Governor Connolly gives vivid account of final minutes before assassination

By Edwin F. Fite
UPI Staff Writer
DALLAS (UPI)—Gov. John Connolly, emotionally asking why he was spared and the President slain, said from his hospital bed that John Kennedy might do in death what he could not do in life:
"That is to so shock and stun the nation, the people and the world of what is happening to us, of the cancerous growth that is being permitted to expand and enlarge itself upon the community and the society in which we live, that breeds hatred, bigotry and intolerance..."

The wounded Texas chief executive reflected upon the "whys" of last Friday's assassination of President Kennedy in a closed circuit television press conference Wednesday that was his first public utterance since being shot by the President's assassin.

here and get us to a hospital!" Connolly said they didn't tell him the President was dead until the next day, Saturday, "after I was conscious enough to really understand. It was no news to me because I was almost sure he would be after the two shots I felt he had taken... because I personally felt that I had been killed, too, when I received my shot."
Connolly was shot through the back by the sniper from a window of a building 100 yards away. The bullet fragmented. It broke three ribs, cut a lung, shattered his right wrist and made a slight wound above the left knee. Four hours of surgery saved him.

Some Speculation
The governor said he knew that there was some speculation that he, and not the President, was the real target of the gunman.
"Of course, I had been campaigning all over Texas all last year on horseback, in cars, on street corners, where I could have been easy prey for anyone with no security whatsoever, so I don't put any stead (sic) in this."

"I think the man did what he intended to do—shoot both of us."
Connolly said that the assassination, which, he said, "could have occurred in any other city in America," was "an open manifestation of extremism on both sides that is the genesis of our own self-destruction if we are ever going to be destroyed."

"I am not the least fearful," the governor continued, "of any foreign enemy as long as we have within ourselves not hate but human understanding, not passion and prejudice but reason and tolerance, and not ignorance but knowledge and the willingness to use that knowledge."
"That is the only answer I can give as to why he is gone and I am not."

Gallant salute by 'John John' urged as stamp

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—A drive for a postage stamp of 3-year-old John F. Kennedy Jr.'s gallant salute to his father's casket started here today.
The Sacramento Union endorsed the idea in an editorial, and a local furniture store owner started gathering signatures on petitions addressed to the postmaster general.
The Union said a stamp of the small boy's salute to his dead father and President "will remind us again and again of the rededication to preservation of our nation's ideals which each of us resolved in silent pledge as we sorrowed for our martyred President."
The newspaper said the stamp would serve "as a lasting tribute to the courage of all the Kennedys."

Connolly also gave a vivid account of those fateful seconds when, as he tersely put it, "we went from great joy, great anticipation, to great tragedy."
Speaking of the "magnificent" motorcade tour through Dallas, the governor said:
President Slumped
"We had just turned the corner (into Elm Street)... we heard a shot... I turned to my left, and the President had slumped."
"He said nothing."
"As I turned I was hit and I knew I was hit badly. I knew the President had been hit and I said, 'My God, they are going to kill us all.'"
"Then there was a third shot and the President was hit again."
"When he was hit, she (Mrs. Kennedy) said, 'Oh, my God, they have killed my husband—Jack, Jack.'"
"After the third shot the Secret Service said, 'Get out of
