, Salem, and Mrs. Robert Frazier, Culver, were in charge of the gift table. The reception was arranged by members of the Women's Fellowship of the church, with Mrs. Herman Monroe, Mrs. Paul Krueger, Mrs. Cloyce Benson and Mrs. Charles Roberts in charge.

Now... for people who'd buy a Le Mans hardtop if there were one—there is one.

"If only the Le Mans had a 6," someone said. Ahem! The standard engine is now an in-line 6 of 140 horsepower, with a pair of extra-cost V-8s for added muscle if you want it. "If only the Le Mans were just a little bigger." And so it is. Bigger—on a new 115" wheelbase—and roomier. (And speaking of new, that's what the body and brakes and frame and suspension and steering and wheels and most other things are. Good and new.)

"If only the Le Mans came in a hardtop," someone else said. There's a planned coincidence for you. It just came. And now that we've wiped out your last possible excuse for not buying a Pontiac Le Mans, how about it?
